WE USED to wonder at Chinese tongs, their murderous feuds, their unwillingness to enter courts, their Chinese home-made "justice," in this land.

Now the Chinese wonder at us, as our bootleggers—Chicago holding the championship—show how a tong should be run, for efficiency.

IN THE latest alcoholic tong exploit there figured two machine guns, public streets swept with bullets, two killed, three wounded. More killings will come within a week, the police say, for the O'Banion gang, having lost two men, will demand double blood pay.

COLUMBUS day is over, and you could probably count on your fingers those in your circle that thought as much as two minutes about Columbus.

His achievement can be summed up in few words.

"He did not believe those that said it could not be done."

HE RAN the usual course, rendered service to the world, was put in jail for his pains, and as much as possible of the cerdit was taken by Isabella and others that deserved no credit. This continent was not even named for its discoverer.

YES, others came here before Columbus, but that means nothing. A steam engine was exhibited more than two thousand years ago at Alexandria. That does not hurt the inventor that makes the practical success.

Columbus was followed by practical success.

IN THE best known Japanese suicide, the gentleman opening the wall of his abdomen with a sharp knife, disembowels himself, showing no sign of pain. That takes courage.

GHSHI KITAZAWA of Tokio, disappointed in love, tried a new way, and ate himself to death. With his hard-hearted, adorned one across the table from him, he deliberately stuffed himself with rice, curry eggs, pouring down whisky and a worse drink, sake. Soon he was unconscious and in a few hours, dead.

How to Remove 88 Kinds of Stains

Perhaps you do not realize how many different kinds of stains can disfigure people's clothes.

It is almost impossible for anyone to escape having food stains on clothing at some time or other.

What would you do if you upset the ink bottle on an expensive table cover, spilled medicine on your best suit, ruined a gown with paint stains, or scorched the newest linen tablecloth?

All of these things happen every day. But there is a remedy for every blemish you may get on your clothing and household linens.

These are all listed in a 30-page booklet, with illustrations, which this bureau has for distribution. Fill out the attached coupon and enclose four cents in stamps for return postage and handling. Write your name and address clearly.

ELIZABETH, N. J., Oct. 14.—Seven bandits armed with automatics and a machine gun today shot and killed a United States mail turck driver, wounded his helper, ran down and injured a motorcycle policeman acting as an escort, and then escaped with a number of mail bags.

An official of the Elizabethport Banking company admitted that one of the pouches stolen contained approximately $160,000 in cash being transferred by registered mail from the Federal Reserve bank in New York to the local bank.

The bandits overtook the truck in two large closed cars. As one of the automobiles ran down Jacob Christman, the motorcycle policeman, throwing him to the roadway, the other was driven opposite the truck, and the bandits opened fire on the two men on the seat.

Rip Open Door of Mail Car.

The driver, John Enz, was killed, and Patrick Quinn, who accompanied him, was shot twice in the arm.

The bandits in the other car, after turning their machine gun on Christman, wounding him three times, ripped open the door of the mail car, seized the pouches and drove rapidly away. The second car disappeared in another direction.

Police said that as far as they knew today's hold-up was the first in the eastern part of the country in which a machine gun had been used.

The gun, a Thompson .45 calibre, was found in the street when police arrived. Several bullets were still unfired.

Men Whose Names Have Come Before Public in Scandal Revolved Around Figure of D. C. Stephenson, Now in Penitentiary, Will be Called to Testify.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 14.—The senate special investigating committee will meet in Chicago next Monday morning at 10 o'clock to turn it's spotlight on the Indiana political activities of the Ku Klux Klan and charges of graft and corruption recently made there, Senator James A. Reed, chairman of the committee, said today.

The senator made this announcement just before departing for Joplin to fill a speaking engagement there today.

Yielding to the demands made from many sources in Indiana, the Missouri senator who had charge of the investigations which recently unearthed huge expenditures in the election campaigns in Pennsylvania and Illinois, decided this morning to have the committee look into the Indiana scandal.

Definite plans of the committee's proposed investigation would be worked out between now and the date for the Chicago meeting, Senator Reed said. Referring to the numerous reports that have emanated from Indiana and other points, the senator added that "too much speculation had been made about his plans."

Cancels Engagements.

The senator granted an interview during his breakfast at his hotel here just before departing from St. Louis.

Subpoenas probably will be issued today in Chicago for those whose names have come before the public in the Indiana scandal in which charges of graft and corruption have revolved around the figure of D. C. Stephenson, former grand dragon of the Indiana Klan, now serving a penitentiary sentence at Michigan City.

"I am not ready to discuss fully the plans of our committee," Senator Reed said. "I have called the committee to meet in Chicago next Monday and that is all I care to say. Our definite plans will be made in the meantime. Too much speculation already has been made about the plans of the committee."

Following his speaking engagement at Joplin today, Senator Reed will begin to direct the plans for his investigation committee. Speaking dates which had been arranged for the next two weeks in Missouri have been cancelled, although the senator said he hoped to return to the state later to do some campaigning for Congressman Harry B. Hawes, Democratic candidate for United States senator.

Washington Surprised.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—Announcement by Senator James A. Reed in St. Louis today that the special senate committee of which he is chairman will meet in Chicago next Monday to consider the stories of corruption in Indiana's political structure caused considerable surprise in the capital today.

Members of the committee are Senators Reed (D.)) of Missouri, King (D.) of Utah, LaFollette (R.) of Wisconsin, McNary (R.) of Oregon, and Goff (R) of West Virginia.

SIX CHARGED WITH GAMBLING

Warrants Issued After Offenders Give Fake Names.

Warrants for the arrest of six of the eight men who are alleged to have given fictitious names in connection with a gambling raid upon the home of Charles Burns, 1148 Harker avenue, early Sunday morning, were issued by police today upon instructions from Mayor Benedum and Service-Safety Director Moore.

The men, who are charged with gambling and loitering in a gambling house, are Charles E. Wynn, Donald E. Robinette, Harry J. Podwell, Edward Wagoner, Joseph Burcham and Elroy Winget. Police are continuing their investigation in an effort to identify the other two members of the party.

The six, Director Moore said, will be ordered to appear before Municipal Judge Hanley at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning. Bonds of $15.80, which each of the eight caught in the raid posted for their appearance in police court, were declared forfeited by Judge Hanley.

The arrests are an aftermath of the order recently posted at the city hall by Director Moore in which officers were instructed to obtain the correct names of all offenders if possible. Captain of Police Conley and Patrolmen Roth and Smith, who made the raid, did not recognize any of the players and were compelled to accept the names given them.

DISASTROUS BUSH FIRES SWEEP COAST OF NEW SOUTH WALES

Brisbane Encircled by Flames Which Drive Settlers From Homes and Destroy Timber.

LONDON, Oct. 14.—Disastrous bush fires are sweeping the New South Wales coast, driving settlers from their homes and destroying valuable timber and burning herds alive, according to a Sydney dispatch to the Evening News.

A message from Brisbane says that city is encircled by flaming bush, and that every hill within fifteen miles is ablaze. It is indicated that it is not anticipated that the fire will reach the city limits of Brisbane.

Tao dispatches state that the fires are most devastating in the country north of Sydney. The country between Lismore and Port Macquario for a distance of 100 miles is ablaze, with a nine-mile frontage of flames between Myrtle Creek and Ellangewan.

Strong winds are fanning the flames, and dry grass and timber and furnishing tinder-like fuel.

The spread of the fire has been so rapid that settlers have been forced to flee without taking much of their property with them. Many of them saw their homes in flames as they fled.

Entire settlements are believed to

STATE REPRESENTATIVE INSPECTS DAIRY BARNS AND MILK PLANTS

D. B. Wagner, Kenmore, Gives all East Liverpool Distributing Stations "Once-over."

D. B. Wagner, Kenmore, representative of the State Department of Agriculture, today completed an inspection of dairy barns and milk distributing plants in the East Liverpool district.

The barn inspection began last May but because of lack of funds, the inspector was withdrawn before the work was completed. Wagner came here Monday to complete the work. Sanitary Inspector D. J. McKeever accompanied the inspector on his rounds.

Farms of about 200 producers in Columbiana county, Ohio, Hancock county, W. Va., and Beaver county, Pa., were visited. Several violations of regulations were found and in each case the offender was notified to "clean up" or the sale of milk would be prohibited. Distributing plants, which were also inspected, numbered about 10.

Health board officials announced today that dairy barn inspections would be made at least twice a year in the future. The inspection, which has just been completed, is the first thorough survey which has been made in five years, it is said.

Warrants for the arrest of six of the eight men who are alleged to have given fictitious names in connection with a gambling raid upon the home of Charles Burns, 1148 Harker avenue, early Sunday morning, were issued by police today upon instructions from Mayor Benedum and Service-Safety Director Moore.

The men, who are charged with gambling and loitering in a gambling house, are Charles E. Wynn, Donald E. Robinette, Harry J. Podwell, Edward Wagoner, Joseph Burcham and Elroy Winget. Police are continuing their investigation in an effort to identify the other two members of the party.

The six, Director Moore said, will be ordered to appear before Municipal Judge Hanley at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning. Bonds of $15.80, which each of the eight caught in the raid posted for their appearance in police court, were declared forfeited by Judge Hanley.

The arrests are an aftermath of the order recently posted at the city hall by Director Moore in which officers were instructed to obtain the correct names of all offenders if possible. Captain of Police Conley and Patrolmen Roth and Smith, who made the raid, did not recognize any of the players and were compelled to accept the names given them.

DISASTROUS BUSH FIRES SWEEP COAST OF NEW SOUTH WALES

Brisbane Encircled by Flames Which Drive Settlers From Homes and Destroy Timber.

LONDON, Oct. 14.—Disastrous bush fires are sweeping the New South Wales coast, driving settlers from their homes and destroying valuable timber and burning herds alive, according to a Sydney dispatch to the Evening News.

A message from Brisbane says that city is encircled by flaming bush, and that every hill within fifteen miles is ablaze. It is indicated that it is not anticipated that the fire will reach the city limits of Brisbane.

Tao dispatches state that the fires are most devastating in the country north of Sydney. The country between Lismore and Port Macquario for a distance of 100 miles is ablaze, with a nine-mile frontage of flames between Myrtle Creek and Ellangewan.

Strong winds are fanning the flames, and dry grass and timber and furnishing tinder-like fuel.

The spread of the fire has been so rapid that settlers have been forced to flee without taking much of their property with them. Many of them saw their homes in flames as they fled.

Entire settlements are believed to

STATE REPRESENTATIVE INSPECTS DAIRY BARNS AND MILK PLANTS

D. B. Wagner, Kenmore, Gives all East Liverpool Distributing Stations "Once-over."

D. B. Wagner, Kenmore, representative of the State Department of Agriculture, today completed an inspection of dairy barns and milk distributing plants in the East Liverpool district.

The barn inspection began last May but because of lack of funds, the inspector was withdrawn before the work was completed. Wagner came here Monday to complete the work.

Sanitary Inspector D. J. McKeever accompanied the inspector on his rounds.

Farms of about 200 producers in Columbiana county, Ohio, Hancock county, W. Va., and Beaver county, Pa., were visited. Several violations of regulations were found and in each case the offender was notified to "clean up" or the sale of milk would be prohibited. Distributing plants, which were also inspected, numbered about 10.

Health board officials announced today that dairy barn inspections would be made at least twice a year in the future. The inspection, which has just been completed, is the first thorough survey which has been made in five years, it is said.

Haskin, Director, Washington, D. C.

Q. What would happen if an irresistible force came in contact with an immovable body? P. R. K.

A. The Bureau of Standards says that the existence of these two conditions at the same time is impossible according to all known laws. As the very existence of the two conditions at the same tme can not take place, it is necessarily impossible to state what would happen if the condition did exist.

Q. Why are hot tamales so-called? O. L. S.

A. The word tamale comes from the word tamal, a word of Mexican origin, meaning a dish made of crushed maize, mixed with mince meat, seasoned with red pepper, dipped in oil, and steamed. It is because of the seasoning that it is called hot tamale.

Q. What does the Latin motto "Omnia Vincit Amor" mean? H. W.

A. This Latin proverb means "Love conquers all things."

Q. Why are ingrowing nails usually on the great toe? G. T. K.

A. Because this toe is subject to constant pressure of the adjacent soft parts, often aggravated by a tight shoe.

Q. How many names did a Roman citizen have? F. N.

A. In early Roman history, men had one name. Later they had three, Praenomen, nomen, and cognomen. Conquerors were sometimes complimented with a fourth name or agnomen.

Q. Was the flour obtained by the Indians as fine as that made by modern machine-made flour.

A. Although usually such was not the case, by passing grain from one mortar to another, some Indians obtained flour comparable with the modern machine-made flour.

Q. How did Scott happen to write Lochinvar? M. N.

A. It was a part of the metrical romance, Marmion. For this romance in verse, Scott was offered 1000 pounds before it was begun.

Q. What are illuminated manuscripts? B. E. R.

A. They are those whose texts are brightened and heightened by vignettes and otherwise decorated in colors, or in gold and silver. Fifteen centuries before Christ the papyrus rolls of the "Book of the Dead" were illuminated with brilliantly colored scenes. Later, as writing became alphabetic, the important letters were illuminated.

Q. What vitamines are found in cod liver oil? J. A.

Carbon tetrachloride is perhaps the safest and most efficient solvent for use in home dry-cleaning.

Q. How long has Efrem Zimbalist been playing in public? E. M. F.

A. Zimbalist, who is now 37, was first violinist in an orchestra and a soloist at the age of eight. When he was seventeen he made his first concert tour of Europe.

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 14, 1926.

Register Tomorrow

Are you registered?

East Liverpool electors are required to enroll quadrennially, or immediately preceding the presidential balloting. For those who neglect to do so, special registration days are designated preceding subsequent elections.

The Columbiana county board of deputy state supervisors fixed four days of enrollment for the state, district and county election on Nov. 2. Registrars' books at the end of the second day showed few additions. Two more opportunities to enroll will be given on Friday and Saturday.

From 9 A. M. to 3 P. M. and 5 to 10 P. M. each day, registrars will be on duty in the city's 21 precincts to issue transfers to persons who have changed their place of residence, as well as to register new electors or negligent ones.

Don't defer the formality. Register tomorrow if you are not already qualified.

The Peace Bridge

The last steel girders are swinging into place on the great "peace bridge" connecting Canada and the United States at Buffalo. This span across the Niagara river, a mile long and 50 feet wide, connecting two old forts for which there has been no use since 1812, well deserves its name. There could be no fitter way to commorate a long era of peace and good will between two neighboring countries than the erection of such a bridge—an invitation for the neighbors to visit each other instead of the usual military works on national borders which mean "Keep Out."

Nothing is surer than that the neighbors in this case will accept the invitation in record-breaking numbers. The bridge is designed to take care of 6,000 automobiles an hour. There is room for that many to cross, and there are facilities at the bridge-ends for the customs and immigration officers to take care of them.

The bridge will be used mainly by Americans. That is inevitable, from the far greater population on this side of the border and from the natural tendency of our people to regard Canada as a summer playground. Thus the 5,000,000 tourists who are said to have entered Canada this year will doubtless be greatly exceeded next year. And there is a steadily growing interchange of travelers from each country, bent on business.

In many ways Canada and the United States supplement each other economically as they do geographically and climatically. The two nations, mingling easily and naturally with each other, find therein profit along with pleasure.

Government By Default

One of the excuses sometimes made by men, oftener by women, for not voting, is that they really did not know anything about any of the candidates, or the issues, and so they felt they could not conscientiously cast a ballot.

This is no excuse at all. It is the voter's business to inform himself about men and issues.

If he does not approve any of the candidates, no matter. One will be elected. One must be better than another in at least some small way. Every expression of public opinion counts. If the voter votes for only one man, only one issue, at an election, he is expressing something of his own, adding to public opinion.

The only thing candidates are afraid of is voters. The only way to get good candidates is for good voters to keep on voting for the best in sight.

The real boss of the town is the ordinary voter, with his ordinary vote. If he wants a clean and orderly community in which to live and rear his children, he can get it by voting for it. If he does not exercise his right to speak on the side of order and decency, he has to take what he gets.

Too much government in this country is government by default.

Russian Purchases

The latest figures now available about business with Russia are for the first 11 months of 1925. Ouring that time imports into Russia from the United States came to $107,120,000. Imports from Great Britain and Germany were about $56,000,000 each, or a little more in total than from here.

Russia, apparently, has got far enough along with its business stability so that it can buy again.

From the American viewpoint, an annual export trade of more than one hundred millions is not at all to be despised. Great Britain and Germany have recognized the Soviet government, which, poor though it may be considered by outsiders, is the only government Russia happens to have.

American business men, conducting a trade with Russia almost as great as that of Britain and Germany combined, still have to worry along without the ordinary convenience and protection afforded by regular diplomatic and consular service.

The bandit war isn't so one-sided as is commonly thought. In Detroit, for example, the fatality list stands, six policemen to 51 bandits.

Yes, motorists are pretty careless and arrogant. But the motor casualties would be far greater if drivers didn't obseve the traffic rules better than pedestrians do.

The Little Ssorpion's Club— By Fontaine Fox

NEW YORK DAYBYDAY

By O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—In sinister dives the "Mickey Finn" is used to get rid of unwelcome visitors. It is a mixture causing violent nausea and differs from the old time knock-out drop in that it does not render the victim unconscious.

But it often sends a patron to bed for several days. It is the Tenderloin manner of ousting those amiable alcoholics who prove so irritating. Like the old time saloon, the modern speakeasy has its quota of chronic jags.

They prove a great nuisance to proprietors but a boon to revenue sniffers who are able to follow the unsteady steps to a cache of hidden hooch. Never before were drunks so unwelcome in places where liquor is sold as now.

When a speak-easy patron begins to show his liquor his drinks are switched to innicuous colored water and if he continues to display obnoxious hilarity he is dosed with a "Mickey Finn," the ingredients of which are tasteless but O, my!

There is a story of one inebriate accustomed to staggering out of a blind pig every late afternoon. One day his feet became so tangled he sprawled on the sidewalk. A passerby stuck his head in the door and called to the proprietor: "Hey, mister, your sign fell down!"

With prohibition has come a new type of barkeeper. In other days he was a figure in his natty white coat, roached hair and expansive smile. His ear was attuned to sympathy. He had a prop cigar he pocketed many times a day in lieu of the proffered drink.

The modern barkeep is usually what the Bowery calls a "tough mug." He can only speak a few words of business or sympathy for any second the buzzer may sound and he must dump his stock through hidden drain pipes.

A taxi careened around a Park avenue corner on one wheel and dipped dangerously toward a smash up. A white faced fare got out at the next corner. "What were you trying to do?" he demanded of the driver. "Whadda you mean tryin', I did it!" was the reply. "It was us or them"—and he pointed back to three little children playing in the street. He got a $10 tip.

Speaking of former barkeeps I am told the younger ones in New York were picked up by a chain of cigar stores and 80 per cent became capable clerks and many store managers. One indeed is a capable executive stationed in Europe. Some older ones turned to the soft drink parlors but it wasn't to their liking.

Jimmy Hussey has for a number of years been classed as Jewish comedian. He andedated Milt Cross in the "Iss dis a seestem?" talk so well known in the Bronx. It is amusing to see Jews warm to his antics. Jimmy is a friend of mine and I regret to expose him. But he is as Irish as Paddy's Pig. His name is Hickey.

Those high powered executives who function on eight cylinders must—or think they must—save one second. A friend tells of one—the type who features having nothing on his desk (and nothing irritates me more)—who received a call at two o'clock in the afternoon to start for California at 3. He merely said to his secretary, "I leave for the coast at 3." The friend continued his talk and went to the train with the great man in a limousine that was outside 10 minutes before train time. A valet was at the train gates with trunk check and English and has no time for cleanlihand luggage. A "traveling secretary" was there with through drawing room tickets and portable typewriter. Only the single order to the secretary had been given.

TO FILL A SUDDEN VACANCY

I had this one from my grandfather. My grandson—if ever I am so fortunate as to have one—shall have it is turn from me. I believe it possesses merits which make it worthy of being handed down to posterity.

The minister had a reputation of being long-winded. On this Sunday he was in especially good form. His topic was the prophets of the Bible. For more than an hour he droned along.

"Now, then," he said, "we have disposed of the Major Prophets. And next we come to the Minor Prophets. To what place, my friends, shall we assign the Minor Prophets?"

He paused as though for a reply. And then he got a reply from an unexpected quarter.

From a rear pew rose a bored-looking stranger. He waved an explanatory arm toward the seat he just had vacated and spoke:

"Pardon," he said, "don't worry. One of 'em can have my place."

Government Motion Pictures.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—Your Uncle Sam, who wears clothes tailored out of the American flag, a high hat, an abundance of white hair, and whiskers no longer cultivated except by presidential candidates with weak chins, is getting deeper and deeper in the motion picture business every day. As he is the Croesus of the modern world, this is not surprising. However, to avert any possible libel proceedings, let it be stated here and now that the old boy is not exploiting bathing beauties or bringing out soulful sirens who have a yen for the big butter and egg men of the U. S. A. Your Uncle Sam is nobody's hot-buttered-bun. His interest and activities in the movies are altogether educational, and in that line he is a wow.

In the department of Agriculture he maintains an organization that does everything in connection with motion pictures except pay big salaries to stars, monopolize distribution, operate chains of theaters, fight censorship, and make money. He has a studio, laboratory, and all the paraphernalia that goes with such establishments. He employs directors, camera men, and actors, and sometimes he sends members of his staff out on locations that are far removed from Washington. He has made films in all parts of the United States and in this country's territorial possessions, and not long ago he sent the chief of this organization all through South America to produce a picture that would be helpful to our Latin neighbors in their road-building activities and also informing to exporting business interests here at home.

The War and Navy departments have used the motion picture camera since just before the World war. Films that will interest and enlist recruits are perhaps their main objectives in this line, but both of the defense arms of the government have uses for the camera that are kept decidedly secret. Some of these uses are turned to advantage at West Point and Annapolis, where the nation's future generals and admirals are educated, others at the War College in Washington, where officers get their post graduate training, and still others when the general staff of Tepee Herb Tonic has made me feel like a new man. I don't have any more of those splitting headaches that ran across the top of my head and way down to the middle of my back.

They prove a great nuisance to proprietors but a boon to revenue sniffers who are able to follow the unsteady steps to a cache of hidden hooch. Never before were drunks so unwelcome in places where liquor is sold as now.

When a speak-easy patron begins to show his liquor his drinks are switched to innicuous colored water and if he continues to display obnoxious hilarity he is dosed with a "Mickey Finn," the ingredients of which are tasteless but O, my!

There is a story of one inebriate accustomed to staggering out of a blind pig every late afternoon. One day his feet became so tangled he sprawled on the sidewalk. A passerby stuck his head in the door and called to the proprietor: "Hey, mister, your sign fell down!"

With prohibition has come a new type of barkeeper. In other days he was a figure in his natty white coat, roached hair and expansive smile. His ear was attuned to sympathy. He had a prop cigar he pocketed many times a day in lieu of the proffered drink.

The modern barkeep is usually what the Bowery calls a "tough mug." He can only speak a few words of business or sympathy for any second the buzzer may sound and he must dump his stock through hidden drain pipes.

A taxi careened around a Park avenue corner on one wheel and dipped dangerously toward a smash up. A white faced fare got out at the next corner. "What were you trying to do?" he demanded of the driver. "Whadda you mean tryin', I did it!" was the reply. "It was us or them" —and he pointed back to three little children playing in the street. He got a $10 tip.

Speaking of former barkeeps I am told the younger ones in New York were picked up by a chain of cigar stores and 80 per cent became capable clerks and many store managers. One indeed is a capable executive stationed in Europe. Some older ones turned to the soft drink parlors but it wasn't to their liking.

Jimmy Hussey has for a number of years been classed as Jewish comedian. He andedated Milt Cross in the "Iss dis a seestem?" talk so well known in the Bronx. It is amusing to see Jews warm to his antics. Jimmy is a friend of mine and I regret to expose him. But he is as Irish as Paddy's Pig. His name is Hickey.

Those high powered executives who function on eight cylinders must—or think they must—save one second. A friend tells of one—the type who features having nothing on his desk (and nothing irritates me more)—who received a call at two o'clock in the afternoon to start for California at 3. He merely said to his secretary, "I leave for the coast at 3." The friend continued his talk and went to the train with the great man in a limousine that was outside 10 minutes before train time. A valet was at the train gates with trunk check and English and has no time for cleanliness hand luggage. A "traveling secretary" was there with through drawing room tickets and portable typewriter. Only the single order to the secretary had been given.

TO FILL A SUDDEN VACANCY

I had this one from my grandfather. My grandson—if ever I am so fortunate as to have one—shall have it is turn from me. I believe it possesses merits which make it worthy of being handed down to posterity.

The minister had a reputation of being long-winded. On this Sunday he was in especially good form. His topic was the prophets of the Bible. For more than an hour he droned along.

"Now, then," he said, "we have disposed of the Major Prophets. And next we come to the Minor Prophets. To what place, my friends, shall we assign the Minor Prophets?"

He paused as though for a reply. And then he got a reply from an unexpected quarter.

From a rear pew rose a bored-looking stranger. He waved an explanatory arm toward the seat he just had vacated and spoke:

"Pardon," he said, "don't worry. One of 'em can have my place."

Irene Swor

Few actresses take their exercise on the bridle path. It is too much of a risk. But one of the few is Irene Swor, the perfect Venus, with the Earl Carroll "Vanities," the sensasational musical revue coming to the Ceramic Theatre Thursday, Oct. 21.

"In order to keep myself physically perfect for my work," says Miss Swor, "I take a considerable amount of outdoor exercise and whenever possible, I indulge in horseback riding. A good shaking up is a wonderful tonic.

"My idea of riding on a horse is to 'sit in the saddle' as the westerners say, and take all the jolts a horse has to give. Posting is too easy. But the rider who tries to sit in the saddle cavalry style, will get all the exercise necessary. Every time I can, I am out riding a horse."

Irene Swor

Few actresses take their exercise on the bridle path. It is too much of a risk. But one of the few is Irene Swor, the perfect Venus, with the Earl Carroll "Vanities," the sensasational musical revue coming to the Ceramic Theatre Thursday, Oct. 21.

"In order to keep myself physically perfect for my work," says Miss Swor, "I take a considerable amount of outdoor exercise and whenever possible, I indulge in horseback riding. A good shaking up is a wonderful tonic.

"My idea of riding on a horse is to 'sit in the saddle' as the westerners say, and take all the jolts a horse has to give. Posting is too easy. But the rider who tries to sit in the saddle cavalry style, will get all the exercise necessary. Every time I can, I am out riding a horse."

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 14, 1926.

Register Tomorrow

Are you registered?

East Liverpool electors are required to enroll quadrennially, or immediately preceding the presidential balloting. For those who neglect to do so, special registration days are designated preceding subsequent elections.

The Columbiana county board of deputy state supervisors fixed four days of enrollment for the state, district and county election on Nov. 2. Registrars' books at the end of the second day showed few additions. Two more opportunities to enroll will be given on Friday and Saturday.

From 9 A. M. to 3 P. M. and 5 to 10 P. M. each day, registrars will be on duty in the city's 21 precincts to issue transfers to persons who have changed their place of residence, as well as to register new electors or negligent ones.

Don't defer the formality. Register tomorrow if you are not already qualified.

The Peace Bridge

The last steel girders are swinging into place on the great "peace bridge" connecting Canada and the United States at Buffalo. This span across the Niagara river, a mile long and 50 feet wide, connecting two old forts for which there has been no use since 1812, well deserves its name. There could be no fitter way to commorate a long era of peace and good will between two neighboring countries than the erection of such a bridge—an invitation for the neighbors to visit each other instead of the usual military works on national borders which mean "Keep Out."

Nothing is surer than that the neighbors in this case will accept the invitation in record-breaking numbers. The bridge is designed to take care of 6,000 automobiles an hour. There is room for that many to cross, and there are facilities at the bridge-ends for the customs and immigration officers to take care of them.

The bridge will be used mainly by Americans. That is inevitable, from the far greater population on this side of the border and from the natural tendency of our people to regard Canada as a summer playground. Thus the 5,000,000 tourists who are said to have entered Canada this year will doubtless be greatly exceeded next year. And there is a steadily growing interchange of travelers from each country, bent on business.

In many ways Canada and the United States supplement each other economically as they do geographically and climatically. The two nations, mingling easily and naturally with each other, find therein profit along with pleasure.

Government By Default

One of the excuses sometimes made by men, oftener by women, for not voting, is that they really did not know anything about any of the candidates, or the issues, and so they felt they could not conscientiously cast a ballot.

This is no excuse at all. It is the voter's business to inform himself about men and issues.

If he does not approve any of the candidates, no matter. One will be elected. One must be better than another in at least some small way. Every expression of public opinion counts. If the voter votes for only one man, only one issue, at an election, he is expressing something of his own, adding to public opinion.

The only thing candidates are afraid of is voters. The only way to get good candidates is for good voters to keep on voting for the best in sight.

The real boss of the town is the ordinary voter, with his ordinary vote. If he wants a clean and orderly community in which to live and rear his children, he can get it by voting for it. If he does not exercise his right to speak on the side of order and decency, he has to take what he gets.

Too much government in this country is government by default.

Russian Purchases

The latest figures now available about business with Russia are for the first 11 months of 1925. Ouring that time imports into Russia from the United States came to $107,120,000. Imports from Great Britain and Germany were about $56,000,000 each, or a little more in total than from here.

Russia, apparently, has got far enough along with its business stability so that it can buy again.

From the American viewpoint, an annual export trade of more than one hundred millions is not at all to be despised. Great Britain and Germany have recognized the Soviet government, which, poor though it may be considered by outsiders, is the only government Russia happens to have.

American business men, conducting a trade with Russia almost as great as that of Britain and Germany combined, still have to worry along without the ordinary convenience and protection afforded by regular diplomatic and consular service.

The bandit war isn't so one-sided as is commonly thought. In Detroit, for example, the fatality list stands, six policemen to 81 bandits.

Yes, motorists are pretty careless and arrogant. But the motor casualties would be far greater if drivers didn't obseve the traffic rules better than pedestrians do.

NEW YORK DAYBYDAY

By O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—In sinister dives the "Mickey Finn" is used to get rid of unwelcome visitors. It is a mixture causing violent nausea and differs from the old time knock-out drop in that it does not render the victim unconscious.

But it often sends a patron to bed for several days. It is the Tenderloin manner of ousting those amiable alcoholics who prove so irritating. Like the old time saloon, the modern speak-easy has its quota of chronic jags.

They prove a great nuisance to proprietors but a boon to revenue sniffers who are able to follow the unsteady steps to a cache of hidden hooch. Never before were drunks so unwelcome in places where liquor is sold as now.

When a speak-easy patron begins to show his liquor his drinks are switched to innicuous colored water and if he continues to display obnoxious hilarity he is dosed with a "Mickey Finn," the ingredients of which are tasteless but O, my!

There is a story of one inebriate accustomed to staggering out of a blind pig every late afternoon. One day his feet became so tangled he sprawled on the sidewalk. A passerby stuck his head in the door and called to the proprietor: "Hey, mister, your sign fell down!"

With prohibition has come a new type of barkeeper. In other days he was a figure in his natty white coat, roached hair and expansive smile. His ear was attuned to sympathy. He had a prop cigar he pocketed many times a day in lieu of the proffered drink.

The modern barkeep is usually what the Bowery calls a "tough mug." He can only speak a few words of business or sympathy for any second the buzzer may sound and he must dump his stock through hidden drain pipes.

A taxi careened around a Park avenue corner on one wheel and dipped dangerously toward a smash up. A white faced fare got out at the next corner. "What were you trying to do?" he demanded of the driver. "Whadda you mean tryin', I did it!" was the reply. "It was us or them" —and he pointed back to three little children playing in the street. He got a $10 tip.

Speaking of former barkeeps I am told the younger ones in New York were picked up by a chain of cigar stores and 80 per cent became capable clerks and many store managers. One indeed is a capable executive stationed in Europe. Some older ones turned to the soft drink parlors but it wasn't to their liking.

Jimmy Hussey has for a number of years been classed as Jewish comedian. He andedated Milt Cross in the "Iss dis a seestem?" talk so well known in the Bronx. It is amusing to see Jews warm to his antics. Jimmy is a friend of mine and I regret to expose him. But he is as Irish as Paddy's Pig. His name is Hickey.

Those high powered executives who function on eight cylinders must—or think they must—save one second. A friend tells of one—the type who features having nothing on his desk (and nothing irritates me more)—who received a call at two o'clock in the afternoon to start for California at 3. He merely said to his secretary, "I leave for the coast at 3." The friend continued his talk and went to the train with the great man in a limousine that was outside 10 minutes before train time. A valet was at the train gates with trunk check and English and has no time for cleanliness hand luggage. A "traveling secretary" was there with through drawing room tickets and portable typewriter. Only the single order to the secretary had been given.

TO FILL A SUDDEN VACANCY

I had this one from my grandfather. My grandson—if ever I am so fortunate as to have one—shall have it is turn from me. I believe it possesses merits which make it worthy of being handed down to posterity.

The minister had a reputation of being long-winded. On this Sunday he was in especially good form. His topic was the prophets of the Bible. For more than an hour he droned along.

"Now, then," he said, "we have disposed of the Major Prophets. And next we come to the Minor Prophets. To what place, my friends, shall we assign the Minor Prophets?"

He paused as though for a reply. And then he got a reply from an unexpected quarter.

From a rear pew rose a bored-looking stranger. He waved an explanatory arm toward the seat he just had vacated and spoke:

"Pardon," he said, "don't worry. One of 'em can have my place."

Government Motion Pictures.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—Your Uncle Sam, who wears clothes tailored out of the American flag, a high hat, an abundance of white hair, and whiskers no longer cultivated except by presidential candidates with weak chins, is getting deeper and deeper in the motion picture business every day. As he is the Croesus of the modern world, this is not surprising. However, to avert any possible libel proceedings, let it be stated here and now that the old boy is not exploiting bathing beauties or bringing out soulful sirens who have a yen for the big butter and egg men of the U. S. A. Your Uncle Sam is nobody's hot-buttered-bun. His interest and activities in the movies are altogether educational, and in that line he is a wow.

In the department of Agriculture he maintains an organization that does everything in connection with motion pictures except pay big salaries to stars, monopolize distribution, operate chains of theaters, fight censorship, and make money. He has a studio, laboratory, and all the paraphernalia that goes with such establishments. He employs directors, camera men, and actors, and sometimes he sends members of his staff out on locations that are far removed from Washington. He has made films in all parts of the United States and in this country's territorial possessions, and not long ago he sent the chief of this organization all through South America to produce a picture that would be helpful to our Latin neighbors in their road-building activities and also informing to exporting business interests here at home.

The War and Navy departments have used the motion picture camera since just before the World war. Films that will interest and enlist recruits are perhaps their main objectives in this line, but both of the defense arms of the government have uses for the camera that are kept decidedly secret. Some of these uses are turned to advantage at West Point and Annapolis, where the nation's future generals and admirals are educated, others at the War College in Washington, where officers get their post graduate training, and still others when the general staff of

W. H. Wise, For Thirty-Five Years on Run Between Cincinnati and Toledo, Is Well Known.

For thirty-five years W. H. Wise, of 834 Nestlewood Ave., Toledo, covered a run on the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad between Cincinnati and Toledo. In the capacity of freight and passenger conductor he met thousands of people, and he is well known all along the line.

About six months ago Mr. Wise retired from active service. He says his health had begun to fail him. "I was troubled with constipation and I had almost daily attacks of headaches. I was very restless at night and coudn't sleep soundly, never cared when my meals were ready as I was never hungry.

"I heard about Tepee Herb Tonic and I tried it with splendid results I have a good appetite now, thanks to Tepee Herb Tonic, and when my meals are ready I'm always on time and I demand full right of way.

Tepee Herb Tonic has made me feel like a new man. I don't have any more of those splitting headaches that ran across the top of my head and way down to the middle of my back.

"When night comes I sleep like a baby. If Tepee had never done anything else but relieve my constipation I would have felt well repaid for taking it.

"It's a splendid preparation for the bowels and I am regular for the first time in many years.

Mr. Wise, who gives the above statement is sixty-five years of age, but no person would ever know it from his appearance. Since taking Tepee Herb Tonic he don't look a day over fifty-five.

If you don't feel well take Tepee Herb Tonic today. It has relieved others and it will relieve you.

B. & O. RAILWAY CONDUCTOR DEMANDS FULL RIGHT OF WAY

W. H. Wise, For Thirty-Five Years on Run Between Cincinnati and Toledo, Is Well Known.

For thirty-five years W. H. Wise, of 834 Nestlewood Ave., Toledo, covered a run on the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad between Cincinnati and Toledo. In the capacity of freight and passenger conductor he met thousands of people, and he is well known all along the line.

About six months ago Mr. Wise retired from active service. He says his health had begun to fail him. "I was troubled with constipation and I had almost daily attacks of headaches. I was very restless at night and coudn't sleep soundly, never cared when my meals were ready as I was never hungry.

"I heard about Tepee Herb Tonic and I tried it with splendid results I have a good appetite now, thanks to Tepee Herb Tonic, and when my meals are ready I'm always on time and I demand full right of way.

Tepee Herb Tonic has made me feel like a new man. I don't have any more of those splitting headaches that ran across the top of my head and way down to the middle of my back.

"When night comes I sleep like a baby. If Tepee had never done anything else but relieve my constipation I would have felt well repaid for taking it.

"It's a splendid preparation for the bowels and I am regular for the first time in many years.

Mr. Wise, who gives the above statement is sixty-five years of age, but no person would ever know it from his appearance. Since taking Tepee Herb Tonic he don't look a day over fifty-five.

If you don't feel well take Tepee Herb Tonic today. It has relieved others and it will relieve you.

Tepee Herb Tonic can be had in East Liverpool at Carnahan's Drug Stores.

Few actresses take their exercise on the bridle path. It is too much of a risk. But one of the few is Irene Swor, the perfect Venus, with the Earl Carroll "Vanities," the sensasational musical revue coming to the Ceramic Theatre Thursday, Oct. 21.

"In order to keep myself physically perfect for my work," says Miss Swor, "I take a considerable amount of outdoor exercise and whenever possible, I indulge in horseback riding. A good shaking up is a wonderful tonic.

"My idea of riding on a horse is to 'sit in the saddle' as the westerners say, and take all the jolts a horse has to give. Posting is too easy. But the rider who tries to sit in the saddle cavalry style, will get all the exercise necessary. Every time I can, I am out riding a horse."

Irene Swor

Few actresses take their exercise on the bridle path. It is too much of a risk. But one of the few is Irene Swor, the perfect Venus, with the Earl Carroll "Vanities," the sensasational musical revue coming to the Ceramic Theatre Thursday, Oct. 21.

"In order to keep myself physically perfect for my work," says Miss Swor, "I take a considerable amount of outdoor exercise and whenever possible, I indulge in horseback riding. A good shaking up is a wonderful tonic.

"My idea of riding on a horse is to 'sit in the saddle' as the westerners say, and take all the jolts a horse has to give. Posting is too easy. But the rider who tries to sit in the saddle cavalry style, will get all the exercise necessary. Every time I can, I am out riding a horse."

THE GORILLA IS STAGE HIT

Chicago Stock Company Repeat Mystery Play Tonight.

Every seat was taken at the Ceramic last evening when the Chicago Stock company produced the sensational comedy hit, "The Gorilla," one of the most amusing shows ever seen in East Liverpool. The antics of the two detectives, "Mulligan and Garrity," in trying to capture the gorilla kept the large audience in a constant uproar. It is a mystery play chuck full of thrills and sensational scenes, and should attract large crowds again tonight and also at the matinee on Saturday.

Tomorrow evening the company will present an attraction that actually played 276 performances at the Noah Bayes theatre in New York. It is entirely different from any other play and bears the alluring title "Dance Mad." It is the story of a Portugues boy who is at the dangerous age between adolescence and young manhood, when he is beginning to respond to influences outside his home. A fascinating flapper and the alluring rythms of modern dance music draw the boy of foreign race away from the traditions of his courageous ancestors. His mother senses the danger, knowing that the sun beats more warmly on the blood of a Portuguese than on that of an American. Her energy and sacrifice in saving her son brings the play to a thrilling climax.

The company's engagement will be concluded Saturday, the matinee attraction will be a repetition of "The Gorilla" and the evening offering "Mama Loves Papa," Jack McGowan's comedy which is said to be a continuous laugh from inception to climax. A feature of this play is the elaborate staging and gorgeous costuming.

Her Hair Fairly SPARKLES Now!

The woman who knows what to do after waving her hair doesn't fear the effect of hot irons. Nor of frequent washings. A few drops of Danderine—on comb or towel—and the hair is soft and lustrous, and behaves beautifully.

A bit of Danderine rubbed lightly into the scalp, is the one sure way to dissolve every particle of dandruff. But a few drops more make a dressing that is simply marvelous. A sheen that rivals brilliantine, and no grease!

Any permanent wave or water wave lasts much longer and looks much nicer when Danderine is used instead of water to "set" the wave.

CAST OF 100 IN "VANITIES"

Earl Carroll Show Comes to Ceramic on Oct. 21.

"The Earl Carroll Vanities" which for some years has been the sensation of New York will be presented in it's entirety by the Joseph De Milt, Inc., at the Ceramic theatre, Thursday night, Oct. 21, with a company of 100 people.

The instantaneous success and continued popularity that has been enjoyed by "The Vanities" since it's initial performance is one of the surprising events of the New York stage, for at the time of it's first presentation the field was already crowded with revues, and its success can only be attributed to its originality and the supreme perfection with which it was presented.

The magnificent scenic environment of spectacular extravagance, contrived with absolute disregard of expense, the excellence of the comedians, and the indescribable loveliness of the large and shapely chorus of girls, who appear to great advantage in the series of stage pictures, conceptions of the most skillful directors, supplemented by melodies of an alluring sensuous character, that delight and intoxicate the senses, lend an atmosphere of oriental splendor to this supreme triumph of stagecraft.

The performance opens with the Rotisserie, a charming number, which is followed by various sketches in which the clever featured comedians, Lou Powers, Bert Swor and Dave Chasen, afford much amusement with their brilliant witticisms and clever absurdities. Notable amongst the numbers of the revue are Irene Swor the Perfect Venus in Fan, Shawl and Pearl. Other spectacle numbers are The Gate of Roses, Neath Miami Skies, The Kinky Kids on Parade and The Grand Finale, Hi Ho. The music of the revue is extremely beautiful and contains numerous airs that are readily caught by the audience and become very popular.

more food Space

FACTS

This is one of the reasons why there are more Frigidaires in use than all other electric refrigerators combined. Additional reasons are named in other advertisements.

Frigidaire Offers More for Less

New Low PRICES

Frigidaire mechanical unit for installation in the standard cabinet of inchmen size or less as $170

Model M-5-7 metal cabinet Frigidaire — over 5 cu. ft. food capacity $225

Model M-7 metal cabinet Frigidaire — over 7 cu. ft. food capacity $310

Model M-9 metal cabinet Frigidaire — over 9 cu. ft. food capacity $395

(All prices f. o. b. Dayton)

And any Frigidaire may be purchased on the General Motors time payment plan.

FRIGIDAIRE provides greater food space than other electric refrigerators of equal size. This is because the highly efficient and economical frost coil, an exclusive Frigidaire feature, occupies less space than the brine tank previously used, permitting greater food storage capacity in a cabinet of any given size. Larger supplies of perishable foods can be carried at one time.

Greater food capacity, quieter operation, freedom from vibration, lower operating cost, a wider range of models, the more precise engineering and manufacturing methods of General Motors, greater beauty of design, proven dependability in service—these are the things that have made Frigidaire the choice of the overwhelming majority of users of electric refrigerators.

ORA SLATER, MELLETT DEATH QUIZ CHIEF, IS VISITOR HERE

Canton Police Head Accompanies Detective on Trip.

MEET McDERMOTT

Deny Mission Has Any Connection With Murder of Editor.

Ora Slater, Cincinnati detective, who earned a nation-wide reputation in the Nesbit murder case at Troy and who is in charge of the investigation into the murder of Don R. Mellett, Canton newspaper publisher, accompanied by John "Jiggs" Wise, acting chief of police at Canton, were visitors in East Liverpool yesterday afternoon.

Slater and Wise, traveling in an automobile owned by the city of Canton, arrived here about 2 o'clock and returned, presumably to Canton, at 7 o'clock last night. Their visit, according to Chief of Police McDermott, had no connection with the Mellett murder.

They called at the city hall, where they conferred with Chief of Police McDermott and Mayor Ralph Benedum. Slater wrote several letters while in Mayor Benedum's office.

Wise, who was appointed acting chief of police at Canton following the dismissal of Chief S. E. Lengel, is a nephew of Albert Taylor, Summit lane.

'CARE OF TREES' KIWANIS TOPIC

Chris M. Scherer Speaks at Noon Luncheon.

Chris M. Scherer, Kent, representative of the Davy Tree Expert company, discussed "The Care of Trees" at today's luncheon meeting of the Kiwanis club in Larkins Annex, Market street.

About 60 members of the club and their guests, including visitors from Kent, Canton and Wellsville, attended the meeting. Prof. H. F. Laughlin led a program of singing with William Lodge as the accompanist.

"A tree is nothing more than a big plant," Scherer said. "The only difference between a tree and some plant that grows in a garden is that a tree grows over a long period of years, while the garden plant must be replanted each year.

"The life of a tree has never been determined. The only thing that scientists have been able to determine is that with the right kind of care trees will live for centuries. It is like any other living thing, requiring food, water and air. Many trees, in industrial communities, die as the result of poisonous fumes coming from smoke. You have instances of that kind in the East Liverpool district.

"Trees must also combat thousands and thousands of insects which attack them every year. A few years ago the hickory bark beetle played havoc with hickory trees. On elm trees you will find the elm leaf beetle. Besides these insects trees are very often afflicted with fungus diseases.

"Many of these insects can be eliminated by spraying with arsenate of lead. Copper sulphate should be used in fighting the inroads of the fungus. You can help your trees by fighting their battles against disease and fungus."

Marie Abandons Plans for Swim Aboard Leviathan—Lunches With Mrs. Woodrow Wilson.

BY JOHN GOETTE.

ABOARD S. S. LEVIATHAN, October 14.—Queen Marie of Roumania is suffering from a slight cold.

Although members of the queen's suite stated that the cold was insignificant they said that the queen wants to take no chances on arriving in the United States indisposed and for this reason she abandoned her plans for a morning swim and also refrained from exercise on the decks.

The queen lunched in the general dining room with Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, and the menu was of typical American food, with chicken a la Maryland as the piece de resistance.

Attends Movie Show.

The queen was further trained in American ways last night by attending a moving picture show on board.

Also arrangements are being made to treat the queen to a few selections of real American jazz, for which purpose Allen White's troupe of collegians of the University of California are to be brought up from their third class quarters to the royal suite.

Queen Marie is proving herself an excellent sailor.

Many of the other passengers have failed to show up in the big dining room, due to the heavy seas through which the Leviathan is ploughing.

Florida Real Estate Broker Jumps Overboard From Ship

Wife, Shocked by Death of David P. Davis, Millionaire, Denies Domestic Trouble.

NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—David P. Davis, Florida real estate millionaire, jumped overboard from the S. S. Majestic yesterday, according to the official report received by the White Star Line offices today from Commander Metcalf, commander of the vessel.

"David P. Davis, first class, jumped through cabin port this morning (Wednesday)," the commander's wireless reported stated. "Thorough investigation. Details very vague. Witness ill. Hence cause of delay.

(Signed) METCALF."

PARIS, Oct. 14.—Mrs. D. P. Davis, wife of the Florida realty magnate who was lost overboard from the S. S. Majestic in mid-ocean yesterday, today had radio advices confirming the death of her husband and was prostrated. Through her friends Mrs. Davis issued a statement declaring that there were no domestic difficulties which could have worried her husband.

TODAY

LET us remember, for our good that what Mr. Kitazawa did in a few hours, nine-tenths of us do in about half a normal lifetime. Too much or wrong eating or both kill the great majority. Senator Copeland, who is also a doctor, says "half of what we eat keeps us alive the other half keeps the doctors alive."

SECRETARY MELLON, whose management has cleared away seven thousand millions of our national debt, says Mussolini's government is no longer a one-man machine.

Mr. Mellon sees in Mussolini, with whom he has had long conversations, not merely "one of the world's most vigorous personalities, but a sound organization builder." Mr. Mellon has proved that he knows something about organization. Ask his business competitors.

He says "Mussolini's organization is sound and there should be time for him to build strongly. He is a young man yet."

MR. MELLON added a parenthesis: "That is of course, if they stop throwing bombs at him."

That is the big if, but courage counts, even against bombs; it discourages and intimidates the bomb thrower and prolongs life. Mussolini has courage.

Charges of parking on the sidewalk have been filed by Patrolman C. C. Smith against Donald Mahon, St. George street, and J. R. Backus, Railroad street, as the result of alleged violations which occured on Boyce street at 10 o'clock last night.

CROWD HEARS REV. C. H. STULL

Granville Pastor Speaks in First Baptist Church.

A large crowd attended services in the First Baptist church last night when Rev. C. H. Stull, Granville, opened a week-end series of meetings. His opening sermon was "Philip, the Personal Worker."

"Philip was a true servant ready to go anywhere God called him," said the evangelist. "His heart was opened to the spirit of Heaven. He was willing to fill in, ready to sing when called upon. He knew the message that God would have the people know. Philip was a teacher who was absolutely loyal to the Scriptures; he was a saint who knew how to hide himself in the things of God."

Many of the evangelist's audience took part in a special period of prayer service which was conducted in the lecture room of the church following the sermon.

Services will be held again tonight, Friday and Saturday night.

PERSHING WILL LEAD YANKEE BOYS TO PARIS

"Black Jack" Will Head Pilgrimage of Legion.

HONORARY CHIEF

Six Candidates and "Dark Horse" for Commander.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Oct. 14.—San Antonio, Texas, will entertain the American Legion in 1928.

The boys decided to meet two years hence in the Lone Star state after hearing bids from San Antonio, Miami, Detroit and Denver.

Dan Moody, governor-elect of Texas, extended San Antonio's invitation. Among other things, he promised "first class hotel rooms at $2.50, ham and eggs at 40 cents, coffee at a nickel and free automobile transportation."

By George E. Durno.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 14.—"Black Jack" Pershing, better known as General John J., commander of the A. E. F., will lead the American Legion to Paris next September for its ninth annual convention as permanent honorary national chairman.

Tomorrow the Legion convention here will battle out with ballots the business of selecting the working national commander for 1927.

Six candiddates and a "dark horse" are in the field for the Legion leadership, Colonel J. Monroe Johnson, of South Carolina; Howard Savage, of Illinois; E. E. Spafford, of New York; Frank J. Good of Massachusetts; Thomas Avory Lee, of Kansas; Jay Williams, of South Dakota, and Wilder S. Metcalfe, of Kansas. Metcalfe is not formally in the field.

The present outlook is that the fight will narrow down between Johnson and Savage, with the final provision that if neither can muster the necessary strength, Metcalfe will get the call, the latter being the "dark horse."

Air Full of Politics.

This was the situation today as the Legionnaires settled down to the final business of this year's meeting. Hotel rooms were overrun with caucuses and delegates were being buttonholded for pledges in every lobby.

Pershing, originally slated for the 1927 commandership, has left the convention. Leaders know he would under no circumstances accept because of his advanced age and the arduousness of the duties to be entailed. He did, however, tell a committee he would be pleased to accept of honor of election of a lifetime honorary chairman.

With the Pershing candidacy thus disposed of, campaigners for the other aspirants have redoubled their efforts during the past 24 hours. The air is full of politics, trading and compromise.

On the strength of four caucuses last night Colonel Johnson, better known to the Legion as "Steamboat," had the call at the present moment. Fifteen states comprising the southern caucus with a total of 224 votes and 14 states in the western caucus with 184 votes have indicated a preference for the South Carolinian.

Yates, secretary of Senator Reed of Missouri, chairman of the senate committee which will probe Indiana's political scandal, arrived in Chicago today but refused to make public the list of witnesses to be summoned here Monday. Message to White House.

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 14.—Indiana's probe of "Stephensonism" in her state and municipal governments crept to the door of the White House today.

A telegram, urging President Coolidge to use his influence to have the story of alleged political corruption brought into the light of day, was dispatched by Thomas H. Adams, Vincennes publisher, acting as chairman of an independent probe committee.

A second appearance of D. C. Stephenson, potentate of Indiana's alleged super-government, before the Marion county grand jury in session here to probe the charges of corruption in high places of state and city governments, loomed today on the investigation horizon, clouded and befogged with charges and counter charges, whispered conferences, secret meetings and sudden goings and comings of the principal actors in this drama.

Cattle and livestock have fled in panic before the flames, and huge losses are mounting to owners of cattle.

The losses in timber land will run into huge figures, it is feared.

Although every effort is being made to check the sweep of the flames, human efforts have proved puny when pitted against the forces of nature.

An Oxford Season

MORE smartly dressed women are wearing oxfords this season than for many years.

Dame Fashion seems suddenly to have remembered how much more comfort and support to the feet is to be had in an oxford. This is especialy true of the

Cantilever Shoe

Lacing a Cantilever oxford draws its flexible shank or arch snugly up under the corresponding arch of your foot.

This gives exactly the support needed for tired muscles, without weakening them by over-support and lack of exercise.

The Cantilever sole and heel are so shaped as to relieve the inner arch of excess weight. This helps to make walking and standing much easier.

A few minutes here will show how delightfully comfortable Cantilever oxfords are.

ORA SLATER, MELLETT DEATH QUIZ CHIEF, IS VISITOR HERE

Canton Police Head Accompanies Detective on Trip.

Deny Mission Has Any Connection With Murder of Editor.

Ora Slater, Cincinnati detective, who earned a nation-wide reputation in the Nesbit murder case at Troy and who is in charge of the investigation into the murder of Don R. Mellett, Canton newspaper publisher, accompanied by John "Jiggs" Wise, acting chief of police at Canton, were visitors in East Liverpool yesterday afternoon.

Slater and Wise, traveling in an automobile owned by the city of Canton, arrived here about 2 o'clock and returned, presumably to Canton, at 7 o'clock last night. Their visit, according to Chief of Police McDermott, had no connection with the Mellett murder.

They called at the city hall, where they conferred with Chief of Police McDermott and Mayor Ralph Benedum. Slater wrote several letters while in Mayor Benedum's office.

Wise, who was appointed acting chief of police at Canton following the dismissal of Chief S. E. Lengel, is a nephew of Albert Taylor, Summit lane.

'CARE OF TREES' KIWANIS TOPIC

Chris M. Scherer Speaks at Noon Luncheon.

Chris M. Scherer, Kent, representative of the Davy Tree Expert company, discussed "The Care of Trees" at today's luncheon meeting of the Kiwanis club in Larkins Annex, Market street.

About 60 members of the club and their guests, including visitors from Kent, Canton and Wellsville, attended the meeting. Prof. H. F. Laughlin led a program of singing with William Lodge as the accompanist.

"A tree is nothing more than a big plant," Scherer said. "The only difference between a tree and some plant that grows in a garden is that a tree grows over a long period of years, while the garden plant must be replanted each year.

"The life of a tree has never been determined. The only thing that scientists have been able to determine is that with the right kind of care trees will live for centuries. It is like any other living thing, requiring food, water and air. Many trees, in industrial communities, die as the result of poisonous fumes coming from smoke. You have instances of that kind in the East Liverpool district.

"Trees must also combat thousands and thousands of insects which attack them every year. A few years ago the hickory bark beetle played havoc with hickory trees. On elm trees you will find the elm leaf beetle. Besides these insects trees are very often afflicted with fungus diseases.

"Many of these insects can be eliminated by spraying with arsenate of lead. Copper sulphate should be used in fighting the inroads of the fungus. You can help your trees by fighting their battles against disease and fungus."

Marie Abandons Plans for Swim Aboard Leviathan—Lunches With Mrs. Woodrow Wilson.

BY JOHN GOETTE.

ABOARD S. S. LEVIATHAN, October 14.—Queen Marie of Roumania is suffering from a slight cold.

Although members of the queen's suite stated that the cold was insignificant they said that the queen wants to take no chances on arriving in the United States indisposed and for this reason she abandoned her plans for a morning swim and also refrained from exercise on the decks.

The queen lunched in the general dining room with Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, and the menu was of typical American food, with chicken a la Maryland as the piece de resistance.

Attends Movie Show.

The queen was further trained in American ways last night by attending a moving picture show on board.

Also arrangements are being made to treat the queen to a few selections of real American jazz, for which purpose Allen White's troupe of collegians of the University of California are to be brought up from their third class quarters to the royal suite.

Queen Marie is proving herself an excellent sailor.

Many of the other passengers have failed to show up in the big dining room, due to the heavy seas through which the Leviathan is ploughing.

CROWD HEARS REV. C. H. STULL

Granville Pastor Speaks in First Baptist Church.

A large crowd attended services in the First Baptist church last night when Rev. C. H. Stull, Granville, opened a week-end series of meetings. His opening sermon was "Philip, the Personal Worker."

"Philip was a true servant ready to go anywhere God called him," said the evangelist. "His heart was opened to the spirit of Heaven. He was willing to fill in, ready to sing when called upon. He knew the message that God would have the people know. Philip was a teacher who was absolutely loyal to the Scriptures; he was a saint who knew how to hide himself in the things of God."

Many of the evangelist's audience took part in a special period of prayer service which was conducted in the lecture room of the church following the sermon.

Services will be held again tonight, Friday and Saturday night.

Delegates Attend Grand Commandery Meet in Mansfield

A. L. Weikert and J. L. Vodrey are representing Pilgrim Commandery, No. 55, of this city, at the annual meeting of the grand commandery of the Ohio Knights Templars, which opened in Mansfield yesterday.

The delegates were welcomed by Mayor J. Earl Port and Franz K. Hall, eminent commander of the Mansfield commandery. The response was delivered by Joseph A. Wertman, Dayton, grand generalissimo. Because of the recent death of Grand Commander Charles H. Voegele of Mansfield, no parade or other social features will be held in connection with the conclave. Memorial service for Mr. Voegele was held yesterday afternoon.

Membership at the present time is 38,874, a net gain of 423 for the year, the grand commander reported. The convention will adjourn tonight.

PERSHING WILL LEAD YANKEE BOYS TO PARIS

"Black Jack" Will Head Pilgrimage of Legion.

HONORARY CHIEF

Six Candidates and "Dark Horse" for Commander.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Oct. 14.—San Antonio, Texas, will entertain the American Legion in 1928.

The boys decided to meet two years hence in the Lone Star state after hearing bids from San Antonio, Miami, Detroit and Denver.

Dan Moody, governor-elect of Texas, extended San Antonio's invitation. Among other things, he promised "first class hotel rooms at $2.50, ham and eggs at 40 cents, coffee at a nickel and free automobile transportation."

By George E. Durno.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 14.—"Black Jack" Pershing, better known as General John J., commander of the A. E. F., will lead the American Legion to Paris next September for its ninth annual convention as permanent honorary national chairman.

Tomorrow the Legion convention here will battle out with ballots the business of selecting the working national commander for 1927.

Six candiddates and a "dark horse" are in the field for the Legion leadership, Colonel J. Monroe Johnson, of South Carolina; Howard Savage, of Illinois; E. E. Spafford, of New York; Frank J. Good of Massachusetts; Thomas Avory Lee, of Kansas; Jay Williams, of South Dakota, and Wilder S. Metcalfe, of Kansas. Metcalfe is not formally in the field.

The present outlook is that the fight will narrow down between Johnson and Savage, with the final provision that if neither can muster the necessary strength, Metcalfe will get the call, the latter being the "dark horse."

Air Full of Politics.

This was the situation today as the Legionnaires settled down to the final business of this year's meeting. Hotel rooms were overrun with caucuses and delegates were being buttonholded for pledges in every lobby.

Pershing, originally slated for the 1927 commandership, has left the convention. Leaders know he would under no circumstances accept because of his advanced age and the arduousness of the duties to be entailed. He did, however, tell a committee he would be pleased to accept of honor of election of a lifetime honorary chairman.

With the Pershing candidacy thus disposed of, campaigners for the other aspirants have redoubled their efforts during the past 24 hours. The air is full of politics, trading and compromise.

On the strength of four caucuses last night Colonel Johnson, better known to the Legion as "Steamboat," had the call at the present moment. Fifteen states comprising the southern caucus with a total of 224 votes and 14 states in the western caucus with 184 votes have indicated a preference for the South Carolinian.

Bishop is alleged to have attacked his wife near the corner of Bradshaw avenue and Walnut street last Monday night while she was on her way home, in an effort to obtain possession of two rings.

Judge Hanley warned Bishop not to molest his wife in the future.

U. S. Probe in Indiana

Names of Witnesses Withheld.

CHICAGO, Oct. 14.—H. Yates, secretary of Senator Reed of Missouri, chairman of the senate committee which will probe Indiana's political scandal, arrived in Chicago today but refused to make public the list of witnesses to be summoned here Monday. Yates went immediately to the federal building and launched plans for the committee's sessions.

Palmer E. Anderson, United States marshal, said he had received no word regarding serving of subpoenas for the committee's witnesses.

Message to White House.

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 14.—Indiana's probe of "Stephensonism" in her state and municipal governments crept to the door of the White House today.

A telegram, urging President Coolidge to use his influence to have the story of alleged political corruption brought into the light of day, was dispatched by Thomas H. Adams, Vincennes publisher, acting as chairman of an independent probe committee.

A second appearance of D. C. Stephenson, potentate of Indiana's alleged super-government, before the Marion county grand jury in session here to probe the charges of corruption in high places of state and city governments, loomed today on the investigation horizon, clouded and befogged with charges and counter charges, whispered conferences, secret meetings and sudden goings and comings of the principal actors in this drama.

REPORTS FROM STOCK MARKET

NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—Railroad stocks and a small number of the industrials and specialities continues their rally at the beginning of trading today, principally as a result of short covering and professional buying. Bulls in General Motors, Allied Chemical, Timken and one or two of the rails marked up prices a point or two at the expense of the shorts. These stocks drew the bulk of the spot-light, Timken, a newcomer to the active list, rushed up to 73¼, completing a 10 point gain since Wednesday noon. General Motors at 154½ showed a 6 point advance on the move, while Allied Chemical was up 6 and Cast Iron Pipe up 4.

have been destroyed by the fires.

Cattle and livestock have fled in panic before the flames, and huge losses are mounting to owners of cattle.

The losses in timber land will run into huge figures, it is feared.

Although every effort is being made to check the sweep of the flames, human efforts have proved puny when pitted against the forces of nature.

Great experts made this dressing especially for me. It is not sticky or greasy. It quickly does to perfection all my hair needs to be beautiful, wavy and tidy.

Now all toilet counters supply the same dressing under the name Edna Wallace Hopper's Wave and Sheen. The price is 75c. My guarantee comes with each bottle, so you risk nothing by a test. Go try it. You will find it just what you want. It is one of the best helps I ever found to keep women looking nice.

HOW TO REDUCE VARICOSE VEINS

Rub Gently and Upward Toward the Heart as Blood in Veins Flows That Way.

Many people have become despondent because they have been led to believe that there is no remedy that will reduce swollen veins and bunches.

If you will get a two-ounce original bottle of Moone's Emerald Oil (full strength) at any first-class drug store and apply it night and morning as directed you will quickly notice an improvement which will continue until the veins and bunches are reduced to normal.

Moone's Emerald Oil is a harmless, yet most powerful germicide and two ounces last a very long time. Indeed, so powerful is Emerald Oil that old chronic cases of Piles are often entirely absorbed and anyone who is disappointed with its use can have their money refunded.—Mathews Medicine Store, Jesse D. Holloway, sells lots of it.

An Oxford Season

MORE smartly dressed women are wearing oxfords this season than for many years.

Dame Fashion seems suddenly to have remembered how much more comfort and support to the feet is to be had in an oxford. This is especialy true of the

Cantilever Shoe

Lacing a Cantilever oxford draws its flexible shank or arch snugly up under the corresponding arch of your foot.

This gives exactly the support needed for tired muscles, without weakening them by over-support and lack of exercise.

The Cantilever sole and heel are so shaped as to relieve the inner arch of excess weight. This helps to make walking and standing much easier.

A few minutes here will show how delightfully comfortable Cantilever oxfords are.

Cantilevers are sold in this county only at

BOOK FOUR—III.

Bones Allen, like many gentlemen of his years and proclivities, was afraid of other gentlemen's mothers. He regarded them as unnecessary and even obnoxious, and the habit they had of seeming to look straight through his skin to his soul disconcerted him to the writhing point. "Mothers" was a vituperative term in Bones' diction; it included all maternal ancestors above ground except his own, and preceded the phrase "cramp my style" as inevitably as, in gastronomic diction, "bread" precedes "and butter."

Wherefore the news that his roommate's mother, whom he had never met, was even now ensconced in his room and awaiting him, became as a light but provoking blow of misfortune. "The devil she is!" he said, and betook himself thither with sighs.

His initial thought was that there had been a mistake. This daintily shapely person standing alone in the room with her back toward him could be no mother. Why this was a girl! . . . Then she faced about and he saw that she was not a girl but that she must have been one very recently. People often had that feeling about Mrs. Hamill.

"Hello, Bones," she said. "For of course that's who you are."

"How-d'y'-do. Awfully glad."

They shook hands. Mrs. Hamill sank down on the window-seat and opened the platinum cigarette case monogrammed in sapphires that hung from a chain on her arm, extending it invitingly. Bones accepted one. His peace of mind was returning.

"I've just been looking at her," Mrs. Hamill waved her cigarette toward the pictured Yvonne. "Isn't she simply magnificent?"

Bones said she was."

"Don't you think I'm fortunate to be acquiring such a decorative daughter-in-law?"

Bones did think so.

Mrs. Hamill blew an amazing cloud of smoke from a mouth like a scarlet letter O and asked, "Have you seen the original?"

"No, I haven't."

"That's too bad! I haven't either, yet, and I wanted you to tell me about her. All I can get out of Jock is that she has promised to marry him, that she has red hair, and that, to quote him, 'they broke the mould after they made her.' Having said which he appears to believe that I'm well enough informed."

"He sure is dippy about her," Bones contributed.

"He must be! Last night from home he talked to her on the telephone for one hour, and I—"

"Is that where he's been? He's been home?"

"Why, yes. Where else?"

"I—I didn't know. He went without saying anything to anybody—"

"Sit down," directed Mrs. Hamill gently. "I want to talk to you a little before Jock comes back — he's over at the Dean's office just at present. He's leaving college, you know. I drove down with him today ostensibly to pack up his things, but really I'm here for a different reason. In fact, Bones," she smiled deliciously at him, "you see in me a lioness fighting to protect her cub, because the cub, though well equipped to protect himself, declines resolutely to do so!"

She quashed out her cigarette and sat very straight, holding one crossed knee in the cup of her hands. "I need your help. Briefly, here's what's happened: Jock got home at three o'clock yesterday morning, having left that Mrs. Hathaway's house in the early evening in such a state of mind that—well, he was almost beside himself, poor lamb. To my surprise, for he's usually very reticent as you no doubt know, he was anxious to confide in me. And did. He told me the whole story of his connection with the Hathaways, of the man's death, and of the slander that has attached itself to him on account of the woman—"

"It's her fault!" Bones interrupted at this point. "She's promoted it every way she can think of—"

"I gathered that. I gathered a great many things Jock didn't actually say. I think I know exactly the sort of woman Mrs. Hathaway is."

"She's the goddamnedest—I'm sorry, Mrs. Hamill—"

"Don't apologize. You haven't said a tenth of what I think. Now, she has informed Jock that in view of the talk that links their names, he should feel obliged to marry her. I know!" she continued hastily, as Bones seemed on the point of exploding. "I know just how it affects you. It affects me the same way. It's the most farcical thing that ever happened. But the trouble is, Jock has worked himself to the point where he actually is convinced that he should! Some misguided notion of chivalry and honor. Naturally, since he's engaged to Miss Mountford and head over heels in love with her, the prospect—"

Mrs. Hamill allowed a moment's silence to imply that the prospect was too dismaying for expression. She looked at Bones, and knew a deep little warmth. "Just sick about it" she decided mentally. "Bless his old heart!"

She leaned toward him confidently, and Bones leaned also, so that their tete-a-tete took on the semblance of a conspiracy. "Do you know where Jock keeps his strong-box?" she queried. "You do? Well, in that strong-box, right this minute, there's a letter written by Bradley Hathaway giving the reasons for his suicide—which, incidentally, do not involve Jock in any remotest way. Don't you think it might help matters if we took possession of that letter?"

"Say! There isn't!"

"Yes there is. Jock told me so himself."

"Why, say, gee, but—" Bones was spluttering wildly in his excitement. "But he always vowed up and down he didn't have an idea why Brad crocked off! I bet I've asked him a thousand times!"

"Jock," said Mrs. Hamill quietly and proudly, "is sometimes very nearly too fine for this world. Of course this time he's been a fool. But rather an admirable fool. I declare, when he was telling me all this, I didn't know whether to kiss him or to slap him hard!" . . . Seeing Bones cross the room and begin to burrow into a closet purposefully, she added, "Yes, get it now, before he comes. I have no conscience whatever in this matter and I rejoice to perceive that you haven't either, but if Jock catches us at it—"

"Hell will pop," finished Bones concisely, emerging. He clutched the strong box, an oblong tin receptacle bruised with dents and scratches. "Don't know where the key is, I'll have to break the lock."

"Do."

He laid the box, open, in Mrs. Hamill's lap, and she explored its contents with flying fingers. Verses, innumerable verses, scrawled in pencil on smudgy papers of divers sorts and sizes. Two little black notebooks. A snapshot of a laughing blonde in a canoe. A package of purple-inked billets-doux, eloquent of some last-year's love. A swollen envelope marked "Keep" with an elastic girdling its middle. A wedding invitation that bore the notation "Sic transit Gloria" in Jock's handwriting across the face of it. A sheaf of clippings from newspapers and magazines. A typewritten copy of a lecture on sex by Professor Somebody of Columbia University. An address book, nude of covers. A page torn from a theatre program with "Lisette LaLune, Plaza 3500" on the margin. . . .

What Are Doing For Your Puny Child?

One Boy Gained 11 Pounds in 7 Weeks and Is Now Strong and Healthy.

For weak, frail, under-developed children—and especially those that have rickets, and need a sure builder that promotes the growth of teeth and bones, Cod Liver Oil is the one medicine supreme—nothing helps like it.

But it is nasty and repulsive and evil smelling and nearly always upsets children's stomachs—so now up-to-date chemists advise McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets.

Children love them as they do candy, because they are sugar coated and easy to take. One boy gained 11½ pounds in seven weeks, and is now healthy and happy—thousands of other children have grown strong and robust.

Sixty tablets for 60c at Mathews Med. Store and all druggists—but be sure and insist on McCoy's—the original and genuine.

Give them to the sickly, frail child for 30 days, and if they don't help—wonderfully, your druggist is authorized to hand you back the money you paid for them.

STOP BAD BREATH

People afflicted with bad breath find quick relief through Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. The pleasant, sugar-coated tablets are taken for bad breath by all who know them.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets act gently but firmly on the bowels and liver, stimulating them to natural action, clearing the blood and gently purifying the entire system. They do that which dangerous calomel does without any of the bad after effects.

Olive Tablets bring no griping, pain or any disagreeable effects.

Dr. F. M. Edwards discovered the formula after 20 years of practice among patients afflicted with bowel and liver complaint, with the attendant bad breath.

Olive Tablets are purely a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil; you will know them by their olive color. Take nightly for a week and note the effect. 15c, 30c, 60c. All Druggists.

BOOK FOUR—III.

Bones Allen, like many gentlemen of his years and proclivities, was afraid of other gentlemen's mothers. He regarded them as unnecessary and even obnoxious, and the habit they had of seeming to look straight through his skin to his soul disconcerted him to the writhing point. "Mothers" was a vituperative term in Bones' diction; it included all maternal ancestors above ground except his own, and preceded the phrase "cramp my style" as inevitably as, in gastronomic diction, "bread" precedes "and butter."

Wherefore the news that his roommate's mother, whom he had never met, was even now ensconced in his room and awaiting him, became as a light but provoking blow of misfortune. "The devil she is!" he said, and betook himself thither with sighs.

His initial thought was that there had been a mistake. This daintily shapely person standing alone in the room with her back toward him could be no mother. Why this was a girl! . . . Then she faced about and he saw that she was not a girl but that she must have been one very recently. People often had that feeling about Mrs. Hamill.

"Hello, Bones," she said. "For of course that's who you are."

"How-d'y'-do. Awfully glad."

They shook hands. Mrs. Hamill sank down on the window-seat and opened the platinum cigarette case monogrammed in sapphires that hung from a chain on her arm, extending it invitingly. Bones accepted one. His peace of mind was returning.

"I've just been looking at her," Mrs. Hamill waved her cigarette toward the pictured Yvonne. "Isn't she simply magnificent?"

Bones said she was."

"Don't you think I'm fortunate to be acquiring such a decorative daughter-in-law?"

Bones did think so.

Mrs. Hamill blew an amazing cloud of smoke from a mouth like a scarlet letter O and asked, "Have you seen the original?"

"No, I haven't."

"That's too bad! I haven't either, yet, and I wanted you to tell me about her. All I can get out of Jock is that she has promised to marry him, that she has red hair, and that, to quote him, 'they broke the mould after they made her.' Having said which he appears to believe that I'm well enough informed."

"He sure is dippy about her," Bones contributed.

"He must be! Last night from home he talked to her on the telephone for one hour, and I—"

"Is that where he's been? He's been home?"

"Why, yes. Where else?"

"I—I didn't know. He went without saying anything to anybody—"

"Sit down," directed Mrs. Hamill gently. "I want to talk to you a little before Jock comes back — he's over at the Dean's office just at present. He's leaving college, you know. I drove down with him today ostensibly to pack up his things, but really I'm here for a different reason. In fact, Bones," she smiled deliciously at him, "you see in me a lioness fighting to protect her cub, because the cub, though well equipped to protect himself, declines resolutely to do so!"

She quashed out her cigarette and sat very straight, holding one crossed knee in the cup of her hands. "I need your help. Briefly, here's what's happened: Jock got home at three o'clock yesterday morning, having left that Mrs. Hathaway's house in the early evening in such a state of mind that—well, he was almost beside himself, poor lamb. To my surprise, for he's usually very reticent as you no doubt know, he was anxious to confide in me. And did. He told me the whole story of his connection with the Hathaways, of the man's death, and of the slander that has attached itself to him on account of the woman—"

"It's her fault!" Bones interrupted at this point. "She's promoted it every way she can think of—"

"I gathered that. I gathered a great many things Jock didn't actually say. I think I know exactly the sort of woman Mrs. Hathaway is."

"She's the goddamnedest—I'm sorry, Mrs. Hamill—"

"Don't apologize. You haven't said a tenth of what I think. Now, she has informed Jock that in view of the talk that links their names, he should feel obliged to marry her. I know!" she continued hastily, as Bones seemed on the point of exploding. "I know just how it affects you. It affects me the same way. It's the most farcical thing that ever happened. But the trouble is, Jock has worked himself to the point where he actually is convinced that he should! Some misguided notion of chivalry and honor. Naturally, since he's engaged to Miss Mountford and head over heels in love with her, the prospect—"

Mrs. Hamill allowed a moment's silence to imply that the prospect was too dismaying for expression. She looked at Bones, and knew a deep little warmth. "Just sick about it" she decided mentally. "Bless his old heart!"

She leaned toward him confidently, and Bones leaned also, so that their tete-a-tete took on the semblance of a conspiracy. "Do you know where Jock keeps his strong-box?" she queried. "You do? Well, in that strong-box, right this minute, there's a letter written by Bradley Hathaway giving the reasons for his suicide—which, incidentally, do not involve Jock in any remotest way. Don't you think it might help matters if we took possession of that letter?"

"Say! There isn't!"

"Yes there is. Jock told me so himself."

"Why, say, gee, but—" Bones was spluttering wildly in his excitement. "But he always vowed up and down he didn't have an idea why Brad crocked off! I bet I've asked him a thousand times!"

"Jock," said Mrs. Hamill quietly and proudly, "is sometimes very nearly too fine for this world. Of course this time he's been a fool. But rather an admirable fool. I declare, when he was telling me all this, I didn't know whether to kiss him or to slap him hard!" . . . Seeing Bones cross the room and begin to burrow into a closet purposefully, she added, "Yes, get it now, before he comes. I have no conscience whatever in this matter and I rejoice to perceive that you haven't either, but if Jock catches us at it—"

"Hell will pop," finished Bones concisely, emerging. He clutched the strong box, an oblong tin receptacle bruised with dents and scratches. "Don't know where the key is, I'll have to break the lock."

"Do."

He laid the box, open, in Mrs. Hamill's lap, and she explored its contents with flying fingers. Verses, innumerable verses, scrawled in pencil on smudgy papers of divers sorts and sizes. Two little black notebooks. A snapshot of a laughing blonde in a canoe. A package of purple-inked billets-doux, eloquent of some last-year's love. A swollen envelope marked "Keep" with an elastic girding its middle. A wedding invitation that bore the notation "Sic transit Gloria" in Jock's handwriting across the face of it. A sheaf of clippings from newspapers and magazines. A typewritten copy of a lecture on sex by Professor Somebody of Columbia University. An address book, nude of covers. A page torn from a theatre program with "Lisette LaLune, Plaza 3500" on the margin. . . .

What Are Doing For Your Puny Child?

One Boy Gained 11 Pounds in 7 Weeks and Is Now Strong and Healthy.

For weak, frail, under-developed children—and especially those that have rickets, and need a sure builder that promotes the growth of teeth and bones, Cod Liver Oil is the one medicine supreme—nothing helps like it.

But it is nasty and repulsive and evil smelling and nearly always upsets children's stomachs—so now up-to-date chemists advise McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets.

Children love them as they do candy, because they are sugar coated and easy to take. One boy gained 11½ pounds in seven weeks, and is now healthy and happy—thousands of other children have grown strong and robust.

Sixty tablets for 60c at Mathews Med. Store and all druggists—but be sure and insist on McCoy's—the original and genuine.

Give them to the sickly, frail child for 30 days, and if they don't help—wonderfully, your druggist is authorized to hand you back the money you paid for them.

STOP BAD BREATH

People afflicted with bad breath find quick relief through Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. The pleasant, sugar-coated tablets are taken for bad breath by all who know them.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets act gently but firmly on the bowels and liver, stimulating them to natural action, clearing the blood and gently purifying the entire system. They do that which dangerous calomel does without any of the bad after effects.

Olive Tablets bring no griping, pain or any disagreeable effects.

Dr. F. M. Edwards discovered the formula after 20 years of practice among patients afflicted with bowel and liver complaint, with the attendant bad breath.

Olive Tablets are purely a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil; you will know them by their olive color. Take nightly for a week and note the effect. 15c, 30c, 60c. All Druggists.

SICK CHILDREN LOVE "CASCARETS" FOR THE BOWELS

Get a 10-cent box now.

Most of the ills of childhood are caused by a sour, disordered stomach, sluggish liver and constipated bowels. They catch cold easily, become cross, listless, irritable, feverish, restless, tongue coated, don't eat or sleep well and need a gentle cleansing of the bowels—but don't try to force a nauseating dose of oil into the little one's already sick stomach—it is cruel, needless and old-fashioned.

Any child will gladly take Cascarets Candy Cathartic which act gently—never gripe or produce the slightest uneasiness—though they cleanse the little one's system, sweeten the stomach and put the liver and bowels in a pure, healthy condition.

Full directions for children and grown-ups in each package.

Mothers can rest easy after giving this gentle, thorough laxative which costs only 10 cents a box at any drug store.

King's Herald of the M. E. church will meet with Miss Erma Dyke Thursday evening.

Rally day was observed in the Presbyterian church Sunday with a large attendance. Rev. F. W. Ferber, of Mercer, Pa., former pastor, delivered the sermon. Program was rendered at the Sunday school hour.

The Love Thief

IT was only natural, perhaps, that Barbara's heart should beat a little quicker when she first met Norman Parish. To be sure, he told Barbara nothing about himself—but his brown eyes laughed so frankly, and he seemed so perfect a gentleman, that she had no suspicion he was not everything he seemed to be.

And then one night, when he came to her, his slow step and the wretched look in his eyes instantly told her that something was wrong. But she did not dream of the terrible drama that was about to unfold, and in which she was to play so tragic a part. Could Barbara have been warned in time, she might have been saved the crushing remorse and bitter sorrow that were to darken her life for many years to come.

Don't fail to read Barbara's story in the November issue of True Story Magazine. The story is complete, starting on page 31—and is only one of the 18 thrilling true-life narratives that appear in the November issue of this intensely interesting magazine.

Other Absorbing Features in November True Story Are:

"Cheaters"—A young wife, with too little to occupy her mind, Alice soon came to regard her search for diversion as a quite harmless but thrilling pastime. Certainly it was with no thought of wrong that she eagerly accepted the invitation of a woman acquaintance to take her to places of doubtful reputation where she could "see a little of life." But Alice's very eagerness was to lead her blindly into a most terrible situation, and was to teach her a lesson she can never forget. A powerful, thought-compelling true story.

Minister Praises True Story

If all publications that are now before the public received the careful scrutiny and thorough inspection that the Macfadden publications receive I am satisfied that there would soon be a great change for the better in home and community life. One of the greatest tasks of a rural minister's life is to combat the great evil that has been for years encroaching stealthily but surely upon the spiritual life of his people through the poisoning of the mind by indiscriminate reading.

May success attend your every effort for purer and cleaner living as you continue your good work of publishing the TRUTH.

Sincerely yours,
Rev. Walter E. Brooks

"Mad Love"—Like many another girl who is misled by the false glamour of a "movie" career, Ruth dreamed of the day when she would have the world at her feet. So with beauty and ambition as her sole capital, she set out to conquer fame in the studios. Of course, there could be only one result, and she might have profited by her defeat if she had not fallen madly in love with a popular screen idol. Today it is all like a terrible dream, which she feels will never be erased from her memory.

SICK CHILDREN LOVE "CASCARETS" FOR THE BOWELS

Get a 10-cent box now.

Most of the ills of childhood are caused by a sour, disordered stomach, sluggish liver and constipated bowels. They catch cold easily, become cross, listless, irritable, feverish, restless, tongue coated, don't eat or sleep well and need a gentle cleansing of the bowels—but don't try to force a nauseating dose of oil into the little one's already sick stomach—it is cruel, needless and old-fashioned.

Any child will gladly take Cascarets Candy Cathartic which act gently—never gripe or produce the slightest uneasiness—though they cleanse the little one's system, sweeten the stomach and put the liver and bowels in a pure, healthy condition.

Full directions for children and grown-ups in each package.

Mothers can rest easy after giving this gentle, thorough laxative which costs only 10 cents a box at any drug store.

WELLSVILLE SCHOOLS APPEAL FOR LEVY APPROVAL

FOUR-MILL TAX ISSUE GOES ON FALL BALLOT

Additional Funds are Needed to Meet Expenses.

OLD LEVY ENDS

Three Mills Voted in 1923 Proved Insufficient.

Appeal to Wellsville electors for the ratification of the four-mill tax levy which will be submitted at the general election on November 2, was made today by the Wellsville board of education.

Three-mill levy granted for the operation of the schools three years ago has expired and additional funds, school authorities point out, will be necessary if the present schedule is to be maintained.

The levy voted in 1923 was in itself insufficient to handle operating expenses, a deficit of approximately $15,000 arising last year.

At the November election voters will be asked to renew the old levy and vote an additional mill which is expected to provide sufficient additional funds, over and above that raised by the three mills, to meet the financial burden.

Renewal of the three-mill levy plus the one mill additional is asked for a period of five years.

Through this method, the board expects to be able to meet obligations as they arise, instead of being compelled to borrow money or issue bonds, both being expensive.

3 ways this House Paint Excels

Its superior beauty durability and economy established by three practical tests

The Weather Machine Test—Panels covered with Devoe paint are placed upon the slowly turning wheel of the "weather machine" in our factories, and subjected to the heat, cold and wet that paint must withstand in actual use before it is put into the can.

The Pigment Test—Six pigments used in house paint—white lead, white zinc, magnesium silicate, barytes, china clay, and silica—were mixed with linseed oil and applied to a black panel. White Lead and White Zinc—the pigments, used in Devoe Lead and Zinc House Paint are the only pigments that completely cover and hide the black surface.

The Spreading Test—Tested by practical painters and laboratories, over and over again Devoe paint has proved its superior spreading and covering capacity.

It is guaranteed to give satisfaction when applied according to directions.

FOUR-MILL TAX ISSUE GOES ON FALL BALLOT

Additional Funds are Needed to Meet Expenses.

OLD LEVY ENDS

Three Mills Voted in 1923 Proved Insufficient.

Appeal to Wellsville electors for the ratification of the four-mill tax levy which will be submitted at the general election on November 2, was made today by the Wellsville board of education.

Three-mill levy granted for the operation of the schools three years ago has expired and additional funds, school authorities point out, will be necessary if the present schedule is to be maintained.

The levy voted in 1923 was in itself insufficient to handle operating expenses, a deficit of approximately $15,000 arising last year.

At the November election voters will be asked to renew the old levy and vote an additional mill which is expected to provide sufficient additional funds, over and above that raised by the three mills, to meet the financial burden.

Renewal of the three-mill levy plus the one mill additional is asked for a period of five years.

Through this method, the board expects to be able to meet obligations as they arise, instead of being compelled to borrow money or issue bonds, both being expensive.

MINE WORKERS IN BIG DEMAND

One thousand miners could be placed in jobs at mines in the Kanawha, New River and Fairmont districts by C. M. O'Neal, examiner in charge of the federal and state labor bureau, it was announced at Mr. O'Neal's office in the old temporary capitol building at Charleston yesterday.

Mr. O'Neal had a number of photostatic copies of payrolls at various mines which he is using to show that the miners in the three districts are receiving good wages. The men at work, he said, are averaging $100 every two weeks so long as they continue on their jobs without lay-offs.

Labor agents from other states, recently have visited Mr. O'Neal for the purpose of assembling men to take away for work, but he was forced to decline giving any assistance because of the demand for workers in West Virginia.

Child-birth

THOUSANDS of mothers for over three generations have praised Mother's Friend for relieving them of unnecessary pains during expectancy.

"Everyone was surprised how well I got along," writes Mrs. Alfred E. Ammon, Muncie, Ind. "My pains disappeared after using Mother's Friend and I was sick only an hour and a half at baby's birth."

Mother's Friend is the formula of an eminent physician. It is made from a combination of highly refined oils and other wonderful ingredients and is for outward application. Mother's Friend aids the skin and muscles to expand more easily during the constant readjustment of expectancy, month after month, right up to childbirth.

Mother! Insist on Mother's Friend—the same as used by our mothers and grandmothers—don't wait—start using tonight—and meanwhile write Bradfield Regulator Co., Dept. 33, Atlanta, Ga., for free valuable booklet "Motherhood and the Coming Baby" (sent in plain envelope). It tells how Mother's Friend can help you during expectancy and at childbirth. This booklet also tells you many other things you want to know. "Mother's Friend" is sold by all druggists—everywhere.

more food Space

FACTS

This is one of the reasons why there are more Frigidaires in use than all other electric refrigerators combined. Additional reasons are shown in other advertisements.

FRIGIDAIRE provides greater food space than other electric refrigerators of equal size. This is because the highly efficient and economical frost coil, an exclusive Frigidaire feature, occupies less space than the brine tank previously used, permitting greater food storage capacity in a cabinet of any given size. Larger supplies of perishable foods can be carried at one time.

Greater food capacity, quieter operation, freedom from vibration, lower operating cost, a wider range of models, the more precise engineering and manufacturing methods of General Motors, greater beauty of design, proven dependability in service—these are the things that have made Frigidaire the choice of the overwhelming majority of users of electric refrigerators.

Come to our display room, telephone, or mail coupon below for complete information.

more food Space

FACTS — This is one of the reasons why there are more Frigidaires in use than all other electric refrigerators combined. Added Vanad reasons are covered in other advertisements.

FRIGIDAIRE provides greater food space than other electric refrigerators of equal size. This is because the highly efficient and economical frost coil, an exclusive Frigidaire feature, occupies less space than the brine tank previously used, permitting greater food storage capacity in a cabinet of any given size. Larger supplies of perishable foods can be carried at one time.

Greater food capacity, quieter operation, freedom from vibration, lower operating cost, a wider range of models, the more precise engineering and manufacturing methods of General Motors, greater beauty of design, proven dependability in service—these are the things that have made Frigidaire the choice of the overwhelming majority of users of electric refrigerators.

County Teams Launch Drives for Annual Scholastic Title

Kidder's Crew to Mix With East Palestine; May Try Pass Attack

After Defeat by Columbiana, Leetonia Drills Strenuously for Clash at Wellsville; Chester Gridders go Into Action at Weirton.

PLUNGING into their annual intra-county contests in quest of victories and the 1926 county scholastic grid championship, four of the circuit's half-dozen leading contenders for the honors will be in action along the Ohio valley Saturday, games being scheduled here and at Wellsville.

Coach George Kidder's Blue and White's combine will take on East Palestine, the game marking the Brown and White's first road trip of the campaign, and Wellsville will entertain the Leetonia eleven which last Saturday bowed to a strong Columbiana squad, 6-0.

Ray Wilde's Chester eleven, which lost by a slim margin at Follansbee last Saturday, again will perform before hostile crowds being booked for grid duty at Weirton and the outcome of the clash will determine to a great extent Chester's hopes for the Hancock county championship.

East Palestine is figuring the game here Saturday as one of the two "classics" of the Brown and White card this season and is preparing accordingly.

Although proud of their 19-0 conquest over Salineville last Saturday the East Palestine pigskin contingent is keen enough to realize that it will face a different brand of opposition this week and is not counting any top strongly on a victory. The north countians have not yet played an opponent of sufficient strength to determine for a certainty the team's real power.

Not likely to face the hammer and tongs variety of attack handed out by the heavy East Akron outfit in the most recent game of the season here, Coach Kidder may elect to fling a few passes Saturday or try out several new plays that the squad has been working on this week.

Their passes worked more than ordinarily successfully in the recent scrimmage at Columbian park, with Jack Bromby on the heaving end and Lincoln taking them in.

Coach Klinck's Wellsville team developed a powerful attack last Saturday against Dover, with Calhoun as the main spring of the onslaught, and only an inopportune fumble on the part of the Wellsville safety man on a Dover punt, which gave the visitors their chance to score, prevented a Wellsville victory.

Leetonia came out of the Columbiana game in good physical condition although mentally conditions were not any too pleasing as a result of Columbiana's surprising victory. In consequence of the setback the Leetonia squad is drilling hard and heavy this week in atonement for its gridiron sins.

The Chester eleven yesterday was presented with a medicine kit for emergency use in its future games. The kit was the gift of F. S. Huff, druggist, and G. L. Douglass, cashier of the First bank.

"TOUGH LUCK" ELEVENS CLASH

Mount and Case Renew "Friendly Grid Grudge."

ALLIANCE, O., Oct. 14.—The two "hard luck" teams of northern Ohio will clash here Saturday when Mount Union college and Case play off their annual "friendly grid grudge."

Last Saturday, Mount Union lost to Oberlin, 7-2, on a blocked kick in the final stages of a hectic struggle on Mount field. While this was in progress Case dropped a similar "hard luck" bout to Wooster, 7-0, on a fumbled ball just as the curtain was about to drop upon a scoreless tie.

In two years Mount has suffered but one touchdown from scrimmage—this on a 30-yard run in the Miami game. Mistakes made in the Oberlin game are being corrected this week. Mount's half-and-half team—half veterans and half green men, is expected to hit its stride in the Case game.

Already indications point to a record crowd here Saturday. Past years have proven that Case is more of a drawing card here than in Cleveland and for that reason the Scientists' sked makers have booked Mount at Alliance on several successive years.

Saints Show Power.

CINCINNATI — Joe Meyer, head football coach of St. Xavier, was so pleased with the showing of his men against the Marines Saturday that he cut the workout short yesterday. Tomorrow preparations for the game with the University of Louisville will be started in earnest.

Hiram Has Light Drill.

HIRAM — Considerably battered as a result of its game with Western Reserve Saturday, Hiram was given a light workout yesterday. Injuries suffered by Broadhurst, quarterback, will keep him out of the game for the rest of the season, necessitating reconstruction of the entire backfield.

LOUGHRAN SET FOR BURKE GO

Winds Up Training in Chicago for Monday Bout.

CHICAGO, Oct. 14.—Tommy Loughran, Philadelphia heavyweight, and one of the host of potential challengers for the crown of Gene Tunney, is due in Chicago today to complete training for his ten-round bout here Monday with Martin Burke, of New Orleans.

Loughran will do his boxing and bag punching at a local gymnasium, and his road work in Lincoln Park. By virtue of his showing against Jack Dempsey while acting as the latter's sparring partner, the Philadelphia fighter is rated as one of the foremost candidates for the heavyweight title.

Burke has been here since Tuesday and is reported in first class shape for Monday's setto. Although Marty is a big fellow with a powerful punch, Loughran is favored to whip him.

INSIDE GOLF

By CHESTER HORTON,
Maker of 81 Golf Champions.
"Golf's most successful teacher," says "Chick" Evans.

It should be obvious to the average golfer that in order to bring about a pressure from the entire right side against the shaft in the forward swing, he should keep his back swing rather short. By short I mean that the arms should go only about shoulder high, and there stop. Don't force them up. Instead, let the shoulder turn to the right slightly. An inch of turn to the right with the shoulders, at this particular point in the swing, is worth ten feet of stretching the arms upward and backward. Power does not spring from the arms. It comes from a co-ordination of body, shoulders and arms, and, lastly, wrists and of all these the most power comes from the body and the shoulders and the least from the arms. When the shaft is just below a straight up position in the back swing it is at the top. Stop it there, then go forward with the entire right side of the body pushing against it.

BURNS GIVEN PLAYER AWARD

Cleveland First Baseman Gets 63 Out of 64 Points.

CHICAGO, Oct. 14.—George H. Burns, Cleveland first baseman, has been voted the most valuable player in the American league for the season of 1926.

Burns, with 13 years of major league service, was the choice of eight well known sport writers engaged by American league officials to make the selection.

The balloting was practically unanimous in favor of the Cleveland first baseman. He obtained 63 points out of a possible 64.

This choice places the name of Burns on the American league honor roll along with the names of Ruth, Cobb, Speaker, Collins, Peckinpaugh, Sisler and Johnson.

John Mostil, of the Chicago White Sox, was the second choice of the award committee. He received only half as many votes as Burns. One vote behind Mostil came Herb Pennock, of the New York Yankees. Then came Sam Rice, of Washington, and Harry Heilmann, of Detroit, with 18 and 16 points respectively.

The names of 26 players were considered by the award committee.

Columbia on Defense For Buckeye Attack; Marty Karow Feared

Coach Crowley Hopes to Perfect Defense That Will Stop Disastrous Plunges of Ohio Back; Only Three Regulars Will Start Game Saturday for Eastern Combine.

By Davis J. Walsh.

NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—It seems to be generally understood that one doesn't drive in that run from first base with a spectacular base on balls nor score a knockout by making the other gent miss. Therefore the writer is disposed to believe that Columbia university will not be greatly irritated on Saturday if it doesn't finish worse than second to Ohio State, the first Big Ten team ever to show in New York.

The official attitude at Columbia today was strictly a defensive one and the only thing they regretted was that they couldn't say the same for their football team. The latter, it seemed, wasn't strictly anything in particular.

"We are concentrating on stopping Karow," was Charley Crowley's summation. "He tore our line apart last year, forced us to play seven men up and left us without an adequate defense against the passing game. We are hoping to perfect a defense that will allow us to play six men on the line and let the center rove."

What Crowley might have said was that he was trying to accomplish two ends and that neither of them were easy. He hopes to stop a good line plunger with a set of inexperienced forwards and at the some time use a running attack of his own inside and outside of tackle. He happens to have two fair plunging backs in Madden and Sesit but they will need to be better than that to click with any degree of regularity behind a green line.

As far as the Columbia-Ohio State affair is concerned, I think the boys on the heights are prepared to throw that one out and start all over again. Columbia is not the team it was last year and the Buckeye is better; in fact, it is said to have assembled its best array since the championship output of 1920. Incidentally, that superior Columbia team of 1925 lost to that unrepresentative Ohio State eleven by 9 to 0. You can figure that one up without using the fingers.

Only three 1925 regulars will start the game for Columbia—Madden and Sesit in the backfield and Brady at end. The others were substitutes or worse last year. Pease, quarterback, is gone. So are Wagner, a fine end; Kirchmeyer, a back; and Schimetitsch, Wiberg, Aulick and Raphael. Some of these worthies may not have been so hot but at least they had big game experience.

The only forwards in the present squad who can say the same are Reyolds and Alkoff and they serve to give the right side of the line a rather superior aspect, with Brady playing right end. The others, French, center; Shaw, left guard; Kerrigan, left tackle and Furey, left end, never have faced an outfit of Ohio State's speed and general class.

I can imagine that the boys' education will be somewhat amplified when Otto Hess begins to roam around through the line; Karow comes plunging in and Marek and Eby are turned loose on the ends.

Crowley, a product of rather contradictory systems at Harvard and Notre Dame, seems to be a confirmed conservative and I don't know what I blame him, in this case. One doesn't feel the urge to break a neighbor's windows with only a sponge available.

The injury to Empringham has necessitated a backfield shift and, with Norris at fullback, it is likely that Columbia will employ the old Harvard idea of kicking early and often and waiting for the break, if any. Rieger, a fast man, will be used as quarterback but with the huddle system in operation, it is possible that Captain Madden will share the burden of generalship or whatever it is the boys kid themselves about.

It is possible the writer has given the impression that he doesn't think Columbia is much of a football team. It isn't.

BUCKEYE ELEVEN OFF FOR NEW YORK

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 14.—Ohio State's squad, 34 strong, leaves at 6:30 tonight and will arrive in New York at 9 tomorrow morning for Saturday's game with Columbia. The team will go through a short practice session, devoted largely to signal drill, this afternoon.

Elmer Marek, star halfback, still is nursing an injured shoulder and may not see service against Columbia.

Expect To Down Kent.

TIFFIN—Heidelberg gridders went through a snappy practice yesterday. The squad is in excellent condition after the Otterbein victory and is confident of putting the Kent Normal game this week-end on the victory ledger.

GLIMPSES FROM THE SIDELINES

Penn Star Laid Up.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 14.—Al Wascolonis, Penn's star fullback, is laid up with a leg injury and may not start against Chicago Saturday. The Chicago eleven will work out here tomorrow.

New York To Rest.

NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—No scrimmage will be ordered for the New York University eleven today. Captain Briante and other regulars are recovering from injuries and the coaches want them to be in the best possible shape for the Tulane game.

Noble Back In Game.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Oct. 14.—Larry Noble, Yale's veteran back, will replace Bruce Caldwell, who sprained his ankle yesterday, in the Dartmouth game. Dummy scrimmage will be held today.

Dooley On Sidelines.

HANOVER, N. J., Oct. 14.—Eddie Dooley, newlywed and Dartmouth's all-American quarterback, may be replaced in the Yale game Saturday by Bob Harris, a sophomore. Dooley has been kept on the sidelines for two consecutive days.

Navy Chances Hurt.

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Oct. 14.—Navy's chances of victory against Princeton have received a severe setback because of the loss of Alan Shapley, triple threat backfield star, from injuries. Jake Cross, left guard, and Hardwick, right end, are also out.

Tigers Not Over Confident.

PRINCETON, N. J., Oct. 14.—Princeton is not over-confident of defeating the Navy on Saturday following the varsity's poor showing yesterday. The regulars made only one touchdown against the scrubs.

Clinches Center Job.

NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—George French has clinched the Columbia center post for the Ohio State contest. The coaches today will concentrate on perfecting a defense against the Buckeye passing game.

Harvard Defense Poor.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Oct. 14.—Harvard probably will present a poor defense against William and Mary on Saturday. The scrubs scored on the varsity yesterday.

Orange In Great Shape.

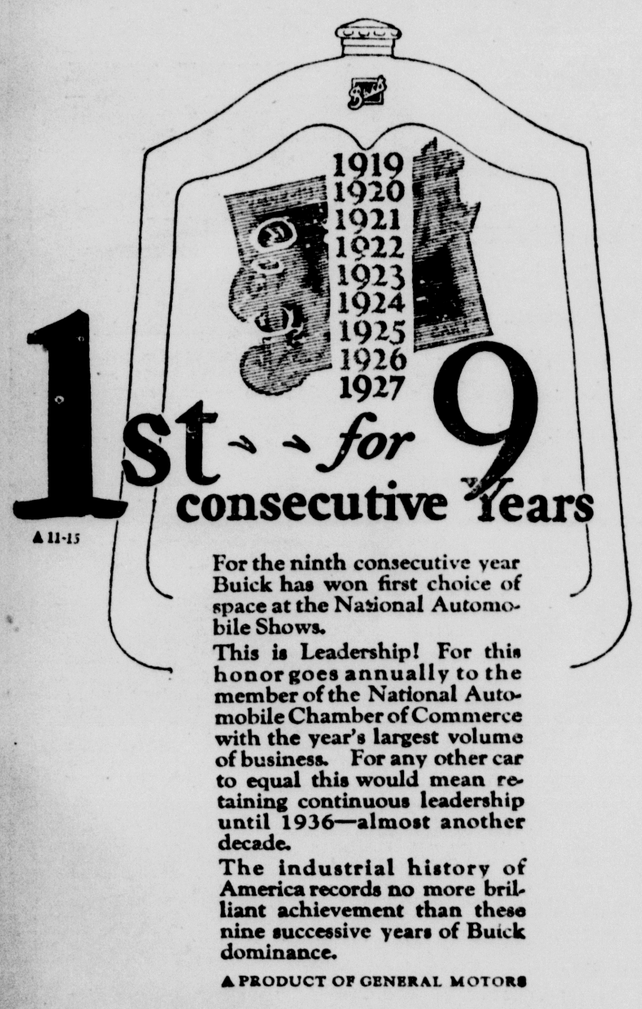

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Oct. 14.—The Orange team is in splendid condition for the Army game. Playing against the freshmen, the varsity made four touchdowns in twenty minutes.

Prepare Pass Defense.

WEST POINT, N. Y., Oct. 14.—Defense against the forward pass features Army's preparations for the Syracuse game. The coaches are pleased with the team's progress.

Huddle System At Cornell.

ITHACA, N. Y., Oct. 14.—Cornell may use the huddle system against Michigan on Saturday and in future games. The team has mastered the shift in this week's practice.

Incidentally, that superior Columbia team of 1925 lost to that unrepresentative Ohio State eleven by 9 to 0. You can figure that one up without using the fingers.

Only three 1925 regulars will start the game for Columbia—Madden and Sesit in the backfield and Brady at end. The others were substitutes or worse last year. Pease, quarterback, is gone. So are Wagner, a fine end; Kirchmeyer, a back; and Schimetitsch, Wiberg, Aulick and Raphael. Some of these worthies may not have been so hot but at least they had big game experience.

The only forwards in the present squad who can say the same are Reyolds and Alkoff and they serve to give the right side of the line a rather superior aspect, with Brady playing right end. The others, French, center; Shaw, left guard; Kerrigan, left tackle and Furey, left end, never have faced an outfit of Ohio State's speed and general class.

I can imagine that the boys' education will be somewhat amplified when Otto Hess begins to roam around through the line; Karow comes plunging in and Marek and Eby are turned loose on the ends.

Crowley, a product of rather contradictory systems at Harvard and Notre Dame, seems to be a confirmed conservative and I don't know what I blame him, in this case. One doesn't feel the urge to break a neighbor's windows with only a sponge available.

The injury to Empringham has necessitated a backfield shift and, with Norris at fullback, it is likely that Columbia will employ the old Harvard idea of kicking early and often and waiting for the break, if any. Rieger, a fast man, will be used as quarterback but with the huddle system in operation, it is possible that Captain Madden will share the burden of generalship or whatever it is the boys kid themselves about.

It is possible the writer has given the impression that he doesn't think Columbia is much of a football team. It isn't.

BUCKEYE ELEVEN OFF FOR NEW YORK

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 14.—Ohio State's squad, 34 strong, leaves at 6:30 tonight and will arrive in New York at 9 tomorrow morning for Saturday's game with Columbia. The team will go through a short practice session, devoted largely to signal drill, this afternoon.

Elmer Marek, star halfback, still is nursing an injured shoulder and may not see service against Columbia.

Expect To Down Kent.

TIFFIN—Heidelberg gridders went through a snappy practice yesterday. The squad is in excellent condition after the Otterbein victory and is confident of putting the Kent Normal game this week-end on the victory ledger.

GLIMPSES FROM THE SIDELINES

Penn Star Laid Up.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 14.—Al Wascolonis, Penn's star fullback, is laid up with a leg injury and may not start against Chicago Saturday. The Chicago eleven will work out here tomorrow.

New York To Rest.

NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—No scrimmage will be ordered for the New York University eleven today. Captain Briante and other regulars are recovering from injuries and the coaches want them to be in the best possible shape for the Tulane game.

Noble Back In Game.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Oct. 14.—Larry Noble, Yale's veteran back, will replace Bruce Caldwell, who sprained his ankle yesterday, in the Dartmouth game. Dummy scrimmage will be held today.

Dooley On Sidelines.

HANOVER, N. J., Oct. 14.—Eddie Dooley, newlywed and Dartmouth's all-American quarterback, may be replaced in the Yale game Saturday by Bob Harris, a sophomore. Dooley has been kept on the sidelines for two consecutive days.

Navy Chances Hurt.

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Oct. 14.—Navy's chances of victory against Princeton have received a severe setback because of the loss of Alan Shapley, triple threat backfield star, from injuries. Jake Cross, left guard, and Hardwick, right end, are also out.

Tigers Not Over Confident.

PRINCETON, N. J., Oct. 14.—Princeton is not over-confident of defeating the Navy on Saturday following the varsity's poor showing yesterday. The regulars made only one touchdown against the scrubs.

Clinches Center Job.

NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—George French has clinched the Columbia center post for the Ohio State contest. The coaches today will concentrate on perfecting a defense against the Buckeye passing game.

Harvard Defense Poor.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Oct. 14.—Harvard probably will present a poor defense against William and Mary on Saturday. The scrubs scored on the varsity yesterday.

Orange In Great Shape.

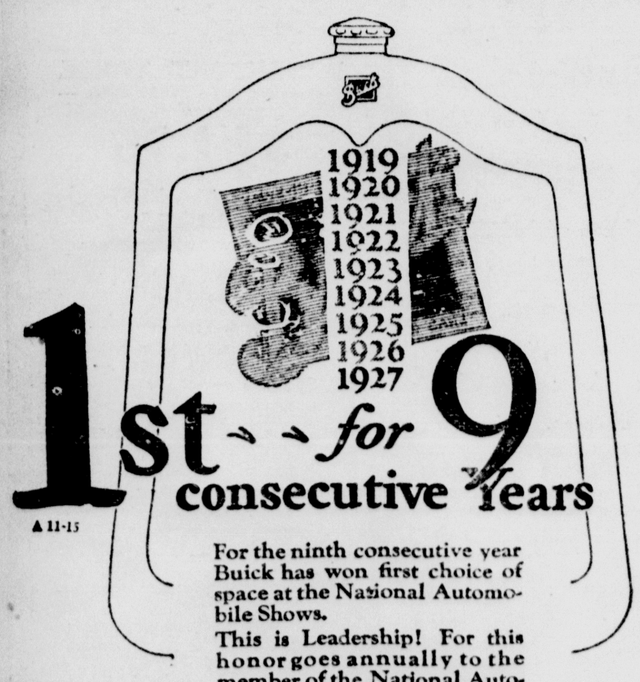

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Oct. 14.—The Orange team is in splendid condition for the Army game. Playing against the freshmen, the varsity made four touchdowns in twenty minutes.

Prepare Pass Defense.

WEST POINT, N. Y., Oct. 14.—Defense against the forward pass features Army's preparations for the Syracuse game. The coaches are pleased with the team's progress.

Huddle System At Cornell.

ITHACA, N. Y., Oct. 14.—Cornell may use the huddle system against Michigan on Saturday and in future games. The team has mastered the shift in this week's practice.

A 11-15

For the ninth consecutive year Buick has won first choice of space at the National Automobile Shows.

This is Leadership! For this honor goes annually to the member of the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce with the year's largest volume of business. For any other car to equal this would mean retaining continuous leadership until 1936—almost another decade.

The industrial history of America records no more brilliant achievement than these nine successive years of Buick dominance.

the Army and the corresponding group of the Navy hold their sessions.

The Film Story of Mining.

The department of Commerce, through the bureau of Mines which it recently took over from the department of the Interior, possesses the largest collection ever compiled of educational motion picture films depicting the mining, treatment, distribution, and utilization of the numerous essential minerals that comprise so large a part of the wealth of the United States in natural resources.

At present, is is stated, the bureau's motion picture library includes more than fifty subjects visualizing the operations of the mineral and allied industries of the nation. More than 2,000,000 feet of film go to make up this library. This is the equivalent of 2,000 ordinary reels, and at the rate press agents of the motion picture industry estimate costs they would represent an investment of many millions. They cost, however, only $1,000,000, and the entire expense of making them was borne by private industrial enterprises that have cooperated with the bureau of Mines in its educational campaign.

These films are loaned free of charge to all organizations desiring to use them, with the understanding that they will be handled with the greatest possible care, and that all damage and loss other than nominal wear and tear will be made good by the borrower. Distribution is centered at the United States bureau of Mines Experiment Station, Pittsburgh, Pa., under the direction of R. A. Wood, and in addition to the distribution carried on from that point 16 sub-distributing centers have been established, with a view to making it easy to secure the films promptly in any part of the country. All costs, such as express charges, postage, and the like, in connection with the shipment of films must be paid by the borrower. This is in line with the system followed by the department of Agriculture which also loans its films to any responsible applicant.

In view of the furore recently created by the warning issued by the Oil Conservation board to the effect that the United States has a visible oil supply sufficient to last but six years, perhaps the most interesting films by the bureau of Mines are those depicting the production, refining, and distribution of petroleum. "The World Struggle for Oil," a seven-reel feature, is one of them, visualizing the story of petroleum in all parts of the world, from the earliest use of the material, as pitch, smeared on Noah's ark, down to its modern treatment that permits no by-product to escape.

From the Well to the Motor.

A four-reeler entitled the "Story of Petroleum" begins with the location of a new well by the geologist and ends with the distribution of gasoline by service station. "Mexico and Its Oil," "The Story of a Mexican Oil Gusher," and "Through Oil Lands of Europe and Africa," are other films telling graphically the story of the development by American capital and enterprise of the oil fields of other countries.

Two films, "When Wages Stop, or Safety First in the Petroleum Industry" and "Live and Let Live," are a part of the bureau's contribution to an intensive campaign for the promotion of safety in the oil industry. They show the safe and the unsafe ways of producing oil. "The Story of a Rotary-drilled Oil Well" was made in the Goose Creek field in Texas. "The Story of Natural Gas," in four reels, made in co-operation with the Natural Gas association of America, begins with the location of a new gas well by the surveyors, and proceeds to the distribution of this natural fuel to the cities.

"The Story of Coal," however, has proved to be the most popular film in the bureau's library. It was made in co-operation with the National Coal Operators' association. "When a Man's a Miner," a graphic coal mine safety film, was donated to the bureau by Capt. Stuyvesant Peabody, in memory of his father, the late Francis S. Peabody, prominent coal operator and one-time official of the bureau.

Soda fountains may be installed soon at depots of the Chilean State railways.

The Film Story of Mining.

The department of Commerce, through the bureau of Mines which it recently took over from the department of the Interior, possesses the largest collection ever compiled of educational motion picture films depicting the mining, treatment, distribution, and utilization of the numerous essential minerals that comprise so large a part of the wealth of the United States in natural resources.

At present, is is stated, the bureau's motion picture library includes more than fifty subjects visualizing the operations of the mineral and allied industries of the nation. More than 2,000,000 feet of film go to make up this library. This is the equivalent of 2,000 ordinary reels, and at the rate press agents of the motion picture industry estimate costs they would represent an investment of many millions. They cost, however, only $1,000,000, and the entire expense of making them was borne by private industrial enterprises that have cooperated with the bureau of Mines in its educational campaign.

These films are loaned free of charge to all organizations desiring to use them, with the understanding that they will be handled with the greatest possible care, and that all damage and loss other than nominal wear and tear will be made good by the borrower. Distribution is centered at the United States bureau of Mines Experiment Station, Pittsburgh, Pa., under the direction of R. A. Wood, and in addition to the distribution carried on from that point 16 sub-distributing centers have been established, with a view to making it easy to secure the films promptly in any part of the country. All costs, such as express charges, postage, and the like, in connection with the shipment of films must be paid by the borrower. This is in line with the system followed by the department of Agriculture which also loans its films to any responsible applicant.

In view of the furore recently created by the warning issued by the Oil Conservation board to the effect that the United States has a visible oil supply sufficient to last but six years, perhaps the most interesting films by the bureau of Mines are those depicting the production, refining, and distribution of petroleum. "The World Struggle for Oil," a seven reel feature, is one of them, visualizing the story of petroleum in all parts of the world, from the earliest use of the material, as pitch, smeared on Noah's ark, down to its modern treatment that permits no by-product to escape.

From the Well to the Motor.

A four-reeler entitled the "Story of Petroleum" begins with the location of a new well by the geologist and ends with the distribution of gasoline by service station. "Mexico and Its Oil," "The Story of a Mexican Oil Gusher," and "Through Oil Lands of Europe and Africa," are other films telling graphically the story of the development by American capital and enterprise of the oil fields of other countries.

Two films, "When Wages Stop, or Safety First in the Petroleum Industry" and "Live and Let Live," are a part of the bureau's contribution to an intensive campaign for the promotion of safety in the oil industry. They show the safe and the unsafe ways of producing oil. "The Story of a Rotary-drilled Oil Well" was made in the Goose Creek field in Texas. "The Story of Natural Gas," in four reels, made in co-operation with the Natural Gas association of America, begins with the location of a new gas well by the surveyors, and proceeds to the distribution of this natural fuel to the cities.

"The Story of Coal," however, has proved to be the most popular film in the bureau's library. It was made in co-operation with the National Coal Operators' association. "When a Man's a Miner," a graphic coal mine safety film, was donated to the bureau by Capt. Stuyvesant Peabody, in memory of his father, the late Francis S. Peabody, prominent coal operator and one-time official of the bureau.

Soda fountains may be installed soon at depots of the Chilean State railways.

County Teams Launch Drives for Annual Scholastic Title

Kidder's Crew to Mix With East Palestine; May Try Pass Attack

After Defeat by Columbiana, Leetonia Drills Strenuously for Clash at Wellsville; Chester Gridders go Into Action at Weirton.

PLUNGING into their annual intra-county contests in quest of victories and the 1926 county scholastic grid championship, four of the circuit's half-dozen leading contenders for the honors will be in action along the Ohio valley Saturday, games being scheduled here and at Wellsville.

Coach George Kidder's Blue and White's combine will take on East Palestine, the game marking the Brown and White's first road trip of the campaign, and Wellsville will entertain the Leetonia eleven which last Saturday bowed to a strong Columbiana squad, 6-0.

Ray Wilde's Chester eleven, which lost by a slim margin at Follansbee last Saturday, again will perform before hostile crowds being booked for grid duty at Weirton and the outcome of the clash will determine to a great extent Chester's hopes for the Hancock county championship.

East Palestine is figuring the game here Saturday as one of the two "classics" of the Brown and White card this season and is preparing accordingly.

Although proud of their 19-0 conquest over Salineville last Saturday the East Palestine pigskin contingent is keen enough to realize that it will face a different brand of opposition this week and is not counting any top strongly on a victory. The north countians have not yet played an opponent of sufficient strength to determine for a certainty the team's real power.

Not likely to face the hammer and tongs variety of attack handed out by the heavy East Akron outfit in the most recent game of the season here, Coach Kidder may elect to fling a few passes Saturday or try out several new plays that the squad has been working on this week.

Their passes worked more than ordinarily successfully in the recent scrimmage at Columbian park, with Jack Bromby on the heaving end and Lincoln taking them in.

Coach Klinck's Wellsville team developed a powerful attack last Saturday against Dover, with Calhoun as the main spring of the onslaught, and only an inopportune fumble on the part of the Wellsville safety man on a Dover punt, which gave the visitors their chance to score, prevented a Wellsville victory.

Leetonia came out of the Columbiana game in good physical condition although mentally, conditions were not any too pleasing as a result of Columbiana's surprising victory. In consequence of the setback the Leetonia squad is drilling hard and heavy this week in atonement for its grid-iron sins.

The Chester eleven yesterday was presented with a medicine kit for emergency use in its future games. The kit was the gift of F. S. Huff, druggist, and G. L. Douglass, cashier of the First bank.

"TOUGH LUCK" ELEVENS CLASH

Mount and Case Renew "Friendly Grid Grudge."

ALLIANCE, O., Oct. 14.—The two "hard luck" teams of northern Ohio will clash here Saturday when Mount Union college and Case play off their annual "friendly grid grudge."

Last Saturday, Mount Union lost to Oberlin, 7-2, on a blocked kick in the final stages of a hectic struggle on Mount field. While this was in progress Case dropped a similar "hard luck" bout to Wooster, 7-0, on a fumbled ball just as the curtain was about to drop upon a scoreless tie.

In two years Mount has suffered but one touchdown from scrimmage—this on a 30-yard run in the Miami game. Mistakes made in the Oberlin game are being corrected this week. Mount's half-and-half team—half veterans and half green men, is expected to hit its stride in the Case game.

Already indications point to a record crowd here Saturday. Past years have proven that Case is more of a drawing card here than in Cleveland and for that reason the Scientists' sked makers have booked Mount at Alliance on several successive years.

Saints Show Power.

CINCINNATI — Joe Meyer, head football coach of St. Xavier, was so pleased with the showing of his men against the Marines Saturday that he cut the workout short yesterday. Tomorrow prenarations for the game with the University of Louisville will be started in earnest.

HIRAM — Considerably battered as a result of its game with Western Reserve Saturday, Hiram was given a light workout yesterday. Injuries suffered by Broadhurst, quarterback, will keep him out of the game for the rest of the season, necessitating reconstruction of the entire backfield.

LOUGHRAN SET FOR BURKE GO

Winds Up Training in Chicago for Monday Bout.

CHICAGO, Oct. 14.—Tommy Loughran, Philadelphia heavyweight, and one of the host of potential challengers for the crown of Gene Tunney, is due in Chicago today to complete training for his ten-round bout here Monday with Martin Burke, of New Orleans.

Loughran will do his boxing and bag punching at a local gymnasium, and his road work in Lincoln Park. By virtue of his showing against Jack Dempsey while acting as the latter's sparring partner, the Philadelphia fighter is rated as one of the foremost candidates for the heavyweight title.

Burke has been here since Tuesday and is reported in first class shape for Monday's setto. Although Marty is a big fellow with a powerful punch, Loughran is favored to whip him.

INSIDE GOLF

By CHESTER HORTON, Maker of 81 Golf Champions. "Golf's most successful teacher," says "Chick" Evans.

It should be obvious to the average golfer that in order to bring about a pressure from the entire right side against the shaft in the forward swing, he should keep his back swing rather short. By short I mean that the arms should go only about shoulder high, and there stop. Don't force them up. Instead, let the shoulder turn to the right slightly. An inch of turn to the right with the shoulders, at this particular point in the swing, is worth ten feet of stretching the arms upward and backward. Power does not spring from the arms. It comes from a co-ordination of body, shoulders and arms, and, lastly, wrists and of all these the most power comes from the body and the shoulders and the least from the arms. When the shaft is just below a straight up position in the back swing it is at the top. Stop it there, then go forward with the entire right side of the body pushing against it.

BURNS GIVEN PLAYER AWARD

Cleveland First Baseman Gets 63 Out of 64 Points.

CHICAGO, Oct. 14.—George H. Burns, Cleveland first baseman, has been voted the most valuable player in the American league for the season of 1926.

Burns, with 13 years of major league service, was the choice of eight well known sport writers engaged by American league officials to make the selection.

The balloting was practically unanimous in favor of the Cleveland first baseman. He obtained 63 points out of a possible 64.

This choice places the name of Burns on the American league honor roll along with the names of Ruth, Cobb, Speaker, Collins, Peckinpaugh, Sisler and Johnson.

John Mostil, of the Chicago White Sox, was the second choice of the award committee. He received only half as many votes as Burns. One vote behind Mostil came Herb Pennock, of the New York Yankees. Then came Sam Rice, of Washington, and Harry Hellmann, of Detroit, with 18 and 16 points respectively.

The names of 26 players were considered by the award committee.

Columbia on Defense For Buckeye Attack; Marty Karow Feared

Coach Crowley Hopes to Perfect Defense That Will Stop Disastrous Plunges of Ohio Back; Only Three Regulars Will Start Game Saturday for Eastern Combine.

By Davis J. Walsh.

NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—It seems to be generally understood that one doesn't drive in that run from first base with a spectacular base on balls nor score a knockout by making the other gent miss. Therefore the writer is disposed to believe that Columbia university will not be greatly irritated on Saturday if it doesn't finish worse than second to Ohio State, the first Big Ten team ever to show in New York.

The official attitude at Columbia today was strictly a defensive one and the only thing they regretted was that they couldn't say the same for their football team. The latter, it seemed, wasn't strictly anything in particular.

"We are concentrating on stopping Karow," was Charley Crowley's summation. "He tore our line apart last year, forced us to play seven men up and left us without an adequate defense against the passing game. We are hoping to perfect a defense that will allow us to play six men on the line and let the center rove."

What Crowley might have said was that he was trying to accomplish two ends and that neither of them were easy. He hopes to stop a good line plunger with a set of inexperienced forwards and at the same time use a running attack of his own inside and outside of tackle. He happens to have two fair plunging backs in Madden and Sesit but they will need to be better than that to click with any degree of regularity behind a green line.

As far as the Columbia-Ohio State affair is concerned, I think the boys on the heights are prepared to throw that one out and start all over again. Columbia is not the team it was last year and the Buckeye is better; in fact, it is said to have assembled its best array since the championship output of 1920. Incidentally, that superior Columbia team of 1925 lost to that unrepresentative Ohio State eleven by 9 to 0. You can figure that one up without using the fingers.

Only three 1925 regulars will start the game for Columbia—Madden and Sesit in the backfield and Brady at end. The others were substitutes or worse last year. Pease, quarterback, is gone. So are Wagner, a fine end; Kirchmeyer, a back; and Schimetitsch, Wiberg, Aulick and Raphael. Some of these worthies may not have been so hot but at least they had big game experience.

The only forwards in the present squad who can say the same are Reyolds and Alkoff and they serve to give the right side of the line a rather superior aspect, with Brady playing right end. The others, French, center; Shaw, left guard; Kerrigan, left tackle and Furey, left end, never have faced an outfit of Ohio State's speed and general class.

I can imagine that the boys' education will be somewhat amplified when Otto Hess begins to roam around through the line; Karow comes plunging in and Marek and Eby are turned loose on the ends.

Crowley, a product of rather contradictory systems at Harvard and Notre Dame, seems to be a confirmed conservative and I don't know what I blame him, in this case. One doesn't feel the urge to break a neighbor's windows with only a sponge available.

The injury to Empringham has necessitated a backfield shift and, with Norris at fullback, it is likely that Columbia will employ the old Harvard idea of kicking early and often and waiting for the break, if any. Rieger, a fast man, will be used as quarterback but with the huddle system in operation, it is possible that Captain Madden will share the burden of generalship or whatever it is the boys kid themselves about.

It is possible the writer has given the impression that he doesn't think Columbia is much of a football team. It isn't.

BUCKEYE ELEVEN OFF FOR NEW YORK

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 14.—Ohio State's squad, 34 strong, leaves at 6:30 tonight and will arrive in New York at 9 tomorrow morning for Saturday's game with Columbia. The team will go through a short practice session, devoted largely to signal drill, this afternoon.

Elmer Marek, star halfback, still is nursing an injured shoulder and may not see service against Columbia.

Expect To Down Kent.

TIFFIN—Heidelberg gridders went through a snappy practice yesterday. The squad is in excellent condition after the Otterbein victory and is confident of putting the Kent Normal game this week-end on the victory ledger.

Columbia on Defense For Buckeye Attack; Marty Karow Feared

Coach Crowley Hopes to Perfect Defense That Will Stop Disastrous Plunges of Ohio Back; Only Three Regulars Will Start Game Saturday for Eastern Combine.

By Davis J. Walsh.

NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—It seems to be generally understood that one doesn't drive in that run from first base with a spectacular base on balls nor score a knockout by making the other gent miss. Therefore the writer is disposed to believe that Columbia university will not be greatly irritated on Saturday if it doesn't finish worse than second to Ohio State, the first Big Ten team ever to show in New York.

The official attitude at Columbia today was strictly a defensive one and the only thing they regretted was that they couldn't say the same for their football team. The latter, it seemed, wasn't strictly anything in particular.

"We are concentrating on stopping Karow," was Charley Crowley's summation. "He tore our line apart last year, forced us to play seven men up and left us without an adequate defense against the passing game. We are hoping to perfect a defense that will allow us to play six men on the line and let the center rove."

What Crowley might have said was that he was trying to accomplish two ends and that neither of them were easy. He hopes to stop a good line plunger with a set of inexperienced forwards and at the some time use a running attack of his own inside and outside of tackle. He happens to have two fair plunging backs in Madden and Sesit but they will need to be better than that to click with any degree of regularity behind a green line.

As far as the Columbia-Ohio State affair is concerned, I think the boys on the heights are prepared to throw that one out and start all over again. Columbia is not the team it was last year and the Buckeye is better; in fact, it is said to have assembled its best array since the championship output of 1920. Incidentally, that superior Columbia team of 1925 lost to that unrepresentative Ohio State eleven by 9 to 0. You can figure that one up without using the fingers.

Only three 1925 regulars will start the game for Columbia—Madden and Sesit in the backfield and Brady at end. The others were substitutes or worse last year. Pease, quarterback, is gone. So are Wagner, a fine end; Kirchmeyer, a back; and Schimetitsch, Wiberg, Aulick and Raphael. Some of these worthies may not have been so hot but at least they had big game experience.

The only forwards in the present squad who can say the same are Reynolds and Alkoff and they serve to give the right side of the line a rather superior aspect, with Brady playing right end. The others, French, center; Shaw, left guard; Kerrigan, left tackle and Furey, left end, never have faced an outfit of Ohio State's speed and general class.

I can imagine that the boys' education will be somewhat amplified when Otto Hess begins to roam around through the line; Karow comes plunging in and Marek and Eby are turned loose on the ends.

Crowley, a product of rather contradictory systems at Harvard and Notre Dame, seems to be a confirmed conservative and I don't know what I blame him, in this case. One doesn't feel the urge to break a neighbor's windows with only a sponge available.

The injury to Empringham has necessitated a backfield shift and, with Norris at fullback, it is likely that Columbia will employ the old Harvard idea of kicking early and often and waiting for the break, if any. Rieger, a fast man, will be used as quarterback but with the huddle system in operation, it is possible that Captain Madden will share the burden of generalship or whatever it is the boys kid themselves about.

It is possible the writer has given the impression that he doesn't think Columbia is much of a football team. It isn't.

BUCKEYE ELEVEN OFF FOR NEW YORK

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 14.—Ohio State's squad, 34 strong, leaves at 6:30 tonight and will arrive in New York at 9 tomorrow morning for Saturday's game with Columbia. The team will go through a short practice session, devoted largely to signal drill, this afternoon.

Elmer Marek, star halfback, still is nursing an injured shoulder and may not see service against Columbia.

Expect To Down Kent.

TIFFIN—Heidelberg gridders went through a snappy practice yesterday. The squad is in excellent condition after the Otterbein victory and is confident of putting the Kent Normal game this week-end on the victory ledger.

GLIMPSES FROM THE SIDELINES

Penn Star Laid Up.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 14.—Al Wascolonis, Penn's star fullback, is laid up with a leg injury and may not start against Chicago Saturday. The Chicago eleven will work out here tomorrow.

New York To Rest.

NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—No scrimmage will be ordered for the New York University eleven today. Captain Briante and other regulars are recovering from injuries and the coaches want them to be in the best possible shape for the Tulane game.

Noble Back In Game.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Oct. 14.—Larry Noble, Yale's veteran back, will replace Bruce Caldwell, who sprained his ankle yesterday, in the Dartmouth game. Dummy scrimmage will be held today.

Dooley On Sidelines.

HANOVER, N. J., Oct. 14.—Eddie Dooley, newlywed and Dartmouth's all-American quarterback, may be replaced in the Yale game Saturday by Bob Harris, a sophomore. Dooley has been kept on the sidelines for two consecutive days.

Navy Chances Hurt.

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Oct. 14.—Navy's chances of victory against Princeton have received a severe setback because of the loss of Alan Shapley, triple threat backfield star, from injuries. Jake Cross, left guard, and Hardwick, right end, are also out.

Tigers Not Over Confident.

PRINCETON, N. J., Oct. 14.—Princeton is not over-confident of defeating the Navy on Saturday following the varsity's poor showing yesterday. The regulars made only one touchdown against the scrubs.

Clinches Center Job.

NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—George French has clinched the Columbia center post for the Ohio State contest. The coaches today will concentrate on perfecting a defense against the Buckeye passing game.

Harvard Defense Poor

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Oct. 14.—Harvard probably will present a poor defense against William and Mary on Saturday. The scrubs scored on the varsity yesterday.

Orange In Great Shape.

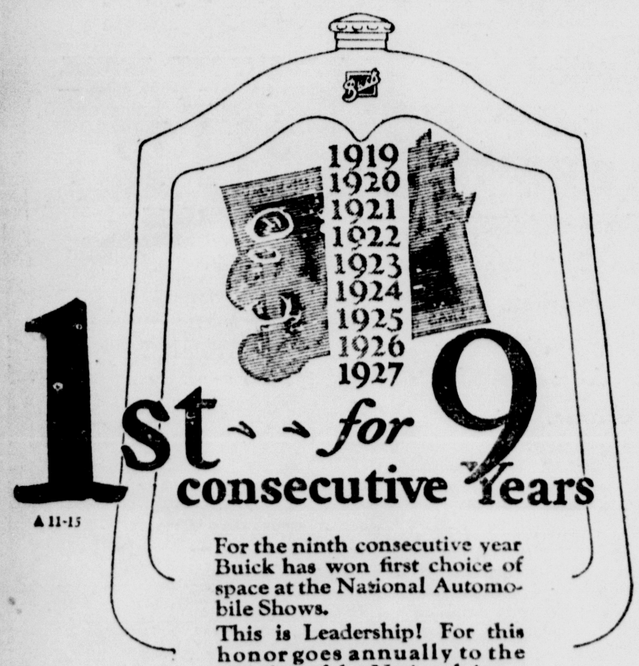

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Oct. 14.—The Orange team is in splendid condition for the Army game. Playing against the freshmen, the varsity made four touchdowns in twenty minutes.

Prepare Pass Defense.

WEST POINT, N. Y., Oct. 14.—Defense against the forward pass features Army's preparations for the Syracuse game. The coaches are pleased with the team's progress.

Huddle System At Cornell.

ITHACA, N. Y., Oct. 14.—Cornell may use the huddle system against Michigan on Saturday and in future games. The team has mastered the shift in this week's practice.

For the ninth consecutive year Buick has won first choice of space at the National Automobile Shows.

This is Leadership! For this honor goes annually to the member of the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce with the year's largest volume of business. For any other car to equal this would mean retaining continuous leadership until 1936—almost another decade.

The industrial history of America records no more brilliant achievement than these nine successive years of Buick dominance.

the Army and the corresponding group of the Navy hold their sessions.

The Film Story of Mining.

The department of Commerce, through the bureau of Mines which it recently took over from the department of the Interior, possesses the largest collection ever compiled of educational motion picture films depicting the mining, treatment, distribution, and utilization of the numerous essential minerals that comprise so large a part of the wealth of the United States in natural resources.

At present, is is stated, the bureau's motion picture library includes more than fifty subjects visualizing the operations of the mineral and allied industries of the nation. More than 2,000,000 feet of film go to make up this library. This is the equivalent of 2,000 ordinary reels, and at the rate press agents of the motion picture industry estimate costs they would represent an investment of many millions. They cost, however, only $1,000,000, and the entire expense of making them was borne by private industrial enterprises that have cooperated with the bureau of Mines in its educational campaign.

These films are loaned free of charge to all organizations desiring to use them, with the understanding that they will be handled with the greatest possible care, and that all damage and loss other than nominal wear and tear will be made good by the borrower. Distribution is centered at the United States bureau of Mines Experiment Station, Pittsburgh, Pa., under the direction of R. A. Wood, and in addition to the distribution carried on from that point 16 sub-distributing centers have been established, with a view to making it easy to secure the films promptly in any part of the country. All costs, such as express charges, postage, and the like, in connection with the shipment of films must be paid by the borrower. This is in line with the system followed by the department of Agriculture which also loans its films to any responsible applicant.

In view of the furore recently created by the warning issued by the Oil Conservation board to the effect that the United States has a visible oil supply sufficient to last but six years, perhaps the most interesting films by the bureau of Mines are those depicting the production, refining, and distribution of petroleum. "The World Struggle for Oil," a seven reel feature, is one of them, visualizing the story of petroleum in all parts of the world, from the earliest use of the material, as pitch, smeared on Noah's ark, down to its modern treatment that permits no by-product to escape.

From the Well to the Motor.

A four-reeler entitled the "Story of Petroleum" begins with the location of a new well by the geologist and ends with the distribution of gasoline by service station. "Mexico and Its Oil," "The Story of a Mexican Oil Gusher," and "Through Oil Lands of Europe and Africa," are other films telling graphically the story of the development by American capital and enterprise of the oil fields of other countries.

Two films, "When Wages Stop, or Safety First in the Petroleum Industry" and "Live and Let Live," are a part of the bureau's contribution to an intensive campaign for the promotion of safety in the oil industry. They show the safe and the unsafe ways of producing oil. "The Story of a Rotary-drilled Oil Well" was made in the Goose Creek field in Texas. "The Story of Natural Gas," in four reels, made in co-operation with the Natural Gas association of America, begins with the location of a new gas well by the surveyors, and proceeds to the distribution of this natural fuel to the cities.

"The Story of Coal," however, has proved to be the most popular film in the bureau's library. It was made in co-operation with the National Coal Operators' association. "When a Man's a Miner," a graphic coal mine safety film, was donated to the bureau by Capt. Stuyvesant Peabody, in memory of his father, the late Francis S. Peabody, prominent coal operator and one-time official of the bureau.

Soda fountains may be installed soon at depots of the Chilean State railways.

The Film Story of Mining.

The department of Commerce, through the bureau of Mines which it recently took over from the department of the Interior, possesses the largest collection ever compiled of educational motion picture films depicting the mining, treatment, distribution, and utilization of the numerous essential minerals that comprise so large a part of the wealth of the United States in natural resources.

At present, is is stated, the bureau's motion picture library includes more than fifty subjects visualizing the operations of the mineral and allied industries of the nation. More than 2,000,000 feet of film go to make up this library. This is the equivalent of 2,000 ordinary reels, and at the rate press agents of the motion picture industry estimate costs they would represent an investment of many millions. They cost, however, only $1,000,000, and the entire expense of making them was borne by private industrial enterprises that have cooperated with the bureau of Mines in its educational campaign.

These films are loaned free of charge to all organizations desiring to use them, with the understanding that they will be handled with the greatest possible care, and that all damage and loss other than nominal wear and tear will be made good by the borrower. Distribution is centered at the United States bureau of Mines Experiment Station, Pittsburgh, Pa., under the direction of R. A. Wood, and in addition to the distribution carried on from that point 16 sub-distributing centers have been established, with a view to making it easy to secure the films promptly in any part of the country. All costs, such as express charges, postage, and the like, in connection with the shipment of films must be paid by the borrower. This is in line with the system followed by the department of Agriculture which also loans its films to any responsible applicant.

In view of the furore recently created by the warning issued by the Oil Conservation board to the effect that the United States has a visible oil supply sufficient to last but six years, perhaps the most interesting films by the bureau of Mines are those depicting the production, refining, and distribution of petroleum. "The World Struggle for Oil," a seven-reel feature, is one of them, visualizing the story of petroleum in all parts of the world, from the earliest use of the material, as pitch, smeared on Noah's ark, down to its modern treatment that permits no by-product to escape.

From the Well to the Motor.

A four-reeler entitled the "Story of Petroleum" begins with the location of a new well by the geologist and ends with the distribution of gasoline by service station. "Mexico and Its Oil," "The Story of a Mexican Oil Gusher," and "Through Oil Lands of Europe and Africa," are other films telling graphically the story of the development by American capital and enterprise of the oil fields of other countries.

Two films, "When Wages Stop, or Safety First in the Petroleum Industry" and "Live and Let Live," are a part of the bureau's contribution to an intensive campaign for the promotion of safety in the oil industry. They show the safe and the unsafe ways of producing oil. "The Story of a Rotary-drilled Oil Well" was made in the Goose Creek field in Texas. "The Story of Natural Gas," in four reels, made in co-operation with the Natural Gas association of America, begins with the location of a new gas well by the surveyors, and proceeds to the distribution of this natural fuel to the cities.

"The Story of Coal," however, has proved to be the most popular film in the bureau's library. It was made in co-operation with the National Coal Operators' association. "When a Man's a Miner," a graphic coal mine safety film, was donated to the bureau by Capt. Stuyvesant Peabody, in memory of his father, the late Francis S. Peabody, prominent coal operator and one-time official of the bureau.

Soda fountains may be installed soon at depots of the Chilean State railways.

WE USED to wonder at Chinese tongs, their murderous feuds, their unwillingness to enter courts, their Chinese home-made "justice," in this land.

Now the Chinese wonder at us, as our bootleggers—Chicago holding the championship—show how a tong should be run, for efficiency.

IN THE latest alconolic tong exploit there figured two machine guns, public streets swept with bullets, two killed, three wounded. More killings will come within a week, the police say, for the O'Banion gang, having lost two men, will demand double blood pay.

WHILE the bootleg tongs fight it out police cars dash through the streets, catching nobody. No fault of the police. They cannot guess what bootleg[illegible] preparing his machine gun for

COLUMBUS day is over, and you could probably count on your fingers those in your circle that thought as much as two minutes about Columbus.

His achievement can be summed up in few words.

"He did not believe those that said it could not be done."

HE RAN the usual course, rendered service to the world, was put in jail for his pains, and as much as possible of the cerdit was taken by Isabella and others that deserved no credit. This continent was not even named for its discoverer.

YES, others came here before Columbus, but that means nothing. A steam engine was exhibited more than two thousand years ago at Alexandria. That does not hurt the inventor that makes the practical success.

Columbus was followed by practical success.

IN THE best known Japanese suicide, the gentleman opening the wall of his abdomen with a sharp knife, disembowels himself, showing no sign of pain. That takes courage.

GHSHI KITAZAWA of Tokio, disappointed in love, tried a new way, and ate himself to death. With his hard-hearted, adorned one across the table from him, he deliberately stuffed himself with rice, curry eggs, pouring down whisky and a worse drink, sake. Soon he was unconscious and in a few hours, dead.

How to Remove 88 Kinds of Stains

Perhaps you do not realize how many different kinds of stains can disfigure people's clothes.

It is almost impossible for anyone to escape having food stains on clothing at some time or other.

What would you do if you upset the ink bottle on an expensive table cover, spilled medicine on your best suit, ruined a gown with paint stains, or scorched the newest linen tablecloth?

All of these things happen every day. But there is a remedy for every blemish you may get on your clothing and household linens.

These are all listed in a 30-page booklet, with illustrations, which this bureau has for distribution. Fill out the attached coupon and enclose four cents in stamps for return postage and handling. Write your name and address clearly.

Steubenville Mayor Removed From Office By Court Ruling

Dr. E. J. C. Sander, Physician and Acting Mayor, Succeeds John S. H. Patton.

STEUBENVILLE, Oct. 14.—Mayor John S. H. Patton today was permanently removed from office by the court of common pleas. The decision was rendered by Judge Jay S. Paisley on an ouster suit charging the official with dereliction of duty.

Dr. E. J. C. Sander, physician and acting mayor during the period that the mayor has been suspended, automatically became the new head of the city administration.

Mayor Patton was suspended two months ago when a petition signed by 425 persons was filed, alleging that he had failed to enforce vice laws and had otherwise been remiss in the performance of his duties.

The petition was sponsored by the Ministerial association.

Chief Also Ousted.

Chief of Police Blaine D. Carter also was removed from office at the same time but has not faced charges as he has been absent from the city since his removal.

The defense set up the claim that the petitioners were not qualified voters but this was overruled by Judge Paisley.

This is the first permanent removal of a mayor from office to be recorded since the Ohio ouster law became effective, taking such matters out of the hands of the governor.

The decision ousting Patton will be taken immediately to the court of appeals for a ruling, the former mayor stated.

One Stolen Pouch Contained Money for Bank.

ELIZABETH, N. J., Oct. 14.—Seven bandits armed with automatics and a machine gun today shot and killed a United States mail turck driver, wounded his helper, ran down and injured a motorcycle policeman acting as an escort, and then escaped with a number of mail bags.

An official of the Elizabethport Banking company admitted that one of the pouches stolen contained approximately $160,000 in cash being transferred by registered mail from the Federal Reserve bank in New York to the local bank.

The bandits overtook the truck in two large closed cars. As one of the automobiles ran down Jacob Christman, the motorcycle policeman, throwing him to the roadway, the other was driven opposite the truck, and the bandits opened fire on the two men on the seat.

Rip Open Door of Mail Car.

The driver, John Enz, was killed, and Patrick Quinn, who accompanied him, was shot twice in the arm.

The bandits in the other car, after turning their machine gun on Christman, wounding him three times, ripped open the door of the mail car, seized the pouches and drove rapidly away. The second car disappeared in another direction.

Police said that as far as they knew today's hold-up was the first in the eastern part of the country in which a machine gun had been used.

The gun, a Thompson .45 calibre, was found in the street when police arrived. Several bullets were still unfired.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—President Coolidge today appointed R. K. Smith, of Louisiana, as a member of the United States Shipping Board, succeeding J. H. Walsh, resigned.

SENATE COMMITTEE WILL MEET IN CHICAGO NEXT MONDAY TO BEGIN QUIZ

Senator James A. Reed, Chairman, Announces That Federal Spotlight Will be Turned on Hoosier State Political Activities and Charges of Graft and Corruption.

BORAH, KING, LA FOLLETTE, McNARY AND GOFF ARE COMITTEE MEMBERS

Men Whose Names Have Come Before Public in Scandal Revolved Around Figure of D. C. Stephenson, Now in Penitentiary, Will be Called to Testify.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 14.—The senate special investigating committee will meet in Chicago next Monday morning at 10 o'clock to turn it's spotlight on the Indiana political activities of the Ku Klux Klan and charges of graft and corruption recently made there, Senator James A. Reed, chairman of the committee, said today.

The senator made this announcement just before departing for Joplin to fill a speaking engagement there today.

Yielding to the demands made from many sources in Indiana, the Missouri senator who had charge of the investigations which recently unearthed huge expenditures in the election campaigns in Pennsylvania and Illinois, decided this morning to have the committee look into the Indiana scandal.

Definite plans of the committee's proposed investigation would be worked out between now and the date for the Chicago meeting, Senator Reed said. Referring to the numerous reports that have emanated from Indiana and other points, the senator added that "too much speculation had been made about his plans."

Cancels Engagements.

The senator granted an interview during his breakfast at his hotel here just before departing from St. Louis.

Subpoenas probably will be issued today in Chicago for those whose names have come before the public in the Indiana scandal in which charges of graft and corruption have revolved around the figure of D. C. Stephenson, former grand dragon of the Indiana Klan, now serving a penitentiary sentence at Michigan City.

"I am not ready to discuss fully the plans of our committee," Senator Reed said. "I have called the committee to meet in Chicago next Monday and that is all I care to say. Our definite plans will be made in the meantime. Too much speculation already has been made about the plans of the committee."

Following his speaking engagement at Joplin today, Senator Reed will begin to direct the plans for his investigation committee. Speaking dates which had been arranged for the next two weeks in Missouri have been cancelled, although the senator said he hoped to return to the state later to do some campaigning for Congressman Harry B. Hawes, Democratic candidate for United States senator.

Washington Surprised.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—Announcement by Senator James A. Reed in St. Louis today that the special senate committee of which he is chairman will meet in Chicago next Monday to consider the stories of corruption in Indiana's political structure caused considerable surprise in the capital today.

It had been understood by members of the senate here and by political leaders generally that the Indiana situation would not be made the subject of inquiry by Reed's committee because of the local character of the charges.

Indiana School Bars "Knicker Clad" Girl of 9 Years

JEFFERSONVILLE, Ind., Oct. 14.—Virginia Allen, 9, who has been refused admission to the Port Fulton school here because she wore knickers, today was expected to be chief complainant in mandamus action against school authorities.

The suit was filed by the child's mother in an effort to force school trustees and three other officials, to permit the "knicker clad" girl to attend classes.

SIX CHARGED WITH GAMBLING

Warrants Issued After Offenders Give Fake Names.

Warrants for the arrest of six of the eight men who are alleged to have given fictitious names in connection with a gambling raid upon the home of Charles Burns, 1148 Harker avenue, early Sunday morning, were issued by police today upon instructions from Mayor Benedum and Service-Safety Director Moore.

The men, who are charged with gambling and loitering in a gambling house, are Charles E. Wynn, Donald E. Robinette, Harry J. Podwell, Edward Wagoner, Joseph Burcham and Elroy Winget. Police are continuing their investigation in an effort to identify the other two members of the party.

The six, Director Moore said, will be ordered to appear before Municipal Judge Hanley at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning. Bonds of $15.80, which each of the eight caught in the raid posted for their appearance in police court, were declared forfeited by Judge Hanley.

The arrests are an aftermath of the order recently posted at the city hall by Director Moore in which officers were instructed to obtain the correct names of all offenders if possible. Captain of Police Conley and Patrolmen Roth and Smith, who made the raid, did not recognize any of the players and were compelled to accept the names given them.

DISASTROUS BUSH FIRES SWEEP COAST OF NEW SOUTH WALES

Brisbane Encircled by Flames Which Drive Settlers From Homes and Destroy Timber.

LONDON, Oct. 14.—Disastrous bush fires are sweeping the New South Wales coast, driving settlers from their homes and destroying valuable timber and burning herds alive, according to a Sydney dispatch to the Evening News.

A message from Brisbane says that city is encircled by flaming bush, and that every hill within fifteen miles is ablaze. It is indicated that it is not anticipated that the fire will reach the city limits of Brisbane.

Tao dispatches state that the fires are most devastating in the country north of Sydney. The country between Lismore and Port Macquario for a distance of 100 miles is ablaze, with a nine-mile frontage of flames between Myrtle Creek and Ellangewan.

Strong winds are fanning the flames, and dry grass and timber and furnishing tinder-like fuel.

The spread of the fire has been so rapid that settlers have been forced to flee without taking much of their property with them. Many of them saw their homes in flames as they fled.

Entire settlements are believed to

STATE REPRESENTATIVE INSPECTS DAIRY BARNS AND MILK PLANTS

D. B. Wagner, Kenmore, Gives all East Liverpool Distributing Stations "Once-over."

D. B. Wagner, Kenmore, representative of the State Department of Agriculture, today completed an inspection of dairy barns and milk distributing plants in the East Liverpool district.

The barn inspection began last May but because of lack of funds, the inspector was withdrawn before the work was completed. Wagner came here Monday to complete the work. Sanitary Inspector D. J. McKeever accompanied the inspector on his rounds.

Farms of about 200 producers in Columbiana county, Ohio, Hancock county, W. Va., and Beaver county, Pa., were visited . Several violations of regulations were found and in each case the offender was notified to "clean up" or the sale of milk would be prohibited. Distributing plants, which were also inspected, numbered about 10.

Health board officials announced today that dairy barn inspections would be made at least twice a year in the future. The inspection, which has just been completed, is the first thorough survey which has been made in five years, it is said.

It is a great educational idea introduced into the lives of the most intelligent people in the world—American newspaper readers. It is a part of that best purpose of a newspaper—Service. There is no charge except two cents in stamps for return postage. Get the habit of asking questions. Address your letter to the East Liverpool Review-Tribune Information Bureau, Frederic J. Haskin, Director, Washington, D. C.

Q. What would happen if an irresistible force came in contact with an immovable body? P. R. K.

A. The Bureau of Standards says that the existence of these two conditions at the same time is impossible according to all known laws. As the very existence of the two conditions at the same tme can not take place, it is necessarily impossible to state what would happen if the condition did exist.

Q. Why are hot tamales so-called? O. L. S.

A. The word tamale comes from the word tamal, a word of Mexican origin, meaning a dish made of crushed maize, mixed with mince meat, seasoned with red pepper, dipped in oil, and steamed. It is because of the seasoning that it is called hot tamale.

Q. What does the Latin motto "Omnia Vincit Amor" mean? H. W.

A. This Latin proverb means "Love conquers all things."

Q. Why are ingrowing nails usually on the great toe? G. T. K.

A. Because this toe is subject to constant pressure of the adjacent soft parts, often aggravated by a tight shoe.

Q. How many names did a Roman citizen have? F. N.

A. In early Roman history, men had one name. Later they had three, Praenomen, nomen, and cognomen. Conquerors were sometimes complimented with a fourth name or agnomen.

Q. Was the flour obtained by the Indians as fine as that made by modern machine-made flour.

A. Although usually such was not the case, by passing grain from one mortar to another, some Indians obtained flour comparable with the modern machine-made flour.

Q. How did Scott happen to write Lochinvar? M. N.

A. It was a part of the metrical romance, Marmion. For this romance in verse, Scott was offered 1000 pounds before it was begun.

Q. What are illuminated manuscripts? B. E. R.

A. They are those whose texts are brightened and heightened by vignettes and otherwise decorated in colors, or in gold and silver. Fifteen centuries before Christ the papyrus rolls of the "Book of the Dead" were illuminated with brilliantly colored scenes. Later, as writing became alphabetic, the important letters were illuminated.

Q. What vitamines are found in cod liver oil? J. A.

A. It contains vitamines A and D. Vitamines B and C are not found in appreciable amounts.

Q. Is dry-cleaning really "dry"? R. E. M.

A. The term dry is applied to cleaning with gasoline, ro related agents, because such solvents are free from moisture even though they are liquids. The Bureau of Standards says these liquids are highly explosive and should be handled by experienced cleaners. Carbon tetrachloride is perhaps the safest and most efficient solvent for use in home dry-cleaning.

Q. How long has Efrem Zimbalist been playing in public? E. M. F.

A. Zimbalist, who is now 37, was first violinist in an orchestra and a soloist at the age of eight. When he was seventeen he made his first concert tour of Europe.

Q. What university established the sabbatical year? D. A. E.

A. Professor Palmer, in his biography of Alice F. Palmer, says that Harvard was the first.

EAST LIVERPOOL—AMERICA'S POTTERY CENTER

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 14, 1926.

Register Tomorrow

Are you registered?

East Liverpool electors are required to enroll quadrennially, or immediately preceding the presidential balloting. For those who neglect to do so, special registration days are designated preceding subsequent elections.

The Columbiana county board of deputy state supervisors fixed four days of enrollment for the state, district and county election on Nov. 2. Registrars' books at the end of the second day showed few additions. Two more opportunities to enroll will be given on Friday and Saturday.

From 9 A. M. to 3 P. M. and 5 to 10 P. M. each day, registrars will be on duty in the city's 21 precincts to issue transfers to persons who have changed their place of residence, as well as to register new electors or negligent ones.

Don't defer the formality. Register tomorrow if you are not already qualified.

The Peace Bridge

The last steel girders are swinging into place on the great "peace bridge" connecting Canada and the United States at Buffalo. This span across the Niagara river, a mile long and 50 feet wide, connecting two old forts for which there has been no use since 1812, well deserves its name. There could be no fitter way to commorate a long era of peace and good will between two neighboring countries than the erection of such a bridge—an invitation for the neighbors to visit each other instead of the usual military works on national borders which mean "Keep Out."

Nothing is surer than that the neighbors in this case will accept the invitation in record-breaking numbers. The bridge is designed to take care of 6,000 automobiles an hour. There is room for that many to cross, and there are facilities at the bridge-ends for the customs and immigration officers to take care of them.

The bridge will be used mainly by Americans. That is inevitable, from the far greater population on this side of the border and from the natural tendency of our people to regard Canada as a summer playground. Thus the 5,000,000 tourists who are said to have entered Canada this year will doubtless be greatly exceeded next year. And there is a steadily growing interchange of travelers from each country, bent on business.

In many ways Canada and the United States supplement each other economically as they do geographically and climatically. The two nations, mingling easily and naturally with each other, find therein profit along with pleasure.

Government By Default

One of the excuses sometimes made by men, oftener by women, for not voting, is that they really did not know anything about any of the candidates, or the issues, and so they felt they could not conscientiously cast a ballot.

This is no excuse at all. It is the voter's business to inform himself about men and issues.

If he does not approve any of the candidates, no matter. One will be elected. One must be better than another in at least some small way. Every expression of public opinion counts. If the voter votes for only one man, only one issue, at an election, he is expressing something of his own, adding to public opinion.

The only thing candidates are afraid of is voters. The only way to get good candidates is for good voters to keep on voting for the best in sight.

The real boss of the town is the ordinary voter, with his ordinary vote. If he wants a clean and orderly community in which to live and rear his children, he can get it by voting for it. If he does not exercise his right to speak on the side of order and decency, he has to take what he gets.

Too much government in this country is government by default.

Russian Purchases

The latest figures now available about business with Russia are for the first 11 months of 1925. Ouring that time imports into Russia from the United States came to $107,120,000. Imports from Great Britain and Germany were about $56,000,000 each, or a little more in total than from here.

Russia, apparently, has got far enough along with its busines stability so that it can buy again.

From the American viewpoint, an annual export trade of more than one hundred millions is not at all to be despised. Great Britain and Germany have recognized the Soviet government, which, poor though it may be considered by outsiders, is the only government Russia happens to have.

American business men, conducting a trade with Russia almost as great as that of Britain and Germany combined, still have to worry along without the ordinary convenience and protection afforded by regular diplomatic and consular service.

The bandit war isn't so one-sided as is commonly thought. In Detroit, for example, the fatality list stands, six policemen to 31 bandits.

Yes, motorists are pretty careless and arrogant. But the motor casualties would be far greater if drivers didn't obseve the traffic rules better than pedestrians do.

The Little Ssorpion's Club— By Fontaine Fox

NEW YORK DAYBYDAY

By O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—In sinister dives the "Mickey Finn" is used to get rid of unwelcome visitors. It is a mixture causing violent nausea and differs from the old time knock-out drop in that it does not render the victim unconscious.

But it often sends a patron to bed for several days. It is the Tenderloin manner of ousting those amiable alcoholics who prove so irritating. Like the old time saloon, the modern speakeasy has its quota of chronic jags.

They prove a great nuisance to proprietors but a boon to revenue sniffers who are able to follow the unsteady steps to a cache of hidden hooch. Never before were drunks so unwelcome in places where liquor is sold as now.

When a speak-easy patron begins to show his liquor his drinks are switched to innicuous colored water and if he continues to display obnoxious hilarity he is dosed with a "Mickey Finn," the ingredients of which are tasteless but O, my!

There is a story of one inebriate accustomed to staggering out of a blind pig every late afternoon. One day his feet became so tangled he sprawled on the sidewalk. A passerby stuck his head in the door and called to the proprietor: "Hey, mister, your sign fell down!"

With prohibition has come a new type of barkeeper. In other days he was a figure in his natty white coat, roached hair and expansive smile. His ear was attuned to sympathy. He had a prop cigar he pocketed many times a day in lieu of the proffered drink.

The modern barkeep is usually what the Bowery calls a "tough mug." He can only speak a few words of ness or sympathy for any second the buzzer may sound and he must dump his stock through hidden drain pipes.

A taxi careened around a Park avenue corner on one wheel and dipped dangerously toward a smash up. A white faced fare got out at the next corner. "What were you trying to do?" he demanded of the driver. "Whadda you mean tryin', I did it!" was the reply. "It was us or them" —and he pointed back to three little children playing in the street. He got a $10 tip.

Speaking of former barkeeps I am told the younger ones in New York were picked up by a chain of cigar stores and 80 per cent became capable clerks and many store managers. One indeed is a capable executive stationed in Europe. Some older ones turned to the soft drink parlors but it wasn't to their liking.

Jimmy Hussey has for a number of years been classed as Jewish comedian. He andedated Milt Cross in the "Iss dis a seestem?" talk so well known in the Bronx. It is amusing to see Jews warm to his antics. Jimmy is a friend of mine and I regret to expose him. But he is as Irish as Paddy's Pig. His name is Hickey.

Those high powered executives who function on eight cylinders must—or think they must—save one second. A friend tells of one—the type who features having nothing on his desk (and nothing irritates me more)—who received a call at two o'clock in the afternoon to start for California at 3. He merely said to his secretary, "I leave for the coast at 3." The friend continued his talk and went to the train with the great man in a limousine that was outside 10 minutes before train time. A valet was at the train gates with trunk check and English and has no time for cleanhand luggage. A "traveling secretary" was there with through drawing room tickets and portable typewriter. Only the single order to the secretary had been given.

TO FILL A SUDDEN VACANCY

I had this one from my grandfather. My grandson—if ever I am so fortunate as to have one—shall have it is turn from me. I believe it possesses merits which make it worthy of being handed down to posterity.

The minister had a reputation of being long-winded. On this Sunday he was in especially good form. His topic was the prophets of the Bible. For more than an hour he droned along.

"Now, then," he said, "we have disposed of the Major Prophets. And next we come to the Minor Prophets. To what place, my friends, shall we assign the Minor Prophets?"

He paused as though for a reply. And then he got a reply from an unexpected quarter.

From a rear pew rose a bored-looking stranger. He waved an explanatory arm toward the seat he just had vacated and spoke:

"Pardon," he said, "don't worry. One of 'em can have my place."

Government Motion Pictures.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—Your Uncle Sam, who wears clothes tailored out of the American flag, a high hat, an abundance of white hair, and whiskers no longer cultivated except by presidential candidates with weak chins, is getting deeper and deeper in the motion picture business every day. As he is the Croesus of the modern world, this is not surprising. However, to avert any possible libel proceedings, let it be stated here and now that the old boy is not exploiting bathing beauties or bringing out soulful sirens who have a yen for the big butter and egg men of the U. S. A. Your Uncle Sam is nobody's hot-buttered-bun. His interest and activities in the movies are altogether educational, and in that line he is a wow.

In the department of Agriculture he maintains an organization that does everything in connection with motion pictures except pay big salaries to stars, monopolize distribution, operate chains of theaters, fight censorship, and make money. He has a studio, laboratory, and all the paraphernalia that goes with such establishments. He employs directors, camera men, and actors, and sometimes he sends members of his staff out on locations that are far removed from Washington. He has made films in all parts of the United States and in this country's territorial possessions, and not long ago he sent the chief of this organization all through South America to produce a picture that would be helpful to our Latin neighbors in their road-building activities and also informing to exporting business interests here at home.

The War and Navy departments have used the motion picture camera since just before the World war. Films that will interest and enlist recruits are perhaps their main objectives in this line, but both of the defense arms of the government have uses for the camera that are kept decidedly secret. Some of these uses are turned to advantage at West Point and Annapolis, where the nation's future generals and admirals are educated, others at the War College in Washington, where officers get their post graduate training, and still others when the general staff of

W. H. Wise, For Thirty-Five Years on Run Between Cincinnati and Toledo, Is Well Known.

For thirty-five years W. H. Wise, of 834 Nestlewood Ave., Toledo, covered a run on the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad between Cincinnati and Toledo. In the capacity of freight and passenger conductor he met thousands of people, and he is well known all along the line.

About six months ago Mr. Wise retired from active service. He says his health had begun to fail him. "I was troubled with constipation and I had almost daily attacks of headaches. I was very restless at night and coudn't sleep soundly, never cared when my meals were ready as I was never hungry.

"I heard about Tepee Herb Tonic and I tried it with splendid results. I have a good appetite now, thanks to Tepee Herb Tonic, and when my meals are ready I'm always on time and I demand full right of way.

Tepee Herb Tonic has made me feel like a new man. I don't have any more of those splitting headaches that ran across the top of my head and way down to the middle of my back.

"When night comes I sleep like a baby. If Tepee had never done anything else but relieve my constipation I would have felt well repaid for taking it.

"It's a splendid preparation for the bowels and I am regular for the first time in many years.

Mr. Wise, who gives the above statement is sixty-five years of age, but no person would ever know it from his appearance. Since taking Tepee Herb Tonic he don't look a day over fifty-five.

If you don't feel well take Tepee Herb Tonic today. It has relieved others and it will relieve you.

Few actresses take their exercise on the bridle path. It is too much of a risk. But one of the few is Irene Swor, the perfect Venus, with the Earl Carroll "Vanities," the sensasational musical revue coming to the Ceramic Theatre Thursday, Oct. 21.

"In order to keep myself physically perfect for my work," says Miss Swor, "I take a considerable amount of outdoor exercise and whenever possible, I indulge in horseback riding. A good shaking up is a wonderful tonic.

"My idea of riding on a horse is to 'sit in the saddle' as the westerners say, and take all the jolts a horse has to give. Posting is too easy. But the rider who tries to sit in the saddle cavalry style, will get all the exercise necessary. Every time I can, I am out riding a horse."

EAST LIVERPOOL—AMERICA'S POTTERY CENTER

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 14, 1926.

Register Tomorrow

Are you registered?

East Liverpool electors are required to enroll quadrennially, or immediately preceding the presidential balloting. For those who neglect to do so, special registration days are designated preceding subsequent elections.

The Columbiana county board of deputy state supervisors fixed four days of enrollment for the state, district and county election on Nov. 2. Registrars' books at the end of the second day showed few additions. Two more opportunities to enroll will be given on Friday and Saturday.

From 9 A. M. to 3 P. M. and 5 to 10 P. M. each day, registrars will be on duty in the city's 21 precincts to issue transfers to persons who have changed their place of residence, as well as to register new electors or negligent ones.

Don't defer the formality. Register tomorrow if you are not already qualified.

The Peace Bridge

The last steel girders are swinging into place on the great "peace bridge" connecting Canada and the United States at Buffalo. This span across the Niagara river, a mile long and 50 feet wide, connecting two old forts for which there has been no use since 1812, well deserves its name. There could be no fitter way to commorate a long era of peace and good will between two neighboring countries than the erection of such a bridge—an invitation for the neighbors to visit each other instead of the usual military works on national borders which mean "Keep Out."

Nothing is surer than that the neighbors in this case will accept the invitation in record-breaking numbers. The bridge is designed to take care of 6,000 automobiles an hour. There is room for that many to cross, and there are facilities at the bridge-ends for the customs and immigration officers to take care of them.

The bridge will be used mainly by Americans. That is inevitable, from the far greater population on this side of the border and from the natural tendency of our people to regard Canada as a summer playground. Thus the 5,000,000 tourists who are said to have entered Canada this year will doubtless be greatly exceeded next year. And there is a steadily growing interchange of travelers from each country, bent on business.

In many ways Canada and the United States supplement each other economically as they do geographically and climatically. The two nations, mingling easily and naturally with each other, find therein profit along with pleasure.

Government By Default

One of the excuses sometimes made by men, oftener by women, for not voting, is that they really did not know anything about any of the candidates, or the issues, and so they felt they could not conscientiously cast a ballot.

This is no excuse at all. It is the voter's business to inform himself about men and issues.

If he does not approve any of the candidates, no matter. One will be elected. One must be better than another in at least some small way. Every expression of public opinion counts. If the voter votes for only one man, only one issue, at an election, he is expressing something of his own, adding to public opinion.

The only thing candidates are afraid of is voters. The only way to get good candidates is for good voters to keep on voting for the best in sight.

The real boss of the town is the ordinary voter, with his ordinary vote. If he wants a clean and orderly community in which to live and rear his children, he can get it by voting for it. If he does not exercise his right to speak on the side of order and decency, he has to take what he gets.

Too much government in this country is government by default.

Russian Purchases

The latest figures now available about business with Russia are for the first 11 months of 1925. Ouring that time imports into Russia from the United States came to $107,120,000. Imports from Great Britain and Germany were about $56,000,000 each, or a little more in total than from here.

Russia, apparently, has got far enough along with its busines stability so that it can buy again.

From the American viewpoint, an annual export trade of more than one hundred millions is not at all to be despised. Great Britain and Germany have recognized the Soviet government, which, poor though it may be considered by outsiders, is the only government Russia happens to have.

American business men, conducting a trade with Russia almost as great as that of Britain and Germany combined, still have to worry along without the ordinary convenience and protection afforded by regular diplomatic and consular service.

The bandit war isn't so one-sided as is commonly thought. In Detroit, for example, the fatality list stands, six policemen to 31 bandits.

Yes, motorists are pretty careless and arrogant. But the motor casualties would be far greater if drivers didn't obseve the traffic rules better than pedestrians do.

The Little Ssorpion's Club— By Fontaine Fox

NEW YORK DAYBYDAY

By O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—In sinister dives the "Mickey Finn" is used to get rid of unwelcome visitors. It is a mixture causing violent nausea and differs from the old time knock-out drop in that it does not render the victim unconscious.

But it often sends a patron to bed for several days. It is the Tenderloin manner of ousting those amiable alcoholics who prove so irritating. Like the old time saloon, the modern speakeasy has its quota of chronic jags.

They prove a great nuisance to proprietors but a boon to revenue sniffers who are able to follow the unsteady steps to a cache of hidden hooch. Never before were drunks so unwelcome in places where liquor is sold as now.

When a speak-easy patron begins to show his liquor his drinks are switched to innicuous colored water and if he continues to display obnoxious hilarity he is dosed with a "Mickey Finn," the ingredients of which are tasteless but O, my!

There is a story of one inebriate accustomed to staggering out of a blind pig every late afternoon. One day his feet became so tangled he sprawled on the sidewalk. A passerby stuck his head in the door and called to the proprietor: "Hey, mister, your sign fell down!"

With prohibition has come a new type of barkeeper. In other days he was a figure in his natty white coat, roached hair and expansive smile. His ear was attuned to sympathy. He had a prop cigar he pocketed many times a day in lieu of the proffered drink.

The modern barkeep is usually what the Bowery calls a "tough mug." He can only speak a few words of ness or sympathy for any second the buzzer may sound and he must dump his stock through hidden drain pipes.

A taxi careened around a Park avenue corner on one wheel and dipped dangerously toward a smash up. A white faced fare got out at the next corner. "What were you trying to do?" he demanded of the driver. "Whadda you mean tryin', I did it!" was the reply. "It was us or them"—and he pointed back to three little children playing in the street. He got a $10 tip.

Speaking of former barkeeps I am told the younger ones in New York were picked up by a chain of cigar stores and 80 per cent became capable clerks and many store managers. One indeed is a capable executive stationed in Europe. Some older ones turned to the soft drink parlors but it wasn't to their liking.

Jimmy Hussey has for a number of years been classed as Jewish comedian. He andedated Milt Cross in the "Iss dis a seestem?" talk so well known in the Bronx. It is amusing to see Jews warm to his antics. Jimmy is a friend of mine and I regret to expose him. But he is as Irish as Paddy's Pig. His name is Hickey.

Those high powered executives who function on eight cylinders must—or think they must—save one second. A friend tells of one—the type who features having nothing on his desk (and nothing irritates me more)—who received a call at two o'clock in the afternoon to start for California at 3. He merely said to his secretary, "I leave for the coast at 3." The friend continued his talk and went to the train with the great man in a limousine that was outside 10 minutes before train time. A valet was at the train gates with trunk check and English and has no time for cleanliness hand luggage. A "traveling secretary" was there with through drawing room tickets and portable typewriter. Only the single order to the secretary had been given.

TO FILL A SUDDEN VACANCY

I had this one from my grandfather. My grandson—if ever I am so fortunate as to have one—shall have it is turn from me. I believe it possesses merits which make it worthy of being handed down to posterity.

The minister had a reputation of being long-winded. On this Sunday he was in especially good form. His topic was the prophets of the Bible. For more than an hour he droned along.

"Now, then," he said, "we have disposed of the Major Prophets. And next we come to the Minor Prophets. To what place, my friends, shall we assign the Minor Prophets?"

He paused as though for a reply. And then he got a reply from an unexpected quarter.

From a rear pew rose a bored-looking stranger. He waved an explanatory arm toward the seat he just had vacated and spoke:

"Pardon," he said, "don't worry. One of 'em can have my place."

HASKINS' LETTER

By FREDERIC J. HASKIN

Government Motion Pictures.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—Your Uncle Sam, who wears clothes tailored out of the American flag, a high hat, an abundance of white hair, and whiskers no longer cultivated except by presidential candidates with weak chins, is getting deeper and deeper in the motion picture business every day. As he is the Croesus of the modern world, this is not surprising. However, to avert any possible libel proceedings, let it be stated here and now that the old boy is not exploiting bathing beauties or bringing out soulful sirens who have a yen for the big butter and egg men of the U. S. A. Your Uncle Sam is nobody's hot-buttered-bun. His interest and activties in the movies are altogether educational, and in that line he is a wow.

In the department of Agriculture he maintains an organization that does everything in connection with motion pictures except pay big salaries to stars, monopolize distribution, operate chains of theaters, fight censorship, and make money. He has a studio, laboratory, and all the paraphernalia that goes with such establishments. He employs directors, camera men, and actors, and sometimes he sends members of his staff out on locations that are far removed from Washington. He has made films in all parts of the United States and in this country's territorial possessions, and not long ago he sent the chief of this organization all through South America to produce a picture that would be helpful to our Latin neighbors in their road-building activities and also informing to exporting business interests here at home.

The War and Navy departments have used the motion picture camera since just before the World war. Films that will interest and enlist recruits are perhaps their main objectives in this line, but both of the defense arms of the government have uses for the camera that are kept decidedly secret. Some of these uses are turned to advantage at West Point and Annapolis, where the nation's future generals and admirals are educated, others at the War College in Washington, where officers get their post graduate training, and still others when the general staff of

W. H. Wise, For Thirty-Five Years on Run Between Cincinnati and Toledo, Is Well Known.

For thirty-five years W. H. Wise, of 834 Nestlewood Ave., Toledo, covered a run on the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad between Cincinnati and Toledo. In the capacity of freight and passenger conductor he met thousands of people, and he is well known all along the line.

About six months ago Mr. Wise retired from active service. He says his health had begun to fail him. "I was troubled with constipation and I had almost daily attacks of headaches. I was very restless at night and coudn't sleep soundly, never cared when my meals were ready as I was never hungry.

"I heard about Tepee Herb Tonic and I tried it with splendid results. I have a good appetite now, thanks to Tepee Herb Tonic, and when my meals are ready I'm always on time and I demand full right of way.

Tepee Herb Tonic has made me feel like a new man. I don't have any more of those splitting headaches that ran across the top of my head and way down to the middle of my back.

"When night comes I sleep like a baby. If Tepee had never done anything else but relieve my constipation I would have felt well repaid for taking it.

"It's a splendid preparation for the bowels and I am regular for the first time in many years.

Mr. Wise, who gives the above statement is sixty-five years of age, but no person would ever know it from his appearance. Since taking Tepee Herb Tonic he don't look a day over fifty-five.

If you don't feel well take Tepee Herb Tonic today. It has relieved others and it will relieve you.

Irene Swor

Few actresses take their exercise on the bridle path. It is too much of a risk. But one of the few is Irene Swor, the perfect Venus, with the Earl Carroll "Vanities," the sensasational musical revue coming to the Ceramic Theatre Thursday, Oct. 21.

"In order to keep myself physically perfect for my work," says Miss Swor, "I take a considerable amount of outdoor exercise and whenever possible, I indulge in horseback riding. A good shaking up is a wonderful tonic.

"My idea of riding on a horse is to 'sit in the saddle' as the westerners say, and take all the jolts a horse has to give. Posting is too easy. But the rider who tries to sit in the saddle cavalry style, will get all the exercise necessary. Every time I can, I am out riding a horse."

"THE GORILLA" IS STAGE HIT

Chicago Stock Company Repeat Mystery Play Tonight.

Every seat was taken at the Ceramic last evening when the Chicago Stock company produced the sensational comedy hit, "The Gorilla," one of the most amusing shows ever seen in East Liverpool. The antics of the two detectives, "Mulligan and Garrity," in trying to capture the gorilla kept the large audience in a constant uproar. It is a mystery play chuck full of thrills and sensational scenes, and should attract large crowds again tonight and also at the matinee on Saturday.

Tomorrow evening the company will present an attraction that actually played 276 performances at the Noah Bayes theatre in New York. It is entirely different from any other play and bears the alluring title "Dance Mad." It is the story of a Portugues boy who is at the dangerous age between adolescence and young manhood, when he is beginning to respond to influences outside his home. A fascinating flapper and the alluring rythms of modern dance music draw the boy of foreign race away from the traditions of his courageous ancestors. His mother senses the danger, knowing that the sun beats more warmly on the blood of a Portuguese than on that of an American. Her energy and sacrifice in saving her son brings the play to a thrilling climax.

The company's engagement will be concluded Saturday, the matinee attraction will be a repetition of "The Gorilla" and the evening offering "Mama Loves Papa," Jack McGowan's comedy which is said to be a continuous laugh from inception to climax. A feature of this play is the elaborate staging and gorgeous costuming.

CAST OF 100 IN "VANITIES"

Earl Carroll Show Comes to Ceramic on Oct. 21.

"The Earl Carroll Vanities" which for some years has been the sensation of New York will be presented in it's entirety by the Joseph De Milt, Inc., at the Ceramic theatre, Thursday night, Oct. 21, with a company of 100 people.

The instantaneous success and continued popularity that has been enjoyed by "The Vanities" since it's initial performance is one of the surprising events of the New York stage, for at the time of it's first presentation the field was already crowded with revues, and its success can only be attributed to its originality and the supreme perfection with which it was presented.

The magnificent scenic environment of spectacular extravagance, contrived with absolute disregard of expense, the excellence of the comedians, and the indescribable loveliness of the large and shapely chorus of girls, who appear to great advantage in the series of stage pictures, conceptions of the most skillful directors, supplemented by melodies of an alluring sensuous character, that delight and intoxicate the senses, lend an atmosphere of oriental splendor to this supreme triumph of stagecraft.

The performance opens with the Rotisserie, a charming number, which is followed by various sketches in which the clever featured comedians, Lou Powers, Bert Swor and Dave Chasen, afford much amusement with their brilliant witticisms and clever absurdities. Notable amongst the numbers of the revue are Irene Swor the Perfect Venus in Fan, Shawl and Pearl. Other spectacle numbers are The Gate of Roses, Neath Miami Skies, The Kinky Kids on Parade and The Grand Finale, Hi Ho. The music of the revue is extremely beautiful and contains numerous airs that are readily caught by the audience and become very popular.

So Many Endure Catarrh Needlessly

There is no reason why anyone should bear with the distress of stopped-up head, constant phlegm in the throat, irritating mucous discharge, or other unpleasant effects of catarrh. Thousands have proved that you, too, can get rid of catarrh. The real cause of catarrh is an inflamed condition of the delicate lining of nose, throat and head—the mucous membrane. Clear that up and catarrh vanishes; bad breath and catarrhal deafness disappear. To do this use Hall's Catarrh Medicine, successful for over 40 years. Go to your druggist and get the combined 2-in-1 treatment today. Or send 85c to F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio.

more food Space

FACTS

FRIGIDAIRE provides greater food space than other electric refrigerators of equal size. This is because the highly efficient and economical frost coil, an exclusive Frigidaire feature, occupies less space than the brine tank previously used, permitting greater food storage capacity in a cabinet of any given size. Larger supplies of perishable foods can be carried at one time.

Greater food capacity, quieter operation, freedom from vibration, lower operating cost, a wider range of models, the more precise engineering and manufacturing methods of General Motors, greater beauty of design, proven dependability in service—these are the things that have made Frigidaire the choice of the overwhelming majority of users of electric refrigerators.

Buyers of Light Small Cars will do Well to Ponder these Facts

Essex was built to meet the demand for a small car of enduring and brilliant performance. It was never intended to dominate a price field.

Consequently its design and construction are different from the usual practice in cars selling at or near its price.

And so, also, is its performance. You see this on every hand, in the nimble, powerful way it speeds over the open road or threads through congested traffic. You see it in the endorsement of owners and the lasting character of its performance.

Essex quality is not confined to those details which please the eye. It extends to parts that can never be realized except through long severe service.

Look well to these important details when you choose a car. Be sure it is built to last, built to give long service at small cost. Ride in an Essex "6". Drive one. Note the ease of its operation and that no car regardless of size or cost rides easier.

Standard Equipment Includes: Combination Stop and Tail Light, Automatic Windshield Cleaner, Transmission Lock (built-in), Rear View Mirror, Radiator Shutters, Moto-Meter.

ORA SLATER, MELLETT DEATH QUIZ CHIEF, IS VISITOR HERE

Canton Police Head Accompanies Detective on Trip.

Deny Mission Has Any Connection With Murder of Editor.

Ora Slater, Cincinnati detective, who earned a nation-wide reputation in the Nesbit murder case at Troy and who is in charge of the investigation into the murder of Don R. Mellett, Canton newspaper publisher, accompanied by John "Jiggs" Wise, acting chief of police at Canton, were visitors in East Liverpool yesterday afternoon.

Slater and Wise, traveling in an automobile owned by the city of Canton, arrived here about 2 o'clock and returned, presumably to Canton, at 7 o'clock last night. Their visit, according to Chief of Police McDermott, had no connection with the Mellett murder.

They called at the city hall, where they conferred with Chief of Police McDermott and Mayor Ralph Benedum. Slater wrote several letters while in Mayor Benedum's office.

Wise, who was appointed acting chief of police at Canton following the dismissal of Chief S. E. Lengel, is a nephew of Albert Taylor, Summit lane.

'CARE OF TREES' KIWANIS TOPIC

Chris M. Scherer Speaks at Noon Luncheon.

Chris M. Scherer, Kent, representative of the Davy Tree Expert company, discussed "The Care of Trees" at today's luncheon meeting of the Kiwanis club in Larkins Annex, Market street.

About 60 members of the club and their guests, including visitors from Kent, Canton and Wellsville, attended the meeting. Prof. H. F. Laughlin led a program of singing with William Lodge as the accompanist.

"A tree is nothing more than a big plant," Scherer said. "The only difference between a tree and some plant that grows in a garden is that a tree grows over a long period of years, while the garden plant must be replanted each year.

"The life of a tree has never been determined. The only thing that scientists have been able to determine is that with the right kind of care trees will live for centuries. It is like any other living thing, requiring food, water and air. Many trees, in industrial communities, die as the result of poisonous fumes coming from smoke. You have instances of that kind in the East Liverpool district.

"Trees must also combat thousands and thousands of insects which attack them every year. A few years ago the hickory bark beetle played havoc with hickory trees. On elm trees you will find the elm leaf beetle. Besides these insects trees are very often afflicted with fungus diseases.

"Many of these insects can be eliminated by spraying with arsenate of lead. Copper sulphate should be used in fighting the inroads of the fungus. You can help your trees by fighting their battles against disease and fungus."

Roumanian Qneen, Enroute To U. S., Sutters From Cold

Marie Abandons Plans for Swim Aboard Leviathan—Lunches With Mrs. Woodrow Wilson.

BY JOHN GOETTE.

ABOARD S. S. LEVIATHAN, October 14.—Queen Marie of Roumania is suffering from a slight cold.

Although members of the queen's suite stated that the cold was insignificant they said that the queen wants to take no chances on arriving in the United States indisposed and for this reason she abandoned her plans for a morning swim and also refrained from exercise on the decks.

The queen lunched in the general dining room with Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, and the menu was of typical American food, with chicken a la Maryland as the piece de resistance.

Attends Movie Show.

The queen was further trained in American ways last night by attending a moving picture show on board.

Also arrangements are being made to treat the queen to a few selections of real American jazz, for which purpose Allen White's troupe of collegians of the University of California are to be brought up from their third class quarters to the royal suite.

Queen Marie is proving herself an excellent sailor.

Many of the other passengers have failed to show up in the big dining room, due to the heavy seas through which the Leviathan is ploughing.

Florida Real Estate Broker Jumps Overboard From Ship

Wife, Shocked by Death of David P. Davis, Millionaire, Denies Domestic Trouble.

NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—David P. Davis, Florida real estate millionaire, jumped overboard from the S. S. Majestic yesterday, according to the official report received by the White Star Line offices today from Commander Metcalf, commander of the vessel.

"David P. Davis, first class, jumped through cabin port this morning (Wednesday)," the commander's wireless reported stated. "Thorough investigation. Details very vague. Witness ill. Hence cause of delay.

(Signed) METCALF."

PARIS, Oct. 14.—Mrs. D. P. Davis, wife of the Florida realty magnate who was lost overboard from the S. S. Majestic in mid-ocean yesterday, today had radio advices confirming the death of her husband and was prostrated. Through her friends Mrs. Davis issued a statement declaring that there were no domestic difficulties which could have worried her husband.

TODAY

LET us remember, for our good that what Mr. Kitazawa did in a few hours, nine-tenths of us do in about half a normal lifetime. Too much or wrong eating or both kill the great majority. Senator Copeland, who is also a doctor, says "half of what we eat keeps us alive the other half keeps the doctors alive."

SECRETARY MELLON, whose management has cleared away seven thousand millions of our national debt, says Mussolini's government is no longer a one-man machine.

Mr. Mellon sees in Mussolini, with whom he has had long conversations, not merely "one of the world's most vigorous personalities, but a sound organization builder." Mr. Mellon has proved that he knows something about organization. Ask his business competitors.

He says "Mussolini's organization is sound and there should be time for him to build strongly. He is a young man yet."

MR. MELLON added a parenthesis: "That is of course, if they stop throwing bombs at him."

That is the big if, but courage counts, even against bombs; it discourages and intimidates the bomb thrower and prolongs life. Mussolini has courage.

Traffic Charges Are Filed Against Three Motorists

Charges of parking on the sidewalk have been filed by Patrolman C. C. Smith against Donald Mahon, St. George street, and J. R. Backus, Railroad street, as the result of alleged violations which occurred on Boyce street at 10 o'clock last night.

Production of automobiles in Canada the first six months of this year was about one-third greater than for the same period of 1925.

CROWD HEARS REV. C. H. STULL

Granville Pastor Speaks in First Baptist Church.

A large crowd attended services in the First Baptist church last night when Rev. C. H. Stull, Granville, opened a week-end series of meetings. His opening sermon was "Philip, the Personal Worker."

"Philip was a true servant ready to go anywhere God called him," said the evangelist. "His heart was opened to the spirit of Heaven. He was willing to fill in, ready to sing when called upon. He knew the message that God would have the people know. Philip was a teacher who was absolutely loyal to the Scriptures; he was a saint who knew how to hide himself in the things of God."

Many of the evangelist's audience took part in a special period of prayer service which was conducted in the lecture room of the church following the sermon.

Services will be held again tonight, Friday and Saturday night.

Delegates Attend Grand Commandery Meet in Mansfield

A. L. Weikert and J. L. Vodrey are representing Pilgrim Commandery, No. 55, of this city, at the annual meeting of the grand commandery of the Ohio Knights Templars, which opened in Mansfield yesterday.

The delegates were welcomed by Mayor J. Earl Port and Franz K. Hall, eminent commander of the Mansfield commandery. The response was delivered by Joseph A. Wertman, Dayton, grand generalissimo. Because of the recent death of Grand Commander Charles H. Voegele of Mansfield, no parade or other social features will be held in connection with the conclave. Memorial service for Mr. Voegele was held yesterday afternoon.

Membership at the present time is 38,874, a net gain of 423 for the year, the grand commander reported. The convention will adjourn tonight.

PERSHING WILL LEAD YANKEE BOYS TO PARIS

"Black Jack" Will Head Pilgrimage of Legion.

HONORARY CHIEF

Six Candidates and "Dark Horse" for Commander.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Oct. 14.—San Antonio, Texas, will entertain the American Legion in 1928.

The boys decided to meet two years hence in the Lone Star state after hearing bids from San Antonio, Miami, Detroit and Denver.

By George E. Durno.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 14.—"Black Jack" Pershing, better known as General John J., commander of the A. E. F., will lead the American Legion to Paris next September for its ninth annual convention as permanent honorary national chairman.

Tomorrow the Legion convention here will battle out with ballots the business of selecting the working national commander for 1927.

Six candiddates and a "dark horse" are in the field for the Legion leadership, Colonel J. Monroe Johnson, of South Carolina; Howard Savage, of Illinois; E. E. Spafford, of New York; Frank J. Good of Massachusetts; Thomas Avory Lee, of Kansas; Jay Williams, of South Dakota, and Wilder S. Metcalfe, of Kansas. Metcalfe is not formally in the field.

The present outlook is that the fight will narrow down between Johnson and Savage, with the final provision that if neither can muster the necessary strength, Metcalfe will get the call, the latter being the "dark horse."

Air Full of Politics.

This was the situation today as the Legionnaires settled down to the final business of this year's meeting. Hotel rooms were overrun with caucuses and delegates were being buttonholded for pledges in every lobby.

Pershing, originally slated for the 1927 commandership, has left the convention. Leaders know he would under no circumstances accept because of his advanced age and the arduousness of the duties to be entailed. He did, however, tell a committee he would be pleased to accept of honor of election of a lifetime honorary chairman.

With the Pershing candidacy thus disposed of, campaigners for the other aspirants have redoubled their efforts during the past 24 hours. The air is full of politics, trading and compromise.

On the strength of four caucuses last night Colonel Johnson, better known to the Legion as "Steamboat," had the call at the present moment. Fifteen states comprising the southern caucus with a total of 224 votes and 14 states in the western caucus with 184 votes have indicated a preference for the South Carolinian.

Clarence Bishop's Fine for Attacking Wife is Suspended

A fine of $10, assessed against Clarence Bishop when he faced Municipal Judge J. C. Hanley today upon a charge of assault and battery, preferred by his estranged wife, Mrs. Ernestine Bishop, was suspended.

Bishop is alleged to have attacked his wife near the corner of Bradshaw avenue and Walnut street last Monday night while she was on her way home, in an effort to obtain possession of two rings.

Judge Hanley warned Bishop not to molest his wife in the future.

Names of Witnesses Withheld.

CHICAGO, Oct. 14.—H. Yates, secretary of Senator Reed of Missouri, chairman of the senate committee which will probe Indiana's political scandal, arrived in Chicago today but refused to make public the list of witnesses to be summoned here Monday. Yates went immediately to the federal building and launched plans for the committee's sessions.

Palmer E. Anderson, United States marshal, said he had received no word regarding serving of subpoenas for the committee's witnesses.

Message to White House.

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 14.—Indiana's probe of "Stephensonism" in her state and municipal governments crept to the door of the White House today.

A telegram, urging President Coolidge to use his influence to have the story of alleged political corruption brought into the light of day, was dispatched by Thomas H. Adams, Vincennes publisher, acting as chairman of an independent probe committee.

A second appearance of D. C. Stephenson, potentate of Indiana's alleged super-government, before the Marion county grand jury in session here to probe the charges of corruption in high places of state and city governments, loomed today on the investigation horizon, clouded and befogged with charges and counter charges, whispered conferences, secret meetings and sudden goings and comings of the principal actors in this drama.

REPORTS FROM STOCK MARKET

NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—Railroad stocks and a small number of the industrials and specialities continues their rally at the beginning of trading today, principally as a result of short covering and professional buying. These stocks drew the bulk of the spot-light, Timken, a newcomer to the active list, rushed up to 73¼, completing a 10 point gain since Wednesday noon. General Motors at 154½ showed a 6 point advance on the move, while Allied Chemical was up 6 and Cast Iron Pipe up 4.

Bush Fires Rage

have been destroyed by the fires.

Cattle and livestock have fled in panic before the flames, and huge losses are mounting to owners of cattle.

The losses in timber land will run into huge figures, it is feared.

Although every effort is being made to check the sweep of the flames, human efforts have proved puny when pitted against the forces of nature.

An Oxford Season

MORE smartly dressed women are wearing oxfords this season than for many years.

Dame Fashion seems suddenly to have remembered how much more comfort and support to the feet is to be had in an oxford. This is especialy true of the

Cantilever Shoe

Lacing a Cantilever oxford draws its flexible shank or arch snugly up under the corresponding arch of your foot.

This gives exactly the support needed for tired muscles, without weakening them by over-support and lack of exercise.

The Cantilever sole and heel are so shaped as to relieve the inner arch of excess weight. This helps to make walking and standing much easier.

A few minutes here will show how delightfully comfortable Cantilever oxfords are.

HOW TO REDUCE VARICOSE VEINS

Rub Gently and Upward Toward the Heart as Blood in Veins Flows That Way.

Many people have become despondent because they have been led to believe that there is no remedy that will reduce swollen veins and bunches.

If you will get a two-ounce original bottle of Moone's Emerald Oil (full strength) at any first-class drug store and apply it night and morning as directed you will quickly notice an improvement which will continue until the veins and bunches are reduced to normal.

BOOK FOUR—III.

Bones Allen, like many gentlemen of his years and proclivities, was afraid of other gentlemen's mothers. He regarded them as unnecessary and even obnoxious, and the habit they had of seeming to look straight through his skin to his soul disconcerted him to the writhing point. "Mothers" was a vituperative term in Bones' diction; it included all maternal ancestors above ground except his own, and preceded the phrase "cramp my style" as inevitably as, in gastronomic diction, "bread" precedes "and butter."

Wherefore the news that his roommate's mother, whom he had never met, was even now ensconced in his room and awaiting him, became as a light but provoking blow of misfortune. "The devil she is!" he said, and betook himself thither with sighs.

His initial thought was that there had been a mistake. This daintily shapely person standing alone in the room with her back toward him could be no mother. Why this was a girl! . . . Then she faced about and he saw that she was not a girl but that she must have been one very recently. People often had that feeling about Mrs. Hamill.

"Hello, Bones," she said. "For of course that's who you are."

"How-d'y'-do. Awfully glad."

They shook hands. Mrs. Hamill sank down on the window-seat and opened the platinum cigarette case monogrammed in sapphires that hung from a chain on her arm, extending it invitingly. Bones accepted one. His peace of mind was returning.

"I've just been looking at her," Mrs. Hamill waved her cigarette toward the pictured Yvonne. "Isn't she simply magnificent?"

Bones said she was."

"Don't you think I'm fortunate to be acquiring such a decorative daughter-in-law?"

Bones did think so.

Mrs. Hamill blew an amazing cloud of smoke from a mouth like a scarlet letter O and asked, "Have you seen the original?"

"No, I haven't."

"That's too bad! I haven't either, yet, and I wanted you to tell me about her. All I can get out of Jock is that she has promised to marry him, that she has red hair, and that, to quote him, 'they broke the mould after they made her.' Having said which he appears to believe that I'm well enough informed."

"He sure is dippy about her," Bones contributed.

"He must be! Last night from home he talked to her on the telephone for one hour, and I—"

"Is that where he's been? He's been home?"

"Why, yes. Where else?"

"I—I didn't know. He went without saying anything to anybody—"

"Sit down," directed Mrs. Hamill gently. "I want to talk to you a little before Jock comes back — he's over at the Dean's office just at present. He's leaving college, you know. I drove down with him today ostensibly to pack up his things, but really I'm here for a different reason. In fact, Bones," she smiled deliciously at him, "you see in me a lioness fighting to protect her cub, because the cub, though well equipped to protect himself, declines resolutely to do so!"

She quashed out her cigarette and sat very straight, holding one crossed knee in the cup of her hands. "I need your help. Briefly, here's what's happened: Jock got home at three o'clock yesterday morning, having left that Mrs. Hathaway's house in the early evening in such a state of mind that—well, he was almost beside himself, poor lamb. To my surprise, for he's usually very reticent as you no doubt know, he was anxious to confide in me. And did. He told me the whole story of his connection with the Hathaways, of the man's death, and of the slander that has attached itself to him on account of the woman—"

"It's her fault!" Bones interrupted at this point. "She's promoted it every way she can think of—"

"I gathered that. I gathered a great many things Jock didn't actually say. I think I know exactly the sort of woman Mrs. Hathaway is."

"She's the goddamnedest—I'm sorry, Mrs. Hamill—"

"Don't apologize. You haven't said a tenth of what I think. Now, she has informed Jock that in view of the talk that links their names, he should feel obliged to marry her. I know!" she continued hastily, as Bones seemed on the point of exploding. "I know just how it affects you. It affects me the same way. It's the most farcical thing that ever happened. But the trouble is, Jock has worked himself to the point where he actually is convinced that he should! Some misguided notion of chivalry and honor. Naturally, since he's engaged to Miss Mountford and head over heels in love with her, the prospect—"

Mrs. Hamill allowed a moment's silence to imply that the prospect was too dismaying for expression. She looked at Bones, and knew a deep little warmth. "Just sick about it" she decided mentally. "Bless his old heart!"

She leaned toward him confidently, and Bones leaned also, so that their tete-a-tete took on the semblance of a conspiracy. "Do you know where Jock keeps his strong-box?" she queried. "You do? Well, in that strong-box, right this minute, there's a letter written by Bradley Hathaway giving the reasons for his suicide—which, incidentally, do not involve Jock in any remotest way. Don't you think it might help matters if we took possession of that letter?"

"Say! There isn't!"

"Yes there is. Jock told me so himself."

"Why, say, gee, but—" Bones was spluttering wildly in his excitement. "But he always vowed up and down he didn't have an idea why Brad crocked off! I bet I've asked him a thousand times!"

"Jock," said Mrs. Hamill quietly and proudly, "is sometimes very nearly too fine for this world. Of course this time he's been a fool. But rather an admirable fool. I declare, when he was telling me all this, I didn't know whether to kiss him or to slap him hard!" . . . Seeing Bones cross the room and begin to burrow into a closet purposefully, she added, "Yes, get it now, before he comes. I have no conscience whatever in this matter and I rejoice to perceive that you haven't either, but if Jock catches us at it—"

"Hell will pop," finished Bones concisely, emerging. He clutched the strong box, an oblong tin receptacle bruised with dents and scratches. "Don't know where the key is, I'll have to break the lock."

"Do."

He laid the box, open, in Mrs. Hamill's lap, and she explored its contents with flying fingers. Verses, innumerable verses, scrawled in pencil on smudgy papers of divers sorts and sizes. Two little black notebooks. A snapshot of a laughing blonde in a canoe. A package of purple-inked billets-doux, eloquent of some last-year's love. A swollen envelope marked "Keep" with an elastic girdling its middle. A wedding invitation that bore the notation "Sic transit Gloria" in Jock's handwriting across the face of it. A sheaf of clippings from newspapers and magazines. A typewritten copy of a lecture on sex by Professor Somebody of Columbia University. An address book, nude of covers. A page torn from a theatre program with "Lisette LaLune, Plaza 3500" on the margin. . . .

What Are Doing For Your Puny Child?

One Boy Gained 11 Pounds in 7 Weeks and Is Now Strong and Healthy.

For weak, frail, under-developed children—and especially those that have rickets, and need a sure builder that promotes the growth of teeth and bones, Cod Liver Oil is the one medicine supreme—nothing helps like it.

But it is nasty and repulsive and evil smelling and nearly always upsets children's stomachs—so now up-to-date chemists advise McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets.

Children love them as they do candy, because they are sugar coated and easy to take. One boy gained 11½ pounds in seven weeks, and is now healthy and happy—thousands of other children have grown strong and robust.

Sixty tablets for 60c at Mathews Med. Store and all druggists—but be sure and insist on McCoy's—the original and genuine.

Give them to the sickly, frail child for 30 days, and if they don't help—wonderfully, your druggist is authorized to hand you back the money you paid for them.

STOP BAD BREATH

People afflicted with bad breath find quick relief through Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. The pleasant, sugar-coated tablets are taken for bad breath by all who know them.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets act gently but firmly on the bowels and liver, stimulating them to natural action, clearing the blood and gently purifying the entire system. They do that which dangerous calomel does without any of the bad after effects.

Olive Tablets bring no griping, pain or any disagreeable effects.

Dr. F. M. Edwards discovered the formula after 20 years of practice among patients afflicted with bowel and liver complaint, with the attendant bad breath.

Olive Tablets are purely a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil; you will know them by their olive color. Take nightly for a week and note the effect. 15c, 30c, 60c. All Druggists.

SICK CHILDREN LOVE "CASCARETS" FOR THE BOWELS

Give "Candy Cathartic" for a bad cold, sour stomach, constipation

Get a 10-cent box now.

Most of the ills of childhood are caused by a sour, disordered stomach, sluggish liver and constipated bowels. They catch cold easily, become cross, listless, irritable, feverish, restless, tongue coated, don't eat or sleep well and need a gentle cleansing of the bowels—but don't try to force a nauseating dose of oil into the little one's already sick stomach—it is cruel, needless and old-fashioned.

Any child will gladly take Cascarets Candy Cathartic which act gently—never gripe or produce the slightest uneasiness—though they cleanse the little one's system, sweeten the stomach and put the liver and bowels in a pure, healthy condition.

Full directions for children and grown-ups in each package.

Mothers can rest easy after giving this gentle, thorough laxative which costs only 10 cents a box at any drug store.

King's Herald of the M. E. church will meet with Miss Erma Dyke Thursday evening.

The Love Thief

IT was only natural, perhaps, that Barbara's heart should beat a little quicker when she first met Norman Parish. To be sure, he told Barbara nothing about himself—but his brown eyes laughed so frankly, and he seemed so perfect a gentleman, that she had no suspicion he was not everything he seemed to be.

And then one night, when he came to her, his slow step and the wretched look in his eyes instantly told her that something was wrong. But she did not dream of the terrible drama that was about to unfold, and in which she was to play so tragic a part. Could Barbara have been warned in time, she might have been saved the crushing remorse and bitter sorrow that were to darken her life for many years to come.

Don't fail to read Barbara's story in the November issue of True Story Magazine. The story is complete, starting on page 31—and is only one of the 18 thrilling true-life narratives that appear in the November issue of this intensely interesting magazine.

Other Absorbing Features in November True Story Are:

"Cheaters"—A young wife, with too little to occupy her mind, Alice soon came to regard her search for diversion as a quite harmless but thrilling pastime. Certainly it was with no thought of wrong that she eagerly accepted the invitation of a woman acquaintance to take her to places of doubtful reputation where she could "see a little of life." But Alice's very eagerness was to lead her blindly into a most terrible situation, and was to teach her a lesson she can never forget. A powerful, thought-compelling true story.

"Mad Love"—Like many another girl who is misled by the false glamour of a "movie" career, Ruth dreamed of the day when she would have the world at her feet. So with beauty and ambition as her sole capital, she set out to conquer fame in the studios. Of course, there could be only one result, and she might have profited by her defeat if she had not fallen madly in love with a popular screen idol. Today it is all like a terrible dream, which she feels will never be erased from her memory.

Minister Praises True Story

If all publications that are now before the public received the careful scrutiny and thorough inspection that the Macfadden publications receive I am satisfied that there would soon be a great change for the better in home and community life. One of the greatest tasks of a rural minister's life is to combat the great evil that has been for years encroaching stealthily but surely upon the spiritual life of his people through the poisoning of the mind by indiscriminate reading.

May success attend your every effort for purer and cleaner living as you continue your good work of publishing the TRUTH.

Sincerely yours,
Rev. Walter E. Brooks
South Hamilton, Mass.

FOUR-MILL TAX ISSUE GOES ON FALL BALLOT

Additional Funds are Needed to Meet Expenses.

OLD LEVY ENDS

Three Mills Voted in 1923 Proved Insufficient.

Appeal to Wellsville electors for the ratification of the four-mill tax levy which will be submitted at the general election on November 2, was made today by the Wellsville board of education.

Three-mill levy granted for the operation of the schools three years ago has expired and additional funds, school authorities point out, will be necessary if the present schedule is to be maintained.

The levy voted in 1923 was in itself insufficient to handle operating expenses, a deficit of approximately $15,000 arising last year.

At the November election voters will be asked to renew the old levy and vote an additional mill which is expected to provide sufficient additional funds, over and above that raised by the three mills, to meet the financial burden.

Renewal of the three-mill levy plus the one mill additional is asked for a period of five years.

Through this method, the board expects to be able to meet obligations as they arise, instead of being compelled to borrow money or issue bonds, both being expensive.

SUMMITVILLE SEEKS TORNADO RELIEF FUND

Citizens and Red Cross Contribute Money.

$2,500 GOAL SET

Barns Leveled, Crops Damaged by Recent "Twister."

Seeking to raise a tornado relief fund of at least $2,500, citizens of Summitville and Franklin township along the Cleveland & Pittsburgh railroad, have issued an appeal to the district and county at large for relief for the storm stricken farmers.

Citizens of Franklin township have contributed approximately $700 to the fund and the Columbiana county Red Cross organization has given $550.

The loss in Franklin township, however, will run into thousands of dollars as a result of the "twister" which hit the district recently, leveling barns, tearing down fences and proving generally ruinous to crops.

Efforts of the committee to reach the $2,500 goal have failed in view of the limited population of the district.

J. J. Peebles, clerk at Summitville, is treasurer of the committee handling contributions to the relief fund.

3 ways this House Paint Excels

Its superior beauty durability and economy established by three practical tests

The Weather Machine Test—Panels covered with Devoe paint are placed upon the slowly turning wheel of the "weather machine" in our factories, and subjected to the heat, cold and wet that paint must withstand in actual use before it is put into the can.

The Pigment Test—Six pigments used in house paint—white lead, white zinc, magnesium silicate, barytes, china clay, and silica—were mixed with linseed oil and applied to a black panel. White Lead and White Zinc—the pigments, used in Devoe Lead and Zinc House Paint are the only pigments that completely cover and hide the black surface.

The Spreading Test—Tested by practical painters and laboratories, over and over again Devoe paint has proved its superior spreading and covering capacity.

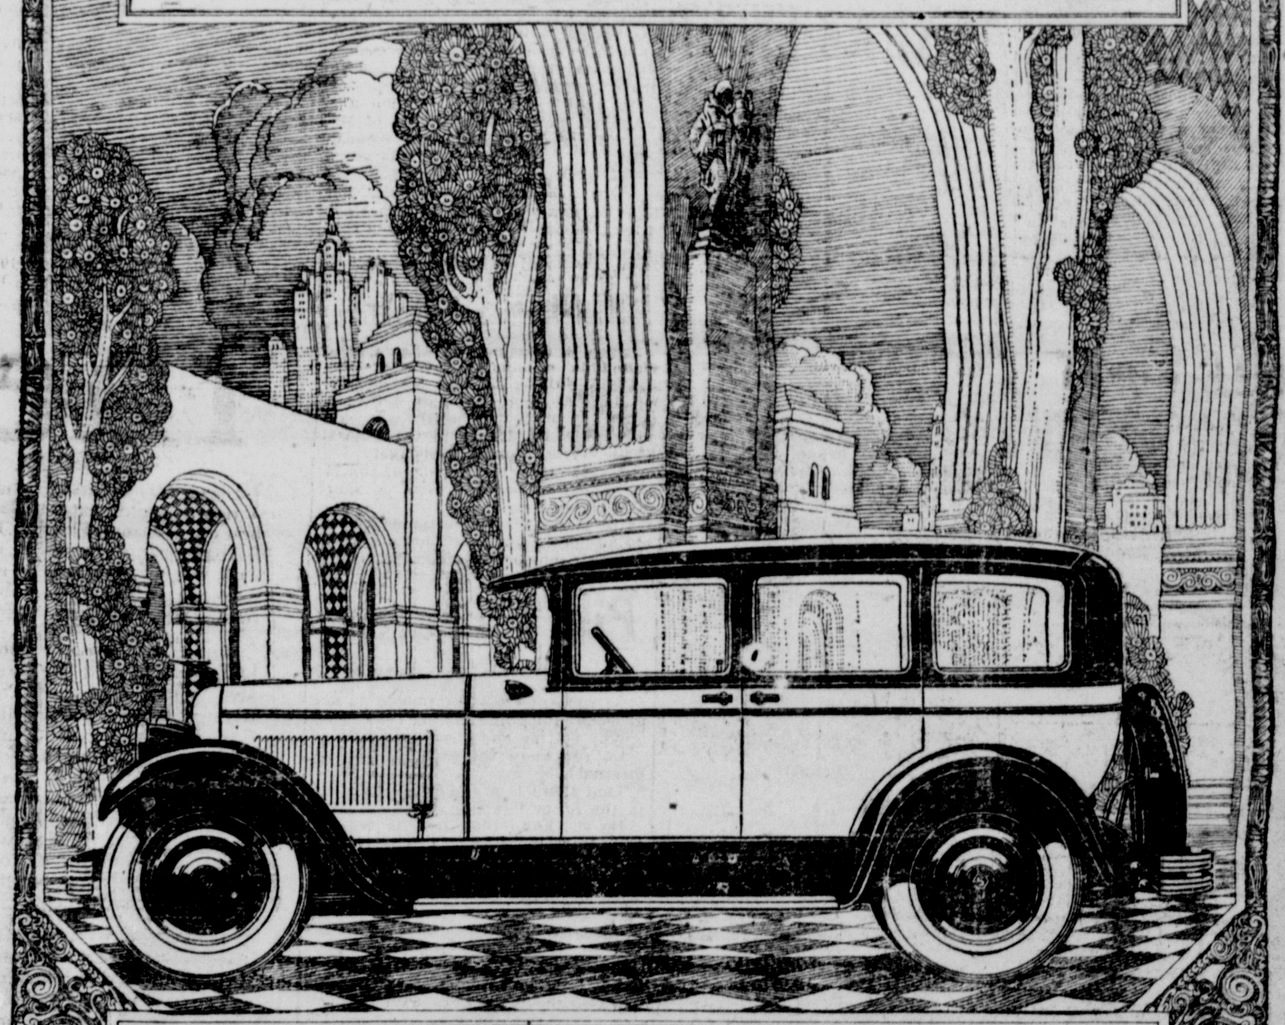

It is guaranteed to give satisfaction when applied according to directions.

MINE WORKERS IN BIG DEMAND

One thousand miners could be placed in jobs at mines in the Kanawha, New River and Fairmont districts by C. M. O'Neal, examiner in charge of the federal and state labor bureau, it was announced at Mr. O'Neal's office in the old temporary capitol building at Charleston yesterday.

Mr. O'Neal had a number of photostatic copies of payrolls at various mines which he is using to show that the miners in the three districts are receiving good wages. The men at work, he said, are averaging $100 every two weeks so long as they continue on their jobs without lay-offs.

Labor agents from other states, recently have visited Mr. O'Neal for the purpose of assembling men to take away for work, but he was forced to decline giving any assistance because of the demand for workers in West Virginia.

3-MILE ROAD WILL BE BUILT

State Probably Will Act on Lincoln Way Hook-up.

Contract for the improvement of the three-mile stretch of road between Chester and the Pennsylvania state line probably will be awarded by the West Virginia road commission early next month.

This became known today following the visit yesterday of J. R. Snyder, of Charleston, divisional engineer, who made an inspection of the proposed route which will form part of the Lincoln highway to Pittsburgh. He was accompanied by a federal engineer.

While no announcement was made, it is believed the contract will be let at the next meeting of the commission which will be held in Charleston on Monday, November 8.

Work, it is understood, will begin early next spring.

Child-birth

THOUSANDS of mothers for over three generations have praised Mother's Friend for relieving them of unnecessary pains during expectancy.

"Everyone was surprised how well I got along," writes Mrs. Alfred E. Ammon, Muncie, Ind. "My pains disappeared after using Mother's Friend and I was sick only an hour and a half at baby's birth."

Mother's Friend is the formula of an eminent physician. It is made from a combination of highly refined oils and other wonderful ingredients and is for outward application. Mother's Friend aids the skin and muscles to expand more easily during the constant readjustment of expectancy, month after month, right up to childbirth.

Mother! Insist on Mother's Friend—the same as used by our mothers and grandmothers—don't wait—start using tonight—and meanwhile write Bradfield Regulator Co., Dept. 33, Atlanta, Ga., for free valuable booklet "Motherhood and the Coming Baby" (sent in plain envelope). It tells how Mother's Friend can help you during expectancy and at childbirth. This booklet also tells you many other things you want to know. "Mother's Friend" is sold by all druggists—everywhere.

Mack Players Will Present 'Rooms for Rent,' Farce Comedy.

"Rooms for Rent," a farce comedy, will be the offering of the Red Mack players for the last half of the week at the Strand theatre.

Frank Hawkins will appear in blackface in the new offering. Other comedy parts will be handled by Red Mack, J. Ernest Miller, Vera Reno and Percy Deville. Stanley Gordon and Mae Mack are cast as the two lovers.

Do Your Gums Bleed and Recede from the Teeth?

Tender, sore or bleeding gums, or gums fissured or receding from the teeth, indicate DEADLY PYORRHEA—the teeth's worst enemy. The disease first attacks the gums, later the tooth structure. As the gums recede from the teeth, pus pockets are formed, in which toxic poisons develop to be absorbed by the system and become the possible sources of other dangerous diseases. Don't let Pyorrhea endanger your health. The ravages of this terrible disease can be stopped, the gums healed and the poison the system has been absorbing checked, by the use of VINCENT'S PYORRHEA TREATMENT. For further particulars write,

more food Space

FACTS

This is one of the reasons why there are more Frigidaires in use than all other electric refrigerators combined. Additional reasons are covered in other advertisements.

FRIGIDAIRE provides greater food space than other electric refrigerators of equal size. This is because the highly efficient and economical frost coil, an exclusive Frigidaire feature, occupies less space than the brine tank previously used, permitting greater food storage capacity in a cabinet of any given size. Larger supplies of perishable foods can be carried at one time.

Greater food capacity, quieter operation, freedom from vibration, lower operating cost, a wider range of models, the more precise engineering and manufacturing methods of General Motors, greater beauty of design, proven dependability in service—these are the things that have made Frigidaire the choice of the overwhelming majority of users of electric refrigerators.

Come to our display room, telephone, or mail coupon below for complete information.

County Teams Launch Drives for Annual Scholastic Title

Kidder's Crew to Mix With East Palestine; May Try Pass Attack

After Defeat by Columbiana, Leetonia Drills Strenuously for Clash at Wellsville; Chester Gridders go Into Action at Weirton.

PLUNGING into their annual intra-county contests in quest of victories and the 1926 county scholastic grid championship, four of the circuit's half-dozen leading contenders for the honors will be in action along the Ohio valley Saturday, games being scheduled here and at Wellsville.

Coach George Kidder's Blue and White's combine will take on East Palestine, the game marking the Brown and White's first road trip of the campaign, and Wellsville will entertain the Leetonia eleven which last Saturday bowed to a strong Columbiana squad, 6-0.

Ray Wilde's Chester eleven, which lost by a slim margin at Follansbee last Saturday, again will perform before hostile crowds being booked for grid duty at Weirton and the outcome of the clash will determine to a great extent Chester's hopes for the Hancock county championship.

East Palestine is figuring the game here Saturday as one of the two "classics" of the Brown and White card this season and is preparing accordingly.

Although proud of their 19-0 conquest over Salineville last Saturday the East Palestine pigskin contingent is keen enough to realize that it will face a different brand of opposition this week and is not counting any top strongly on a victory. The north countians have not yet played an opponent of sufficient strength to determine for a certainty the team's real power.

Not likely to face the hammer and tongs variety of attack handed out by the heavy East Akron outfit in the most recent game of the season here, Coach Kidder may elect to fling a few passes Saturday or try out several new plays that the squad has been working on this week.

Their passes worked more than ordinarily successfully in the recent scrimmage at Columbian park, with Jack Bromby on the heaving end and Lincoln taking them in.

Coach Klinck's Wellsville team developed a powerful attack last Saturday against Dover, with Calhoun as the main spring of the onslaught, and only an inopportune fumble on the part of the Wellsville safety man on a Dover punt, which gave the visitors their chance to score, prevented a Wellsville victory.

Leetonia came out of the Columbiana game in good physical condition although mentally conditions were not any too pleasing as a result of Columbiana's surprising victory. In consequence of the setback the Leetonia squad is drilling hard and heavy this week in atonement for its gridiron sins.

The Chester eleven yesterday was presented with a medicine kit for emergency use in its future games. The kit was the gift of F. S. Huff, druggist, and G. L. Douglass, cashier of the First bank.

"TOUGH LUCK" ELEVENS CLASH

Mount and Case Renew "Friendly Grid Grudge."

ALLIANCE, O., Oct. 14.—The two "hard luck" teams of northern Ohio will clash here Saturday when Mount Union college and Case play off their annual "friendly grid grudge."

Last Saturday, Mount Union lost to Oberlin, 7-2, on a blocked kick in the final stages of a hectic struggle on Mount field. While this was in progress Case dropped a similar "hard luck" bout to Wooster, 7-0, on a fumbled ball just as the curtain was about to drop upon a scoreless tie.

In two years Mount has suffered but one touchdown from scrimmage—this on a 30-yard run in the Miami game. Mistakes made in the Oberlin game are being corrected this week. Mount's half-and-half team—half veterans and half green men, is expected to hit its stride in the Case game.

Already indications point to a record crowd here Saturday. Past years have proven that Case is more of a drawing card here than in Cleveland and for that reason the Scientists' sked makers have booked Mount at Alliance on several successive years.

Saints Show Power.

CINCINNATI — Joe Meyer, head football coach of St. Xavier, was so pleased with the showing of his men against the Marines Saturday that he cut the workout short yesterday. Tomorrow preparations for the game with the University of Louisville will be started in earnest.

Hiram Has Light Drill.

HIRAM — Considerably battered as a result of its game with Western Reserve Saturday, Hiram was given a light workout yesterday. Injuries suffered by Broadhurst, quarterback, will keep him out of the game for the rest of the season, necessitating reconstruction of the entire backfield.

A convention to stabilize prices and standardize goods has been formed by rayon producers of Germany.

LOUGHRAN SET FOR BURKE GO

Winds Up Training in Chicago for Monday Bout.

CHICAGO, Oct. 14.—Tommy Loughran, Philadelphia heavyweight, and one of the host of potential challengers for the crown of Gene Tunney, is due in Chicago today to complete training for his ten-round bout here Monday with Martin Burke, of New Orleans.

Loughran will do his boxing and bag punching at a local gymnasium, and his road work in Lincoln Park. By virtue of his showing against Jack Dempsey while acting as the latter's sparring partner, the Philadelphia fighter is rated as one of the foremost candidates for the heavyweight title.

Burke has been here since Tuesday and is reported in first class shape for Monday's setto. Although Marty is a big fellow with a powerful punch, Loughran is favored to whip him.

Women are Victors In Feature Track Event in England

NEW MARKET, England, Oct. 14.—Miss Iris Rickaby, England's foremost woman jockey, today won the Newmarket Town Plate, riding Stephania.

The Newmarket Town Plate is an ancient race, run once a year and during past years women have been keen contenders. Miss Rickaby has been well up in front in this race for the past three years.

Miss Ellen Joel, who comes from a famous racing family, finished second today, and the male jockeys managed to barely nose into the money, when Dixon, a male rider, finished third.

INSIDE GOLF

By CHESTER HORTON,
Maker of 81 Golf Champions.
"Golf's most successful teacher," says "Chick" Evans.

It should be obvious to the average golfer that in order to bring about a pressure from the entire right side against the shaft in the forward swing, he should keep his back swing rather short. By short I mean that the arms should go only about shoulder high, and there stop. Don't force them up. Instead, let the shoulder turn to the right slightly. An inch of turn to the right with the shoulders, at this particular point in the swing, is worth ten feet of stretching the arms upward and backward. Power does not spring from the arms. It comes from a co-ordination of body, shoulders and arms, and, lastly, wrists and of all these the most power comes from the body and the shoulders and the least from the arms. When the shaft is just below a straight up position in the back swing it is at the top. Stop it there, then go forward with the entire right side of the body pushing against it.

BURNS GIVEN PLAYER AWARD

Cleveland First Baseman Gets 63 Out of 64 Points.

CHICAGO, Oct. 14.—George H. Burns, Cleveland first baseman, has been voted the most valuable player in the American league for the season of 1926.

Burns, with 13 years of major league service, was the choice of eight well known sport writers engaged by American league officials to make the selection.

The balloting was practically unanimous in favor of the Cleveland first baseman. He obtained 63 points out of a possible 64.

This choice places the name of Burns on the American league honor roll along with the names of Ruth, Cobb, Speaker, Collins, Peckinpaugh, Sisler and Johnson.

John Mostil, of the Chicago White Sox, was the second choice of the award committee. He received only half as many votes as Burns. One vote behind Mostil came Herb Pennock, of the New York Yankees. Then came Sam Rice, of Washington, and Harry Heilmann, of Detroit, with 18 and 16 points respectively.

The names of 26 players were considered by the award committee.

ALCROFT WINS OPEN TITLE

Deposes Nabholtz as King of Buckeye Pros.

AKRON, O., Oct. 14. — Albert Alcroft, professional of the Youngstown Country club, today is open golf champion of Ohio, having deposed Larry Nabholtz, of Cleveland, here yesterday by finishing the final 18 holes of the tournament with a magnificent 70.

Alcroft finished with 296, one stroke ahead of Ray Derr, of Cincinnati. Tom Rackletts, of Girard, was third with 301 strokes.

Columbia on Defense For Buckeye Attack; Marty Karow Feared

Coach Crowley Hopes to Perfect Defense That Will Stop Disastrous Plunges of Ohio Back; Only Three Regulars Will Start Game Saturday for Eastern Combine.

By Davis J. Walsh.

NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—It seems to be generally understood that one doesn't drive in that run from first base with a spectacular base on balls nor score a knockout by making the other gent miss. Therefore the writer is disposed to believe that Columbia university will not be greatly irritated on Saturday if it doesn't finish worse than second to Ohio State, the first Big Ten team ever to show in New York.

The official attitude at Columbia today was strictly a defensive one and the only thing they regretted was that they couldn't say the same for their football team. The latter, it seemed, wasn't strictly anything in particular.

"We are concentrating on stopping Karow," was Charley Crowley's summation. "He tore our line apart last year, forced us to play seven men up and left us without an adequate defense against the passing game. We are hoping to perfect a defense that will allow us to play six men on the line and let the center rove."

What Crowley might have said was that he was trying to accomplish two ends and that neither of them were easy. He hopes to stop a good line plunger with a set of inexperienced forwards and at the some time use a running attack of his own inside and outside of tackle. He happens to have two fair plunging backs in Madden and Sesit but they will need to be better than that to click with any degree of regularity behind a green line.

As far as the Columbia-Ohio State affair is concerned, I think the boys on the heights are prepared to throw that one out and start all over again. Columbia is not the team it was last year and the Buckeye is better; in fact, it is said to have assembled its best array since the championship output of 1920. Incidentally, that superior Columbia team of 1925 lost to that unrepresentative Ohio State eleven by 9 to 0. You can figure that one up without using the fingers.

Only three 1925 regulars will start the game for Columbia—Madden and Sesit in the backfield and Brady at end. The others were substitutes or worse last year. Pease, quarterback, is gone. So are Wagner, a fine end; Kirchmeyer, a back; and Schimetitsch, Wiberg, Aulick and Raphael. Some of these worthies may not have been so hot but at least they had big game experience.

The only forwards in the present squad who can say the same are Reyolds and Alkoff and they serve to give the right side of the line a rather superior aspect, with Brady playing right end. The others, French, center; Shaw, left guard; Kerrigan, left tackle and Furey, left end, never have faced an outfit of Ohio State's speed and general class.

I can imagine that the boys' education will be somewhat amplified when Otto Hess begins to roam around through the line; Karow comes plunging in and Marek and Eby are turned loose on the ends.

Crowley, a product of rather contradictory systems at Harvard and Notre Dame, seems to be a confirmed conservative and I don't know what I blame him, in this case. One doesn't feel the urge to break a neighbor's windows with only a sponge available.

The injury to Empringham has necessitated a backfield shift and, with Norris at fullback, it is likely that Columbia will employ the old Harvard idea of kicking early and often and waiting for the break, if any. Rieger, a fast man, will be used as quarterback but with the huddle system in operation, it is possible that Captain Madden will share the burden of generalship or whatever it is the boys kid themselves about.

It is possible the writer has given the impression that he doesn't think Columbia is much of a football team. It isn't.

BUCKEYE ELEVEN OFF FOR NEW YORK

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 14.—Ohio State's squad, 34 strong, leaves at 6:30 tonight and will arrive in New York at 9 tomorrow morning for Saturday's game with Columbia. The team will go through a short practice session, devoted largely to signal drill, this afternoon.

Elmer Marek, star halfback, still is nursing an injured shoulder and may not see service against Columbia.

Expect To Down Kent.

TIFFIN—Heidelberg gridders went through a snappy practice yesterday. The squad is in excellent condition after the Otterbein victory and is confident of putting the Kent Normal game this week-end on the victory ledger.

GLIMPSES FROM THE SIDELINES

Penn Star Laid Up.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 14.—Al Wascolonis, Penn's star fullback, is laid up with a leg injury and may not start against Chicago Saturday. The Chicago eleven will work out here tomorrow.

New York To Rest.

NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—No scrimmage will be ordered for the New York University eleven today. Captain Briante and other regulars are recovering from injuries and the coaches want them to be in the best possible shape for the Tulane game.

Noble Back In Game.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Oct. 14.—Larry Noble, Yale's veteran back, will replace Bruce Caldwell, who sprained his ankle yesterday, in the Dartmouth game. Dummy scrimmage will be held today.

Dooley On Sidelines.

HANOVER, N. J., Oct. 14.—Eddie Dooley, newlywed and Dartmouth's all-American quarterback, may be replaced in the Yale game Saturday by Bob Harris, a sophomore. Dooley has been kept on the sidelines for two consecutive days.

Navy Chances Hurt.

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Oct. 14.—Navy's chances of victory against Princeton have received a severe setback because of the loss of Alan Shapley, triple threat backfield star, from injuries. Jake Cross, left guard, and Hardwick, right end, are also out.

Tigers Not Over Confident.

PRINCETON, N. J., Oct. 14.—Princeton is not over-confident of defeating the Navy on Saturday following the varsity's poor showing yesterday. The regulars made only one touchdown against the scrubs.

Clinches Center Job.

NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—George French has clinched the Columbia center post for the Ohio State contest. The coaches today will concentrate on perfecting a defense against the Buckeye passing game.

Harvard Defense Poor.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Oct. 14.—Harvard probably will present a poor defense against William and Mary on Saturday. The scrubs scored on the varsity yesterday.

Orange In Great Shape.

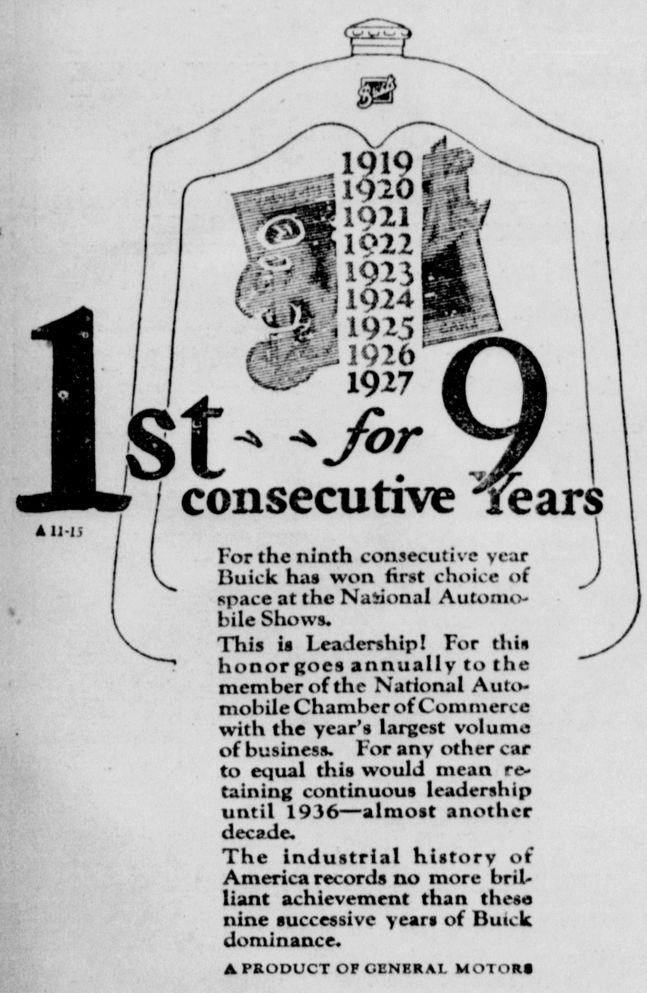

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Oct. 14.—The Orange team is in splendid condition for the Army game. Playing against the freshmen, the varsity made four touchdowns in twenty minutes.

Prepare Pass Defense.

WEST POINT, N. Y., Oct. 14.—Defense against the forward pass features Army's preparations for the Syracuse game. The coaches are pleased with the team's progress.

Huddle System At Cornell.

ITHACA, N. Y., Oct. 14.—Cornell may use the huddle system against Michigan on Saturday and in future games. The team has mastered the shift in this week's practice.

The Film Story of Mining.

The department of Commerce, through the bureau of Mines which it recently took over from the department of the Interior, possesses the largest collection ever compiled of educational motion picture films depicting the mining, treatment, distribution, and utilization of the numerous essential minerals that comprise so large a part of the wealth of the United States in natural resources.

At present, is is stated, the bureau's motion picture library includes more than fifty subjects visualizing the operations of the mineral and allied industries of the nation. More than 2,000,000 feet of film go to make up this library. This is the equivalent of 2,000 ordinary reels, and at the rate press agents of the motion picture industry estimate costs they would represent an investment of many millions. They cost, however, only $1,000,000, and the entire expense of making them was borne by private industrial enterprises that have cooperated with the bureau of Mines in its educational campaign.

These films are loaned free of charge to all organizations desiring to use them, with the understanding that they will be handled with the greatest possible care, and that all damage and loss other than nominal wear and tear will be made good by the borrower. Distribution is centered at the United States bureau of Mines Experiment Station, Pittsburgh, Pa., under the direction of R. A. Wood, and in addition to the distribution carried on from that point 16 sub-distributing centers have been established, with a view to making it easy to secure the films promptly in any part of the country. All costs, such as express charges, postage, and the like, in connection with the shipment of films must be paid by the borrower. This is in line with the system followed by the department of Agriculture which also loans its films to any responsible applicant.

In view of the furore recently created by the warning issued by the Oil Conservation board to the effect that the United States has a visible oil supply sufficient to last but six years, perhaps the most interesting films by the bureau of Mines are those depicting the production, refining, and distribution of petroleum. "The World Struggle for Oil," a seven-reel feature, is one of them, visualizing the story of petroleum in all parts of the world, from the earliest use of the material, as pitch, smeared on Noah's ark, down to its modern treatment that permits no by-product to escape.

From the Well to the Motor.

A four-reeler entitled the "Story of Petroleum" begins with the location of a new well by the geologist and ends with the distribution of gasoline by service station. "Mexico and Its Oil," "The Story of a Mexican Oil Gusher," and "Through Oil Lands of Europe and Africa," are other films telling graphically the story of the development by American capital and enterprise of the oil fields of other countries.

Two films, "When Wages Stop, or Safety First in the Petroleum Industry" and "Live and Let Live," are a part of the bureau's contribution to an intensive campaign for the promotion of safety in the oil industry. They show the safe and the unsafe ways of producing oil. "The Story of a Rotary-drilled Oil Well" was made in the Goose Creek field in Texas. "The Story of Natural Gas," in four reels, made in co-operation with the Natural Gas association of America, begins with the location of a new gas well by the surveyors, and proceeds to the distribution of this natural fuel to the cities.

"The Story of Coal," however, has proved to be the most popular film in the bureau's library. It was made in co-operation with the National Coal Operators' association. "When a Man's a Miner," a graphic coal mine safety film, was donated to the bureau by Capt. Stuyvesant Peabody, in memory of his father, the late Francis S. Peabody, prominent coal operator and one-time official of the bureau.

Soda fountains may be installed soon at depots of the Chilean State railways.

County Teams Launch Drives for Annual Scholastic Title

Kidder's Crew to Mix With East Palestine; May Try Pass Attack

After Defeat by Columbiana, Leetonia Drills Strenuously for Clash at Wellsville; Chester Gridders go Into Action at Weirton.

PLUNGING into their annual intra-county contests in quest of victories and the 1926 county scholastic grid championship, four of the circuit's half-dozen leading contenders for the honors will be in action along the Ohio valley Saturday, games being scheduled here and at Wellsville.

Coach George Kidder's Blue and White's combine will take on East Palestine, the game marking the Brown and White's first road trip of the campaign, and Wellsville will entertain the Leetonia eleven which last Saturday bowed to a strong Columbiana squad, 6-0.

Ray Wilde's Chester eleven, which lost by a slim margin at Follansbee last Saturday, again will perform before hostile crowds being booked for grid duty at Weirton and the outcome of the clash will determine to a great extent Chester's hopes for the Hancock county championship.

East Palestine is figuring the game here Saturday as one of the two "classics" of the Brown and White card this season and is preparing accordingly.

Although proud of their 19-0 conquest over Salineville last Saturday the East Palestine pigskin contingent is keen enough to realize that it will face a different brand of opposition this week and is not counting any top strongly on a victory. The north countians have not yet played an opponent of sufficient strength to determine for a certainty the team's real power.

Not likely to face the hammer and tongs variety of attack handed out by the heavy East Akron outfit in the most recent game of the season here, Coach Kidder may elect to fling a few passes Saturday or try out several new plays that the squad has been working on this week.

Their passes worked more than ordinarily successfully in the recent scrimmage at Columbian park, with Jack Bromby on the heaving end and Lincoln taking them in.

Coach Klinck's Wellsville team developed a powerful attack last Saturday against Dover, with Calhoun as the main spring of the onslaught, and only an inopportune fumble on the part of the Wellsville safety man on a Dover punt, which gave the visitors their chance to score, prevented a Wellsville victory.

Leetonia came out of the Columbiana game in good physical condition although mentally, conditions were not any too pleasing as a result of Columbiana's surprising victory. In consequence of the setback the Leetonia squad is drilling hard and heavy this week in atonement for its gridiron sins.

The Chester eleven yesterday was presented with a medicine kit for emergency use in its future games. The kit was the gift of F. S. Huff, druggist, and G. L. Douglass, cashier of the First bank.

"TOUGH LUCK" ELEVENS CLASH

Mount and Case Renew "Friendly Grid Grudge."

ALLIANCE, O., Oct. 14.—The two "hard luck" teams of northern Ohio will clash here Saturday when Mount Union college and Case play off their annual "friendly grid grudge."

Last Saturday, Mount Union lost to Oberlin, 7-2, on a blocked kick in the final stages of a hectic struggle on Mount field. While this was in progress Case dropped a similar "hard luck" bout to Wooster, 7-0, on a fumbled ball just as the curtain was about to drop upon a scoreless tie.

In two years Mount has suffered but one touchdown from scrimmage—this on a 30-yard run in the Miami game. Mistakes made in the Oberlin game are being corrected this week. Mount's half-and-half team—half veterans and half green men, is expected to hit its stride in the Case game.

Already indications point to a record crowd here Saturday. Past years have proven that Case is more of a drawing card here than in Cleveland and for that reason the Scientists' sked makers have booked Mount at Alliance on several successive years.

Saints Show Power.

CINCINNATI — Joe Meyer, head football coach of St. Xavier, was so pleased with the showing of his men against the Marines Saturday that he cut the workout short yesterday. Tomorrow preparations for the game with the University of Louisville will be started in earnest.

Hiram Has Light Drill.

LOUGHRAN SET FOR BURKE GO

Winds Up Training in Chicago for Monday Bout.

CHICAGO, Oct. 14.—Tommy Loughran, Philadelphia heavyweight, and one of the host of potential challengers for the crown of Gene Tunney, is due in Chicago today to complete training for his ten-round bout here Monday with Martin Burke, of New Orleans.

Loughran will do his boxing and bag punching at a local gymnasium, and his road work in Lincoln Park. By virtue of his showing against Jack Dempsey while acting as the latter's sparring partner, the Philadelphia fighter is rated as one of the foremost candidates for the heavyweight title.

Burke has been here since Tuesday and is reported in first class shape for Monday's setto. Although Marty is a big fellow with a powerful punch, Loughran is favored to whip him.

Women are Victors In Feature Track Event in England

NEW MARKET, England, Oct. 14.—Miss Iris Rickaby, England's foremost woman jockey, today won the Newmarket Town Plate, riding Stephania.

The Newmarket Town Plate is an ancient race, run once a year and during past years women have been keen contenders. Miss Rickaby has been well up in front in this race for the past three years.

Miss Ellen Joel, who comes from a famous racing family, finished second today, and the male jockeys managed to barely nose into the money, when Dixon, a male rider, finished third.

INSIDE GOLF

By CHESTER HORTON, Maker of 51 Golf Champions. "Golf's most successful teacher," says "Chick" Evans.

It should be obvious to the average golfer that in order to bring about a pressure from the entire right side against the shaft in the forward swing, he should keep his back swing rather short. By short I mean that the arms should go only about shoulder high, and there stop. Don't force them up. Instead, let the shoulder turn to the right slightly. An inch of turn to the right with the shoulders, at this particular point in the swing, is worth ten feet of stretching the arms upward and backward. Power does not spring from the arms. It comes from a co-ordination of body, shoulders and arms, and, lastly, wrists and of all these the most power comes from the body and the shoulders and the least from the arms. When the shaft is just below a straight up position in the back swing it is at the top. Stop it there, then go forward with the entire right side of the body pushing against it.

BURNS GIVEN PLAYER AWARD

Cleveland First Baseman Gets 63 Out of 64 Points.

CHICAGO, Oct. 14.—George H. Burns, Cleveland first baseman, has been voted the most valuable player in the American league for the season of 1926.

Burns, with 13 years of major league service, was the choice of eight well known sport writers engaged by American league officials to make the selection.

The balloting was practically unanimous in favor of the Cleveland first baseman. He obtained 63 points out of a possible 64.

This choice places the name of Burns on the American league honor roll along with the names of Ruth, Cobb, Speaker, Collins, Peckinpaugh, Sisler and Johnson.

John Mostil, of the Chicago White Sox, was the second choice of the award committee. He received only half as many votes as Burns. One vote behind Mostil came Herb Pennock, of the New York Yankees. Then came Sam Rice, of Washington, and Harry Heilmann, of Detroit, with 18 and 16 points respectively.

The names of 26 players were considered by the award committee.

ALCROFT WINS OPEN TITLE

Deposes Nabholtz as King of Buckeye Pros.

AKRON, O., Oct. 14. — Albert Alcroft, professional of the Youngstown Country club, today is open golf champion of Ohio, having deposed Larry Nabholtz, of Cleveland, here yesterday by finishing the final 18 holes of the tournament with a magnificent 70.

Alcroft finished with 296, one stroke ahead of Ray Derr, of Cincinnati. Tom Rackletts, of Girard, was third with 301 strokes.

Columbia on Defense For Buckeye Attack; Marty Karow Feared

Coach Crowley Hopes to Perfect Defense That Will Stop Disastrous Plunges of Ohio Back; Only Three Regulars Will Start Game Saturday for Eastern Combine.

By Davis J. Walsh.

NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—It seems to be generally understood that one doesn't drive in that run from first base with a spectacular base on balls nor score a knockout by making the other gent miss. Therefore the writer is disposed to believe that Columbia university will not be greatly irritated on Saturday if it doesn't finish worse than second to Ohio State, the first Big Ten team ever to show in New York.

The official attitude at Columbia today was strictly a defensive one and the only thing they regretted was that they couldn't say the same for their football team. The latter, it seemed, wasn't strictly anything in particular.

"We are concentrating on stopping Karow," was Charley Crowley's summation. "He tore our line apart last year, forced us to play seven men up and left us without an adequate defense against the passing game. We are hoping to perfect a defense that will allow us to play six men on the line and let the center rove."

What Crowley might have said was that he was trying to accomplish two ends and that neither of them were easy. He hopes to stop a good line plunger with a set of inexperienced forwards and at the same time use a running attack of his own inside and outside of tackle. He happens to have two fair plunging backs in Madden and Sesit but they will need to be better than that to click with any degree of regularity behind a green line.

As far as the Columbia-Ohio State affair is concerned, I think the boys on the heights are prepared to throw that one out and start all over again. Columbia is not the team it was last year and the Buckeye is better; in fact, it is said to have assembled its best array since the championship output of 1920. Incidentally, that superior Columbia team of 1925 lost to that unrepresentative Ohio State eleven by 9 to 0. You can figure that one up without using the fingers.

Only three 1925 regulars will start the game for Columbia—Madden and Sesit in the backfield and Brady at end. The others were substitutes or worse last year. Pease, quarterback, is gone. So are Wagner, a fine end; Kirchmeyer, a back; and Schimetitsch, Wiberg, Aulick and Raphael. Some of these worthies may not have been so hot but at least they had big game experience.

The only forwards in the present squad who can say the same are Reynolds and Alkoff and they serve to give the right side of the line a rather superior aspect, with Brady playing right end. The others, French, center; Shaw, left guard; Kerrigan, left tackle and Furey, left end, never have faced an outfit of Ohio State's speed and general class.

I can imagine that the boys' education will be somewhat amplified when Otto Hess begins to roam around through the line; Karow comes plunging in and Marek and Eby are turned loose on the ends.

Crowley, a product of rather contradictory systems at Harvard and Notre Dame, seems to be a confirmed conservative and I don't know what I blame him, in this case. One doesn't feel the urge to break a neighbor's windows with only a sponge available.

The injury to Empringham has necessitated a backfield shift and, with Norris at fullback, it is likely that Columbia will employ the old Harvard idea of kicking early and often and waiting for the break, if any. Rieger, a fast man, will be used as quarterback but with the huddle system in operation, it is possible that Captain Madden will share the burden of generalship or whatever it is the boys kid themselves about.

It is possible the writer has given the impression that he doesn't think Columbia is much of a football team. It isn't.

BUCKEYE ELEVEN OFF FOR NEW YORK

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 14.—Ohio State's squad, 34 strong, leaves at 6:30 tonight and will arrive in New York at 9 tomorrow morning for Saturday's game with Columbia. The team will go through a short practice session, devoted largely to signal drill, this afternoon.

Elmer Marek, star halfback, still is nursing an injured shoulder and may not see service against Columbia.

Expect To Down Kent.

TIFFIN—Heidelberg gridders went through a snappy practice yesterday. The squad is in excellent condition after the Otterbein victory and is confident of putting the Kent Normal game this week-end on the victory ledger.

GLIMPSES FROM THE SIDELINES

Penn Star Laid Up.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 14.—Al Wascolonis, Penn's star fullback, is laid up with a leg injury and may not start against Chicago Saturday. The Chicago eleven will work out here tomorrow.

New York To Rest.

NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—No scrimmage will be ordered for the New York University eleven today. Captain Briante and other regulars are recovering from injuries and the coaches want them to be in the best possible shape for the Tulane game.

Noble Back In Game.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Oct. 14.—Larry Noble, Yale's veteran back, will replace Bruce Caldwell, who sprained his ankle yesterday, in the Dartmouth game. Dummy scrimmage will be held today.

Dooley On Sidelines.

HANOVER, N. J., Oct. 14.—Eddie Dooley, newlywed and Dartmouth's all-American quarterback, may be replaced in the Yale game Saturday by Bob Harris, a sophomore. Dooley has been kept on the sidelines for two consecutive days.

Navy Chances Hurt.

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Oct. 14.—Navy's chances of victory against Princeton have received a severe setback because of the loss of Alan Shapley, triple threat backfield star, from injuries. Jake Cross, left guard, and Hardwick, right end, are also out.

Tigers Not Over Confident.

PRINCETON, N. J., Oct. 14.—Princeton is not over-confident of defeating the Navy on Saturday following the varsity's poor showing yesterday. The regulars made only one touchdown against the scrubs.

Clinches Center Job.

NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—George French has clinched the Columbia center post for the Ohio State contest. The coaches today will concentrate on perfecting a defense against the Buckeye passing game.

Harvard Defense Poor.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Oct. 14.—Harvard probably will present a poor defense against William and Mary on Saturday. The scrubs scored on the varsity yesterday.

Orange In Great Shape.

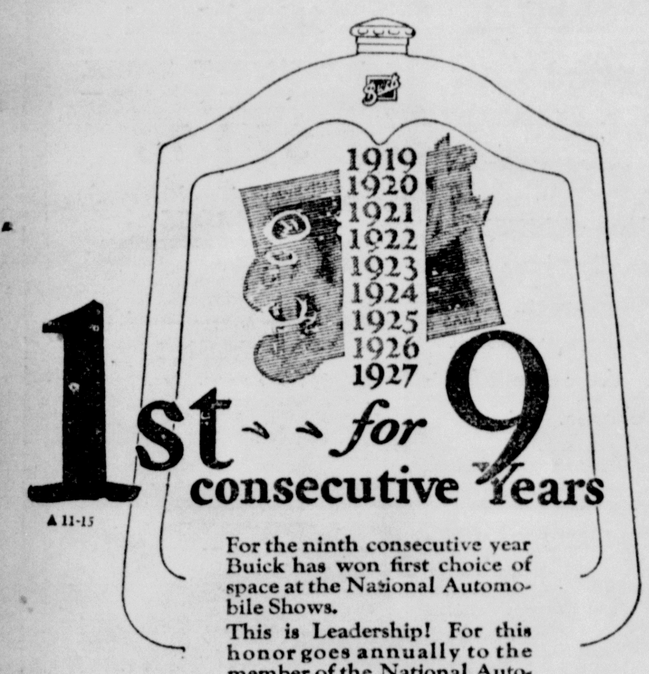

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Oct. 14.—The Orange team is in splendid condition for the Army game. Playing against the freshmen, the varsity made four touchdowns in twenty minutes.

Prepare Pass Defense.

WEST POINT, N. Y., Oct. 14.—Defense against the forward pass features Army's preparations for the Syracuse game. The coaches are pleased with the team's progress.

Huddle System At Corneli.

ITHACA, N. Y., Oct. 14.—Corneli may use the huddle system against Michigan on Saturday and in future games. The team has mastered the shift in this week's practice.

the Army and the corresponding group of the Navy hold their sessions.

The Film Story of Mining.

The department of Commerce, through the bureau of Mines which it recently took over from the department of the Interior, possesses the largest collection ever compiled of educational motion picture films depicting the mining, treatment, distribution, and utilization of the numerous essential minerals that comprise so large a part of the wealth of the United States in natural resources.

At present, is is stated, the bureau's motion picture library includes more than fifty subjects visualizing the operations of the mineral and allied industries of the nation. More than 2,000,000 feet of film go to make up this library. This is the equivalent of 2,000 ordinary reels, and at the rate press agents of the motion picture industry estimate costs they would represent an investment of many millions. They cost, however, only $1,000,000, and the entire expense of making them was borne by private industrial enterprises that have cooperated with the bureau of Mines in its educational campaign.

These films are loaned free of charge to all organizations desiring to use them, with the understanding that they will be handled with the greatest possible care, and that all damage and loss other than nominal wear and tear will be made good by the borrower. Distribution is centered at the United States bureau of Mines Experiment Station, Pittsburgh, Pa., under the direction of R. A. Wood, and in addition to the distribution carried on from that point 16 sub-distributing centers have been established, with a view to making it easy to secure the films promptly in any part of the country. All costs, such as express charges, postage, and the like, in connection with the shipment of films must be paid by the borrower. This is in line with the system followed by the department of Agriculture which also loans its films to any responsible applicant.

In view of the furore recently created by the warning issued by the Oil Conservation board to the effect that the United States has a visible oil supply sufficient to last but six years, perhaps the most interesting films by the bureau of Mines are those depicting the production, refining, and distribution of petroleum. "The World Struggle for Oil," a seven-reel feature, is one of them, visualizing the story of petroleum in all parts of the world, from the earliest use of the material, as pitch, smeared on Noah's ark, down to its modern treatment that permits no by-product to escape.

From the Well to the Motor.

A four-reeler entitled the "Story of Petroleum" begins with the location of a new well by the geologist and ends with the distribution of gasoline by service station. "Mexico and Its Oil," "The Story of a Mexican Oil Gusher," and "Through Oil Lands of Europe and Africa," are other films telling graphically the story of the development by American capital and enterprise of the oil fields of other countries.

Two films, "When Wages Stop, or Safety First in the Petroleum Industry" and "Live and Let Live," are a part of the bureau's contribution to an intensive campaign for the promotion of safety in the oil industry. They show the safe and the unsafe ways of producing oil. "The Story of a Rotary-drilled Oil Well" was made in the Goose Creek field in Texas. "The Story of Natural Gas," in four reels, made in co-operation with the Natural Gas association of America, begins with the location of a new gas well by the surveyors, and proceeds to the distribution of this natural fuel to the cities.

"The Story of Coal," however, has proved to be the most popular film in the bureau's library. It was made in co-operation with the National Coal Operators' association. "When a Man's a Miner," a graphic coal mine safety film, was donated to the bureau by Capt. Stuyvesant Peabody, in memory of his father, the late Francis S. Peabody, prominent coal operator and one-time official of the bureau.

Soda fountains may be installed soon at depots of the Chilean State railways.

STRAND OFFERS FARCE COMEDY

Red Mack Players Stage "Rooms For Rent."

"Rooms For Rent," the Mack Players' latest offering, opened a three-day run at the Strand theatre today. It's an amusing farce comedy of the higher calibre, and is brim full of tuneful melodies.

Much care has been given the production by Red Mack, and he has shown rare judgment in selecting the musical numbers. The costumes are bright and of a dainty texture. The large ensemble numbers are of a production style.

Miss Mae Mack appears in many changes of handsome wardrobe. Her pleasing voice is heard in solos and double numbers with Stanley Gordon.

Frank Hawkins is appearing in blackface for the first time here, and is highly entertaining in his witty sayings and for good measure contributes a solo.

Many new labor unions are being formed in Honduras.
